THE CAMPUS HERALD

Published by the students and staff of
Henderson Institute Henderson, North Carolina

VOL.1 October 1941 NO.1

Editor in Chief Jesse Crews
Managing Editor Charlie Jiggetts
News Editors Wilbert Knight, Lucille Goode
Business Manager Harry Faulkner, David Wills
Sports Editors Isaac Rowland, Henry Moore
Humor Editor Robert Scott
Poetry Editor Dorothy Johnson
Story Editor Geraldine Morgan
Typists Jean Hardy, Jerome Taylor

REPORTORIAL STAFF

Louise Gibson, Louis Green, Lillian Harris, Robert Jones, Doris Poole, Gwendolyn Pratt, Iris Taylor

Mrs. M. J. Bryant, Chief Advisor

EDITORIAL

At the present time newspapers play an important part in our thinking. They have the power to shape public opinions for good or evil.

Realizing this fact, it seems that even small organized groups should have some means of voicing opinions. Because of this belief, certain persons at Henderson Institute have seen fit to give the students a wholesome method of expressing themselves through the organization of "THE CAMPUS HERALD". This is the students paper and has grown out of a great need; it is for, by and of the student body.

We, as staff members of this newspaper shall endeavor to bring to the students and other readers the latest news of interest in our environment, the major headlines of which will include elections, literary readings, sports, humor, and social behavior, all of which are a part of our education here.

As we go about our respective duties we sincerely hope that the student body will give the paper its best support in order that the paper may be a success.

I trust that you will feel free to state to us your criticism and opinions concerning this paper in order that it may advance with your approval. But in order to rightfully criticize and give a basic opinion of the paper you must be well informed of its contents and you can do this only by purchasing and reading a copy of each edition.

I wish to thank my fellow-staff-members for their hearty cooperation in making this our first edition possible. All staff members join me in thanking the members of the faculty, the student body, and our patrons for their support in our first edition of "THE CAMPUS HERALD". . . Jesse Crews

ADMINISTRATION NOTES

Henderson Institute, the one high school for Negro students of Vance county, has begun its fifty-first year with an enrollment of four hundred and sixty— the highest in the history of the institution.

Students come from all sections of Vance County, arriving on seven busses daily. Within the boarding department we have the following states represented: Ohio, Virginia, North Carolina, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

The school is under the principalship of Mr. C. T. Robinson, A. M. who is a native of Camden, Alabama. He attended grammar school at Thyne Institute, Chase City, Virginia. He graduated from Knoxville College and Hampton Institute, where he majored in mathematics and science. Mr. Robinson has been with the school sixteen years. From our interview with the principal we obtained this statement:

"We have an increased enrollment of fifty-one over last year and we are happy to note this increase;- however last year, due to poor attendance of students, we lost a teacher. Therefore we ask that students attend regularly in order to avoid losing teachers."

Mrs. C. T. Robinson, a native of Norfolk, Virginia is an instructor of General Science here. She graduated from Knoxville College where she majored in Science. She has been with us sixteen years. For a number of years she was coach of girls basketball.

Rev. J. R. Dungee, a native of Roanoke, Virginia, graduated from Johnson C. Smith University, where he majored in English. He has been with us six years. Now he is Dean of Boys, Bible instructor and the active minister of the Presbyterian Church here.

Three new teachers have replaced some of the former instructors. They are:

(Continued on next page.)