DOVER DOINGS

We had a nice time at First Baptist Church, Dover, Monday night. The Rev. W. E. Beamon of Kinston was with us. He preached a wonderful sermon taking his text from II Timothy, first chapter, seventh verse. He chose as his subject, "The Threefold Identity of the Christian Religion."

The Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Beamon spent Monday night, March 7, as the guests of their sister, Mrs. R. J. Johnson.

Jarvis Buck and daughters, Miss Hettie and Ruby Buck, Mrs. Clyde White, Mrs. R. J. Johnson and Mrs. Lizzie Canady motored over to Kinston, Thursday night to be at the bedside of S. L. Oates who was seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Sir Walter Oates and sister, Mrs. Able Croom, of Hackensack, N. J., are at home to attend the funeral of their father, S. L. Oates who died Friday morning at Parrot Memorial Hospital. Kinston, will be buried Tuesday at Fort Barnwell, with the Reverend C. C. Bryant and the Rev. W. E. Beamon officiating.

Leroy Rouse was over to King Chapel Sunday night.

Friday Evening Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Buck had Mrs. Georgia Rouse as a dinner guest.

Deacon Buck has invited everybody to be with us on March 20 which will be regular preaching day. The Pastor is the Rev. D. C. Artis from Wilson.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Dr. Matthew J. Whithead of Howard University was guest speaker at the annual memorial services of the Nu Alpha Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity which were held Sunday at the J. H. Sampson High School auditorium. An interesting program was presented.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Louise Stancil Memorial

In loving rememberance of our faithful and devoted mother who passed March 18, 1946. May God sustain us in the Christian Faith exemplified by you.

Children; Mrs. P. S. O'Kelly; Mrs. Ruth Evans and Paul Stancil.

POULTRY PAYS DIVIDENDS — The Mills Family of Neuse Township have well learned the value of careful and up to date practices in the raising and care of poultry, for their flock of blood tested and well culled barred Plymouth Rocks return the family a weekly income of $39.75 from certified eggs alone which are sold to hatcheries. This is in addition to the culled eggs which are sold to Kinston residents and eaten by the family.

According to W. N. Payton, Negro farm agent, shown at right, the Mills family is the first colored family in Lenoir County to have a registered flock. Shown with Mr. Payton is Mr. Joseph Mills and Mrs. Mills. The couple's 2 sons who also aid in operation of the farm are not shown.

POLICEMAN ARRESTS EARLY CHURCHGOER

PHILADELPHIA (ANP) — A policeman here thought it was much too early for 51-year-old Crawford Cummings to be attending church at 2 a. m. Sunday. The policeman saw the man dart out of the church through the backdoor after having entered a few minutes before. The officer gave chase.

Cummings was apprehended and asked what he was doing in the church. The man replied that he had lost his room and was going into the church to sleep. He was held in $300 bail to keep the peace.

4-H CLUB CHAMPS ARE ANNOUNCED

Marie A. Gay of Pitt County led the states 4-H Club members during 1948 by becoming state champion in clothing, food conservation, health and safety and home management, and by earning $820 through her projects it was announced this week by W. H. Cooper, State College Extension Service 4-H Club specialist.

Mr. Cooper's announcement followed the evaluation of the projects of 39,290 boys and girls throughout the state who carried on projects with a total valuation of $2,250,837.

The 19 winners in the competition represented 10 counties and conducted projects valued at $4,575.

Rudolph Artis of Wayne County submitted the best report among the boys. He was state champion in broiler and turkey production and received a gross income of $612.80 from his projects.

Listed among the project champions were Vera Ball Jones, food conservation junior girls champion; Jones County, and Willie West, sweet potato champion, Lenoir County.

WORKSTOCK CLINIC — Farmers of Lenoir County are shown at the farm of Mrs. Carrie Sutton in Neuse Township where they brought their mules for a checkup at a workstock clinic sponsored by the State Farm Extension Service.

Dr. Branch Moore, Kinston veterinarian, is shown examining a mule at the left. W. N. Payton, extension service county agent is shown in the center.

FAIRMONT BRIEFS

BY DOROTHY FLOYD

The Service held on Sunday March 13, at the First Baptist Church marked the climax of a week of revival. This service was carried out very successfully by the Junior Church, Choir, Ushers, Deacons, etc. There were several candidates present, who received Baptism.

The First Baptist Sunday School reports a most unusual attendance on Sunday, March 6. Its enrollment exceeded four hundred. After Sunday School the PTA of the Rosenwald School presented the Elementary and High School Glee Clubs in a short concert.

The National Quintet of Wilmington, rendered a song service at the home of the Rev. W. D. Mitchell for the benefit of his daughter, Mrs. Mannie Blount, who has been confined to her bed for some time. The Quintet was presented in a program at the John Lewis school earlier in the day.

Mrs. Dola Bradshaw is now patient in the Thompson Memorial Hospital in Lumberton as a result of an attack of illness. She is improving nicely.

The Rev. Wm. Gresham, pastor of the Star of Bethlehem Church, delivered a very inspiring installation service for the benefit of the New Deacons who were added to the Deacon Board. They were Messrs. Joseph Arnette of Johnson Avenue and Lake Jackson of Phillips Street.

Mrs. Lizzie Walker departed from this life on March 7, at the home of her son, West Walker of Phillips Street, after a prolonged illness. Funeral services were held at the Star of Bethlehem Church.

Quite a few citizens of Fairmont attended a concert given by the Shaw University Choral Society on Sunday, March 6, in Lumberton City Auditorium. The concert was carried out very beautifully and was enjoyed by several Fairmonites who are now working in the communities adjoining the Lumberton communities.

The funeral services for Harron Pitman were held in Wilson Sunday, March 13th. Mrs. Pitman was the son of the Rev. Mac Pitman of Proctorville. Several relatives and friends from Fairmont and Proctorville attended the service.

Four of Rosenwald's most model students and two of their teachers attended a basketball tournament in Chadbourn Thursday night, March 10. The students were Misses Christine Inman, Ruby Gray Hill, Myrtle Grange and Mr. Alexander Campbell. The teachers were Miss E. L. Wooten and Mr. Harry J. Hayes.

A surprise birthday party was given Harvey Floyd on Saturday night, March 12, at his home, 121 Benjamin Street.

A very attractive menu was served the guests and they played several games. The guests were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drake, Mr. and Mrs. William Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Faulk, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Thompson of McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Lendon, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Stephens of Lumberton, Mr. and Mrs. Morse Watson of Lumberton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. John Floyd of McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Worley, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Albert Jones, Misses Maud E. Killen, Ila Walker, McGillvary, Mrs. Rosa Hurdle, Mrs. Louise Glice, Messrs. Willie Jackson, James Walker, Ben Bass, Roosevelt Strickland, Charlie Inman, Ervin Ford.

Mrs. Mamie McNair spent the week-end of March 6 with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Maggie Barnes, who is now living in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Maggie Barnes of Richmond, Va., left recently after spending a week with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McNair, at 122 C le Street.

Mrs. Ruth Gregor of Portsmouth, Va., spent the week end with her father, the Rev. W. D. Mitchell of 132 Madison Street.

NEW MANAGEMENT FOR PLAZA THEATRE

The Plaza Theatre has recently been taken over by E. J. Haley who is owner of the Booker T. chain of theaters, Raleigh, N. C.

It is now under the management of Fred S. Biggs, a native of Williamston. Although Mr. Biggs was born in Williamston the greater portion of his life has been spent in Rocky Mount.

For several years he was with the Burnett Drug Company. Later he went into business for himself as a Filling Station operator. This business he kept until a few years ago when he joined the Booker T. Chain.

He has served as manager of theaters in Goldsboro, Orangeburg, S. C., and Columbia, S. C.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Biggs are living with Mrs. Elizabeth Davis 311 Contentnea Street.

Mrs. Biggs is a member of the city school system of Rocky Mount.

BAND LIFE TOUGH SAYS JOE MORRIS

MIAMI, Fla. — The job of being a bandleader is a tough one says Joe Morris, ex-Lionel Hampton trumpet sensation. Playing in the vicinity with his band at one-nighters Morris visited the Booker T. Washington High School's student orchestra rehearsal and made them sensations in a conversation with them.

Depicting how tough things for musicians who had to travel the one-nite circuit all over the country, Morris observed that having your name on billboards and marquees wasn't what it's cracked up to be. In addition to membership he said it takes a stable musician to put up with sleeping in hotels with poor facilities and eating food in one-armed joints that was half cooked and tasteless.

Advising them to study their respective instruments as much as possible he declared that nowadays a musician should be able to read well, know his harmony, theory and other relevant facts. Morris formerly taught music at Alcorn State Teachers College and it was there that Hampton first offered him and requested that he join his band.

Beauty Instructors Honor Mrs. Bethune

LOS ANGELES (ANP) — Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, head of the National Council of Negro Women and two movie actresses, Hattie McDaniel and Louise Beavers were honored at the third annual convention of the United Beauty School Owners and Teachers association last week.

Mrs. Marjorie Stewart Joyner of Chicago presided over the meetings.

THE POETS SPEAK

'THEN AND NOW'

When I was a little boy,
About half past three,
All the world was a garden to me,
Rain and other things from the sky,
Was the grace of God passing by.
But now, I bow my head and sigh,
As bombs fall and babies cry.
In a world wreathed in wild confusion,
I have lost every trace of by beautiful illusion.

ETERNAL HOPE

By William Henry Huff for ANP

I slept upon the benches in the park —
The silver moon was my electric light.
I had no bed — the way was dark
But that which conquers was in sight —
Eternal hope.

BROADCAST PAYS TRIBUTE TO WORK OF MRS. BETHUNE

NEW YORK — "This Is Your Life" one of NBC's most popular documentary programs, presented the life of Mary McLeod Bethune founder-president of the National Council of Negro Women, Inc., in its 1949 annual program on Tuesday evening, March 15, at 10:30 p. m. (EST).

Several of Mrs. Bethune's most prominent associates and colleagues in her work with the Council, and in the field of education and race relations, including Mrs. Gertrude Jackson, Mrs. Arabella Dunlap, and Mr. Philip Randolph of New York City, collaborated with the National Broadcasting Company in arranging the program.

Twenty three national Negro women organizations, members of the National Council of Negro Women, and 15 Metropolitan Councils of the National Council local and in practically every town throughout the country prepared listening groups for this program which was a key development during the current nationwide national publicity campaign drive of the National Council of Negro Women, designed to secure 100,000 new members during the campaign year.

The current campaign aims to strengthen the Council's hand in its fight for "Civil and Human Rights for All" on both national and international levels.

Mrs. Bethune was cited for honor at the convention. She spoke to Bethune-Cookman College, which she founded, at an interracial program at First AME Church.

The two movie stars were awarded certificates of merit at a reception for the Cafe Rafael.

The Beauticians' Greek letter society, Alpha Phi Omega, arranged the social events for the meeting. Convention headquarters were at the Elks auditorium.

WHITES BOMB HOME OF BEAUTICIAN

ATLANTA (ANP) — An unoccupied two-story colonial type home owned by Mrs. Rosa Torrance, 50-year-old beautician, was wrecked here last week within a few hours after she had been advised "it would not be a good idea for you to move in." This advice was given by two white men who came to the home earlier in the afternoon while the woman was supervising remodeling work.

The house stands in a hitherto white neighborhood. According to police, it has been disturbed by racial conflict since Negroes began moving in. A white couple, living next door, was slightly injured when the
