United Church Guild Meeting

The Sixth Annual Conference of the Southern Synodical Women's Guild of The United Church of Christ closed with a luncheon on Friday. The conference, held at the Blowing Rock Assembly Grounds, was attended by more than 160 women of Southern Synod. Mrs. A. R. Keppel, Sr., of Salisbury is president of the Synodical Guild, and Mrs. Edwin Alcorn of Conover served as program chairman for the assembly.

The conference theme, "Through, Not Around Samaria," was followed in Bible study and discussion groups as well as in classes. Rev. Porter Seiwell, campus pastor at Catawba College, was leader for the Bible study and classes were led by Miss Frances Kapitzky of Strasburg, Ohio, president of the National Women's Guild; Rev. Horace Sills of Orlando, Fla.; and Miss Louise Vordenberg, a missionary in Honduras, C. A., who is home on furlough.

Tours Featured

The entertainment portion of the program consisted of tours through the Cone Estate and visits to "Five Points," the Blowing Rock home of Mrs. A. L. Shuford, Sr., of Conover. Mrs. Shuford served tea to groups of the visitors on two afternoons and explained that her home was so named because it was possible, on a clear day, to see points in five different States.

Washington News

Washington, D. C. — The main topic of foreign policy discussions now, and probably for the rest of the year, is Berlin. The crisis is once again building around that former capital of unified Germanys.

Washington has been strangely silent since the Vienna meeting between Nikita Khrushchev and President Kennedy, but evidence has come from Germany in recent days which indicates the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will never give in on the Berlin question.

Both in Bonn and Berlin recently, on Unification Day in West Germany, defiance was hurled at the communists. Unification Day in West Germany is the anniversary of the day some eight years ago when East Germans rose up and fought the communists in an effort to win their freedom.

Berliners of the western sectors staged rallies and parades of the East German dead. Adenauer told the world in a speech to parliament in Bonn that the fleeing 3,000,000 East Germans to the West since the communists took over proves that the people despise the communist system.

And he and other German speakers charged that the reason Khrushchev and the communists want to get allied soldiers out of Berlin is because Berlin is a showplace of democracy, a constant thorn in the side of communism and a place where Germans can see the difference between East and West.

But while the Germans stand firm against the threats, President Kennedy has remained strangely quiet and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield even came up with a proposal to make Berlin a free city—which included the concession, it seems, of withdrawing our troops from West Berlin.

This speech — which Mansfield claimed was his own initiative and philosophy — dismayed some Germans for they saw in it the first sign of giving in to Khrushchev's bullying and threatening tactics.

And there were many who felt that Mansfield's speech was largely a trial balloon—urged by President Kennedy and this administration. If it was, then it means President Kennedy is considering concessions at least—considering a solution which would mean the pulling of U. S. troops out of Berlin.

If this happens, Berlin will be at the mercy of the communists. It will also be a shattering blow to West Germans whose confidence in United States firmness and strength and dependability will be rudely shaken.

Old Chancellor Adenauer told the Russians bluntly—in his Unification Day speech—that if they wanted to lessen tension in the world they should agree to a free election in all Germany, and that if Khrushchev would do this, he would give guarantees of non-aggression to Russia.

There are many in Washington who think that Kennedy is missing the ball by studying Khrushchev's demands, thinking along defensive lines. They think Kennedy should be pushing hard for free elections in all Germany, democratic free elections, which this country should continue to champion and propose. And they believe we should never give an inch to Khrushchev's bullying on Berlin.

Story Hour At County Library

Mrs. Councill's elementary education class will conduct a story hour for children at the county library every Thursday from June 29th through August 17th, from 3 o'lock until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Children from kindergarden through 10 years of age are invited.

COURT-MARTIAL SET

The Air Force has ordered a colonel to face a court-martial in the collapse of a radar "Texas tower" that dragged 28 men to their death in the Atlantic Ocean.

The officer, Col. William M. Banks, has been charged with being derelict in duty by failing to keep himself informed.

Reports are that the court-martial will take place in the fall.

College Cow Sets Record

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of an outstanding official production reord by a registered Holstein cow in this area: Appalachian Model Burke 4313514 owned by Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, produced 12,180 lbs. milk and 465 lbs. butterfat in 305 days on twice daily milking as a 3-year-old.

North Carolina State College of Raleigh supervisied the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official herd testing programs of the national Holstein organization.

These programs provide continuing lactation and lifetime production records on every cow in more than 2,800 participating registered Holstein herds.
