Three Chosen To Attend Girls State

E. Ashley Swain, Commander of The American Legion Post No. 40, Edenton, has announced the selection of delegates for the 1982 session of The American Legion Department of North Carolina's Annual Tar Heel Girls' State.

GIRLS' STATE — The selection of delegates for the 1982 session of The American Legion Dept. of North Carolina's Annual Tar Heel Girls' State was recently announced by E. Ashely Swain, Commander of The American Legion Post No. 40. They are, from left to right, Colleen Jordan, Paula Wright and Margaret Harrell. The 1982 session will be on the campus of the University of North Carolina in Greensboro during the week of June 13 - 19.

Selected for the six day intensive workshop in State government and politics from John A. Holmes High School were: Avis Colleen Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Jordan; Paula Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wright and Margaret Ann Harrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Harrell.

Girls' State Delegates participate in a variety of activities which are designed to improve their awareness and understanding of (a) the organization and operations of government and politics in North Carolina and (b) major areas of state public policies which are being debated currently in North Carolina.

The objective of Girls' State is to improve citizenship for future and present generation of Tar Heels. Candidates are carefully screened for those girls with outstanding qualities including character scholarship and service. Young women who are members of the rising senior class are the candidates considered for attendance at Tar Heel Girls' State.

While the American Legion assumes the responsibility of sponsoring Girls' State, many patriotic civic, religious, educational and fraternal organizations sponsor the girls to the program by paying their fees. Local organizations supporting this year's program are: Cape Colony Ruritans - Avis Jordan; Edenton Optimist Club - Margaret Harrell and American Legion Auxiliary - Paula Wright.

The American Legion Post No. 40 expresses their gratitude to these organizations for their interest and effort toward this program, as well as, to Harold Nichols, counselor from John A. Holmes.

The 1982 session of Girls' State will be held on the campus of the University of North Carolina in Greensboro during the week of June 13 - 19.

Former Students Get High Marks

Area businesses employing former College of The Albemarle students are pleased with the training provided by the college and on - the - job performance of the individual employee.

These facts were established from the results of a statewide survey of more than 3,600 employers of community college, technical college, and technical institute students conducted recently by the Department of Community Colleges. Fifty - seven employers of former COA students were among those surveyed.

The response rate from Albemarle area employers was more than 65 per cent The systemwide survey produced slightly more than 59 per cent in returned questionnaires from all employers.

Local supervisors gave work quantity and manual dexterity the highest ratings, evaluating skill training between good and very good. They also considered their employees' technical knowledge, work attitude, and work quality to be good or very good.

More than 50 per cent of the employers of former COA students indicated that the training received at the college contributes substantially toward opportunities for advancement. These supervisors also noted that the students were better prepared for their jobs than other employees.

Hiring methods were compared throughout the system, according to the survey results. COA students who made direct applications were hired by more than 60 per cent of the local businesses that responded. The second most
