WINS NOMINATION

COLUMBUS, O. (ANP) — William H. Brooks, a local attorney, was the only Negro nominated to the Columbus City council in a very light vote at the primary elections held last week.

This marks the second time that Brooks has been a candidate for the council. In 1945 he won a place on the ballot in the non-partisan vote, but he did not win a seat.

CHORAL SOCIETY GIVES CONCERT

The United Choral Society which is being presented in concert recital at the Crosby Garfield School here, Sunday afternoon, September 18 at 3:00 p.m. is not an absolutely new organization.

The society was organized here Aug. 20, 1944 at the home of Mr. John H. Barret. Mrs. Marie McNeil Riddick, who was the moving spirit behind the organization has been the president ever since. The home of Mr. Barrett served as regular meeting place until the increase of members forced the group to seek larger quarters. Chavis Heights administration building opened its doors in 1946 and the group has met there ever since. The official changes in the group been few and far between. In 1945 Festus Banks succeeded Mrs. Lena Swinson as vice president. Only to give way later to Mrs. Alice Graham, who is maintaining the office to this day.

At the death of H. H. Towns 1948, the group after some deliberation called D. H. Keck to the directorship. J. H. Barret, the accomplished pianist-arranger, is constantly on the alert for talented acompanists and the list now includes Miss Alice Morgan and Miss Nancy Giles.

Z. B. Ward, a lover of music and one of the first sponsors was given the position of road manager and attends all rehearsals.

While the choral unit has increased its membership it has improvds its type and variety and its soul at the same time. A large crowd of music lovers at least from all over central North Carolina is expected to witness this fifth annual concert recital.

Ben Norris, a Watauga County 4-H Club boy, consigned the top ram in the sixth annual Purebred Ram Sale held at Boone recently. The animal brought $87.50, according to L. I. Case, in charge of animal husbandry extension at State College.

SWIMMING COURSE IS GIVEN FOR WENDELL

The first Negro swimming course ever to be held in rural Wake County will begin Mon. afternoon, near Wendell and Zebulon, at the pond of Mr. Phil Whitley of Wendell. The course, sponsored by the Wake County Chapter, American Red Cross, is being offered for the Negro population of that area. It will be taught by Negro Red Cross Water Safety Instructors from Raleigh, most all of whom have had considerable experience in teaching classes as Chavis Park Swimming Pool in Raleigh, and elsewhere.

The Negro Boy Scouts of Wendell, under the supervision of Mr. Earl Strickland, have volunteered to assist in cleaning up a portion of the pond in preparation for the class.

The admission to the classes is free. There is a minimum age limit of 6 years, but no maximum limit.

Instrumental in helping to organize this course were Mrs. Margie Ellis of Zebulon, Waymon Morgan of Wendell, and George Mitchell, Director of Chavis Park Pool in Raleigh.

Registration for the classes is being taken in Wendell at the store opposite the Negro High School and at Morgan's Barber shop, also in Wendell. Mrs. Ellis is accepting registration in Zebulon at the Beauty Shop behind her residence. Registration will continue to be accepted until Tuesday, August 16.

The schedule of classes, all to be held from 5:00 p.m. until 6:00 is as follows: Monday, August 15; Tuesday, August 16; Thursday, August 18; Monday, August 22; Wednesday, August 24; Friday, August 26; Monday, August 29; and finally Wednesday, August 31.

It is hoped that if there is sufficient interest in this class, and in swimming generally among the colored population in that area some lake or pond can be developed for general recreational purpose by next summer.
