G. A. C. REPRESENTED IN ATHLETIC MEET

Miss Eagles and Miss Gunter Represent College In District Meet.

ENTER DISCUSSIONS

Misses Kathleen Eagles and Helen Gunter represented the A. C. College Girls' Athletic Association at the Athletic Federation of College Women Conference held in Greensboro, on March 21, 22, and 23. The event was sponsored by the Woman's College, University of North Carolina, with the aid of the most prominent women athletic directors and presidents of the leading Athletic Associations of the state.

After an uneventful trip on the bus, Misses Eagles and Gunter arrived in Greensboro on Thursday afternoon and were taken to the college. They stayed there until Saturday and engaged in a rather extensive program of lectures and teas, which ended with a banquet held on Saturday night at the O'Henry Hotel. They returned to Wilson on Saturday and were reported to have had a very enjoyable and educational trip.

The purpose of the conference was to promote better relations between the different Women's Athletic Associations and to acquaint their leaders with some of the most important A. A. problems and the methods of solving them. Therefore, the program was so arranged as to include means of fulfilling both objectives. About half the program was made up of recreational events, during which the different members had a chance to become acquainted with each other. The other half was devoted to lectures by the leaders in the field of women's athletics and dealt with the major problems encountered in the organization of an A. A. program and with the value of an A. A. to a school.

Thursday's program began with an opening meeting at 2:30 P. M. Doris Poole, A. A. President of Women's College presided. This meeting was to welcome the different representatives to the conference and lasted for only fifteen minutes. After this, Miss Geneva Drinkwater, Dean of Women, Women's College, U. N. C., presented a lecture on "What The College Student Expects of Its Athletic Association." Miss Drinkwater especially favors exercises for recreation and is in favor of social dancing to develop poise and grace.

Miss Marion Bozenhard of Alabama College delivered a speech at 3:00 P. M., on "What The College Student Expects of The A. A. Program." Miss Bozenhard says that the college student expects the A. A. program to be of interest to every student and to provide healthful recreation. The student also expects the A. A. program to be enjoyable and educational. Miss Lucille Hutaff gave a lecture at 3:30 on "Basketball Problems." In her talk Miss Hutaff sketched the development of women's basketball from the begin-

MISS CHARLES GIVES GRADUATING RECITAL BEFORE STUDENTS

Selections Given From Beethoven And Chopin.

LARGE AUDIENCE

Mr. Edward Stallings Gives Violin Selections.

Miss Gladys Charles, of Grifton, N. C., was presented in her graduating recital in piano in the College auditorium. Miss Charles delighted a large audience with her very intelligent performance and artistic interpretation. Her sure technique, her flexibility and firmness of touch were more than promising.

An extremely mature handling of the Beethoven "Sonata Pathetique" won an enthusiastic reception. Miss Charles' work showed the result of careful training and many hours of practice. Two chopin numbers were interesting in their contrasting styles.

The final group was executed with the same mastery of delicacy and firmness, ending in the brilliant "Rachmaninoff "Prelude." Miss Charles gave a popular little encore, "Sprites of the Glen".

Mr. Edward Stallings ably assisted on the program with two numbers, a rollicking "Spanish Tanz" of Rehfeld and the dreamy "Poem" of Fibich. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stallings.

Miss Charles has been for over three years the pupil of Mrs. Hannelle Hinton, formerly professor of piano at the college. Mrs. Hinton became Mrs. William L. A. C. COLLEGE BAND ATTENDS FESTIVAL

Sponsored By Eastern N. C. Orchestra and Band Association.

GIVES TWO SELECTIONS

The Atlantic Christian College Band, directed by Millard Burt, played in the largest array of bands North Carolina has ever seen at a single sitting. Approximately 5,000 people were in the Memorial Auditorium at Raleigh to hear the bands play in the second annual music festival, sponsored by the Eastern North Carolina Association of Band and Orchestra Leaders.

Fourteen bands and orchestras participated in the festival this year as compared to eleven last year.

Wilkes S. Robbitt, of Raleigh, was elected to succeed Samuel A. Braxton, also of Raleigh, to the position of president of the Association. Charles L. McCullers of Rocky Mount was elected vice-president and Mr. Braxton as Secretary-Treasurer.

Mayor George Isley welcomed the throng to the auditorium concert and the program got under way with each band playing two numbers.

Due to complications the A. C. College Band was unable to march up Fayetteville Street. At Nash Square the combined instruments played three numbers under the direction of Harry J. Charlton, of Elkhorn, Wis., who played with Sousa's band for a number of years and is now devoting his time to the organization of high school bands. He has formed 2,200 such groups. The musicians played two marches at Nash Square before a large crowd and finished with "The Star Spangled Banned."

Both Mr. Braxton and Mr. Charlton were enthusiastic in their praise of the A. C. C. band. The band was only organized this year, and has improved remarkably. The appearance at Raleigh was among the first public appearances of the A. C. C. band. Since then, however, the band has rendered a program over Station W. E. E. D. at Rocky Mount.

Groups taking part in the Band and Orchestra festival and their leader were: 120th Infantry Band, Raleigh, S. A. Braxton and J. F. Allen; Apex High School Band, Braxton; State Blind School Orchestra, C. G. Cox; Goldsboro High School Band, Miss Mary Brockwell; State College Band, C. D. Kutchinski; Twin County High School Band of Nash and Edgecombe Counties, Chas. L. McCullers; Modern Woodman and Wednell High School Bands, H. T. McDuffie; Wakelon High School Orchestra, Braxton and Wilkes S. Robbitt; Williamston High School Band, Robbitt; Raleigh High School Band, Braxton, and Atlantic Christian College Band, Millard P. Miss Mary Ida Winder Lectures To Students

Miss Mary Ida Winder spoke to the social science and history classes of Atlantic Christian College, on the various international problems and issues facing the world today.

Miss Winder is secretary for the National Council for Prevention of War, and is at the present touring this section speaking to student and civilian groups.

The topics she has chosen are, "The Situation In The Far East," "The League of Nations, and the World Court," and "The Problem of Europe." A brief sketch was given of the development of the World Court and the League of Nations. Miss Winder explained the functions of the various departments of each group and corrected the false information that is in general circulation about the two bodies.

Attacking Father Coughlin, Huey Long, and a few more of the Anti-World Courters, she explained the apparent reasons for the failure of the United States to range itself either with the League of Nations or the World Court. The action of the League of Nations on the assassination of King Alexander and in the dispute between Greece and Bulgaria was discussed. The failure of the League in the Far East was admitted and excused in the light of the previous and ensuing accomplishments.
