JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

CUFFEE LEAVING VIRGINIA.

The exodus of negroes from Virginia amounts almost to a depopulation. The Richmond Dispatch approves of it, taking a very philosophical view of the matter. It thinks the blacks are following an inexorable destiny in trotting Southward, and it bids him good-bye with much polite compliment.

The Dispatch thus comforts itself:

The effect of the departure of the colored race from Virginia cannot but be beneficial in increasing the power and consideration of the State. It will be succeeded—and probably at least as rapidly as it departs—by white immigration, and that will give to the State a superior kind of industry and mechanical skill. The labor that will take the place of that of the blacks will be far more intelligent, and the laborers will be more thrifty, and by their rapid accumulations—the acquisition of lands and the consequent improvement of them—greatly increase the common wealth. The contrast between the thrift and general improvement of the country under the sagacious and provident industry of the white man, and the very best condition that may be secured under that of the black man, must be very great, and the general advantages to the State of the former over the latter, can hardly be exaggerated. The exchange of the labor we have for that we look for, cannot be too much hastened.

Now the prospect is that Virginia will, in a term of years, be all white; that she will be in the highest condition of social energy and political power; that her labor and mechanical skill will be of the most capable and intelligent kind; that her incomparable advantages of climate, soil, motive power, and mineral riches, will be brought to the highest state of usefulness, and that she will become, perhaps, the most flourishing State in the Union.

HON. A. H. STEPHENS.—We have seen (says the Macon Telegraph) a letter from this gentleman, dated Crawfordsville, 17th instant, in which the writer says:

"I am now a little better than I have been—I am able to sit up, read and write a little; but I cannot walk or even stand without assistance.

"Please accept my thanks for the interest you manifest in my well being, both physical and spiritual. Be assured I am perfectly resigned to the will of God in all my afflictions. I endeavor, with the patience of Job, to bear whatever awaits me under His dispensation; and with a full faith in His mercy, through the atoning mediation of the Redeemer; and also further, with a firm belief that 'all things work together for the good of those who love God' and put their trust in Him.

"A leading object with me for years, indeed from early youth, has been so to live—so to conduct myself in all things—so to discharge, by the assistance of Divine grace, all the duties of this probationary term—as to be ready to leave this sphere of existence for another, a brighter, and a better one, whenever the summons for my departure may come. This world, however much I may have been engaged in its active scenes during my day, has never had any real attractions for me. I have, it is true, taken a deep interest in them, but at all time more from a sense of duty than from any other consideration.

"I now feel a deep interest in what is going on in our State, and in reply to your inquiry on this subject, all I can say is, that if I utter no word to the public, and take no part, even feeble as I am, it is only because I do not see that anything I could say or do could possibly effect any good.—God, in his infinite mercy, only knows what is to become of this country and its institutions.

"I can say no more now except to repeat my thanks for your letter, and return to you my best wishes now and forever.

"Yours truly,

"ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS."

CUBAN SUGAR.—Returns show that, spite of the insurrection, the amount of sugar in stock at Havana, December 31, 1869, was, quite as large as at the end of the year, 1868. Here are the figures for receipts and clearances of sugar in Havana: In 1868—1,430,000 boxes; in 1869—1,348,000 boxes; stock on hand at the end of December, 1869, 54,908 boxes, against 23,000 in 1868, and 17,000 in 1867. The decrease in shipment of boxes from Havana and Matanzas in 1869 is compensated by a larger export than usual of hogsheads. These figures are given to show that the insurrection is not so formidable as it has been represented to be. It is confidentially asserted in Havana that there will be no falling off in the sugar productions for the present year.

SO INNOCENT.—The uncharitable disposition of women towards each other, has often been commented upon, and their penchant for "cutting up" a rival is well illustrated in the following little confab, a day or two ago:

"My dear," said a polite brunette, with magnificent hair, to a lordly blonde, before a party of gentlemen, "how strange it is that though we both had red hair, mine should have grown dark and yours so very light."

Possibly the red in the hair had been transferred to the cheeks, they flushed so very bright; but the polite brunette went on:

"I am positively obliged to keep my hair and wear it, you know, because they won't give me anything for it, light hair is such a rage."

If finger nails could have expressed themselves at that moment, there would not have been enough hair left on the brunette's head to trouble her, we are certain.

Mr. Joseph Archibald, of this county, realized, last year, as the fruits of his own labor and that of two little sons, on his farm on the south side of Pamlico river, 9 bales of cotton, 110 barrels of corn, a large quantity of potatoes, peas, &c., besides pork enough to serve him this year.—Who can beat that?—Washington (N. C.) Intelligencer.

SMALL POX.—This loathsome and dangerous disease is having good headway among us, and is spreading slowly but surely over our town. It is now as near as reached West Centre street, opposite the old steam mill. We do not learn of any steps having been taken by our town authorities towards selecting some place for a hospital—as they should do—but they let it take its way, and ... is confined to the colored population.—Goldsboro Messenger.

KEROSENE LIGHTS PERFECTED!

DANFORD'S

Atmospheric

KEROSENE LAMP.

THE ONLY PERFECTLY SAFE LAMP IN USE.

Artificial Light, of some sort, is a universal necessity; a safe, cheap, and brilliant one is a luxury; a luxury, too, only enjoyed heretofore by those living in large towns or cities where Gas is used. Hundreds of thousands of dollars annually have been spent by experiments of different kinds, in trying to invent and perfect a Burner or Lamp by which Coal Oil or Kerosene could be burned, ... without the expense and trouble of chimneys; this lamp looked for and much desired subject has at last been obtained, and is styled the

ATMOSPHERIC KEROSENE LAMP!

Its adaptation to Dwellings, Churches, Railroads, Steamboats, Hotels, Stores, &c., is unsurpassed; in short, this invention brings the luxurious and brilliant Gas light within the reach of all, whether in the City or Country. It gives the light of a six-foot Gas Burner. ... one cent per hour, or double the quantity of light of the ordinary chimney-lamp with one third less oil; will burn, when turned down to a taper light ten hours for one cent; is free from smoke or smell; can be carried from room to room; the wind will not blow it out.

This Lamp is destined to supersede all portable artificial light or chimney lamps now in use, and needs only to be seen to be appreciated; thousands of them will find ready sale in every county. no family that used this light for one evening will again be annoyed with the chimney-lamps. Thousands of them will be ... this light is one-half cheaper than Coal Gas and much more pleasant to the eye.

The sole right for the sale of this Lamp can be had for the entire State or the same will be sold by Counties.

Parties purchasing will be supplied, at wholesale, with the lamp and fixtures at reasonable rates.

Immediate application should be made to secure the choice of Counties.

The Lamp can be seen in full operation during the day and evening at the Yarborough House.

All letters will receive prompt attention and full explanation of the Lamp given.
