SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhœa, Jaundice, Impurity of the Blood, Fever and Ague, Malaria, and all Diseases caused by Derangement of Liver, Bowels and Kidneys.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER.

Bad Breath; Pain in the Side, sometimes the pain is felt under the Shoulder-blade, mistaken for Rheumatism; general loss of appetite; Bowels generally costive, sometimes alternating with laxitude; the head is troubled with pain, is dull and heavy, with considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having undone something which ought to have been done, a slight, dry cough and flushed face is sometimes an attendant, often mistaken for consumption; the patient complains of weariness and debility, nervous, easily startled; feet cold or burning, sometimes a prickly sensation of the skin exists; spirits are low and despondent, and, although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial, yet one can hardly summon up fortitude to try it—in fact, distresses every candidly. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when but few of them existed, yet examination after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the above symptoms appear.

Persons Traveling or Living in Unhealthy Localities, by taking a dose occasionally to keep the Liver in healthy action, will avoid all Malaria, Bilious attacks, Diarrœa, Nausea, Drowsiness, Depression of Spirits, etc. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage.

If You have eaten anything hard of digestion, or feel heavy after meals, or sleepless at night, take a dose and you will be relieved.

Time and Doctors' Bills will be saved by always keeping the Regulator in the House!

For, whatever the ailment may be, a thoroughly safe purgative, alterative and tonic can never be out of place. The remedy is harmless and does not interfere with business or pleasure.

IT IS PURELY VEGETABLE,

And has all the power and efficacy of Calomel or Quinine, without any of the injurious after effects.

A Governor's Testimony.

Simmons Liver Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I am satisfied it is a valuable addition to the medical science.
J. GILL SHORTER, Governor of Ala.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, of Ga., says: Have derived some benefit from the use of Simmons Liver Regulator, and wish to give it a further trial.

"The only Thing that never fails to Relieve."—I have used many remedies for Dyspepsia, Liver Affection and Debility, but never have found anything to benefit me to the extent Simmons Liver Regulator has. I sent from Minnesota to Georgia for it, and would send further for such a medicine, and would advise all who are similarly affected to give it a trial as it seems the only thing that never fails to relieve.
P. M. JANNEY, Minneapolis, Minn.

Dr. T. W. Mason says: From actual experience in the use of Simmons Liver Regulator in my practice I have been and am satisfied to use and prescribe it as a purgative medicine.

THE LOVE-KNOT.

BY NORA PERRY.

Tying her bonnet under her chin
She tied her raven ringlets in.
But not alone in the silken snare
Did she catch her lovely floating hair,
For, tying her bonnet under her chin
She tied a man's heart within.

They were strolling together up the hill
Where the wind came blowing merry and chill;
And it blew the curls a frolicksome race
All over the happy, peach-colored face,
Till, scolding and laughing, she gathered them in
Under her beautiful dimpled chin.

And it blew a color, bright as the blossom
Of the pinkest fuschsia's tossing plume,
All over the cheeks of the prettiest girl
That ever imprisoned a romping curl,
Or, tying her bonnet under her chin,
Tied a young man's heart within.

Steeper and steeper grew the hill;
Madder, merrier, chillier still
The western wind blew down, and played
Tricksy games with the little maid,
As, tying her bonnet under her chin,
She tied a young man's heart within.

O! western wind, do you think it was fair
To play such tricks with her floating hair?
So gladly, cheerfully, do your best
To blow her against the young man's breast,
Where he so gladly folded her in,
And kissed her mouth and her dimpled chin.

O Ellery Vane! You little thought
An hour ago, when you to sought
This country lass to walk with you,
After the sun had dried the dew,
What terrible danger you'd be in
As she tied a her bonnet under her chin.

BILL NYE TO YOUNG MEN.

Young man, what are you living for? have you an object dear to you as life and without the attainment of which you feel that your life will prove a shameless waste, peopled with specters of dead ambition?—You can take your choice in the great battle of life, whether you will bristle up and win a deathless name and owe almost every body, or be satisfied with scabs and mediocrity.—Many of those who now stand at the head of the nation as statesmen and legislators, were once unknown, unhonored and unsung. Now they saw the air in the halls of Congress, and their names are plastered upon the temple of fame.

You can win some laurels, too, if you will brace up and secure them when they are ripe. Daniel Webster, and President Garfield, and Dr. Tanner, and George Eliot, were all, at one time poor boys. They struggled against poverty and public opinion bravely on till they won a name in the annals of history, and secured to their loved ones palatial homes, with lightning rods and mortages on them. So may you if you make the effort.

All these things are within your reach. Live temperately on $9 per month. That's the way we got our start. Burn the midnight oil if necessary. Get some true, noble minded young lady of your acquaintance to assist you. Tell her of your trouble and she will tell you what to do. She will gladly advise you. Then you can marry her, and she will advise you some more. After that she will lay aside her work at any time to advise you. You needn't be out of advice at a loss unless you want to. She too, will tell you when you have made a mistake. She will come to you frankly and acknowledge that you have made a jackass of yourself.

As she gets more acquainted with you she will be more candid with you and in her unstudied, girlish way, she will point out your errors and gradually convince you, with an old chair leg and other arguments, that you were wrong, and your past life will come up before you like a panorama, and you will tell her so, and she will let you up again. Life is indeed a mighty struggle. It is business. We can't all be editors and lounge around all the time and wear good clothes, and have our names in the papers, and draw princely salaries. Some one must do the work and drudgery of life, or it won't be done.

A HUSBAND'S PREPARATIONS.

The other morning when a Detroiter seated his wife in a car on the Michigan Central to make the journey to Chicago alone he took a look round him and said to her:

"Now, love, if you should want the window raised, here are a dozen gentlemen who will break their necks to accommodate you."

"Yes, dear."

"If you feel lonesome and want sombody to talk with about affairs in Egypt, Noah's ark or the ice period, don't hesitate to call upon any of these gentlemen."

"I understand."

"You won't know enough to leave the car at noon and get your dinner, and you had better ask some of them to accompany you. If they offer to pay for your meal don't be squeamish about it."

"Of course not."

"You may want to read to pass away time. If so, any of these gentlemen will be only too happy to purchase you half a bushel of the latest books and magazines. Be careful to save 'em for me to read when you get home."

"I'll be certain, love."

"And you can say to them that we do not live happily together; I am a domestic tyrant; you have strong thoughts of procuring a divorce; you feel that you could love the right sort of a husband; you like oranges and peanuts; you are innocent and confiding; you have never traveled; you are afraid of getting lost in Chicago, and you will be ever so much obliged to any one who will get you a hack, see to your trunk, and pay all the expenses. Good-bye, love."

"Good-bye, dart."

And we don't it strange that not one single man in that car even spoke to that lady in a ride of three hundred miles?"—Detroit Free Press.
