ROGER'S

Vegetable Pulmonic Detergent.

TO THE PUBLIC.

There is perhaps no medical observation better established, none more generally confirmed by the experience of the best Physicians of all ages and countries, and none of more importance to the practitioner, than the fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable complaints, originate in neglected colds. In a climate as variable as ours, where the changes of the weather are frequent and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this fatale and dangerous enemy of life, than most people imagine or are able and willing to believe. Hence the vast number of patients afflicted with coughs, catarrhs, asthmas, consumptions and other affections, and hence the farrago of idiotical and absurd remedies, cried up by the learned and illiterate. The many cases of the kind which fell under my observation, the preposterous impositions of influencing drugs which are in vogue, the disappointments I experienced in practice, from remedies highly recommended and my own predisposition to pulmonic complaints, were strong inducements for me to consider, whether a compound, consisting of mild vegetable substances could not be invented, more free from the well founded objections of practitioners, and better calculated to avert the threatening destruction of the lungs.

I have the satisfaction now to offer to the public such a remedy, under the name of the VEGETABLE PULMONIC DETERGENT, well adapted to various constitutions and habits, and to declare with the fullest confidence, that I found this composition, in a variety of cases, far superior to others intended to answer the same purpose.

Aware of the impossibility of universal remedies, destitute of the despicable and versatile talents of a Charlatan, I am too proud of the character of an honest man, ever to desire to profit by the ignorance of the sick and afflicted, and whilst I continue the use of my medicine to the effects of a suppressed perspiration, in their incipient state only, I flatter myself with the hope that this candid appeal to the understanding of an enlightened public, will induce to my discovery a better fate and longer life, than the greater part of the boasted nostrums deserve. I am perfectly satisfied that such practitioners who have frequently to combat the effects of suppressed perspiration, and do not neglect the use of the liver and other evacuations, whenever they are indicated, will place this medicine, provided they give it a fair and impartial trial, in the list of their most favorite remedies; that families will substitute it for the boasted Elixir of Paregoric and Asthmatic, for their Cough Drops, Pectoral Balsams and Syrups; and that the manifold benefit derived by such who use it according to my directions, will prove a far better test of its value and usefulness, than ever so many certificates I could gain upon a discerning public.

GEORGE RODGERS.

CERTIFICATE.

New York, December 18, 1809.

I, George Hunter, of this city, Front Street, No 150, do certify and declare upon every thing that is sacred, [and hundreds can testify to the same] that for several years past I have been afflicted with an affection of the lungs, and through the colder seasons of every year, have been exercised with a severe and almost incessant cough and a discharge of large quantities of phlegm and mucus, alternately thrown off; but in the first season of every year, my cough has been somewhat abated until the last past, which continued until the month of August with unabated severity; at length I bled profusely from the lungs and continued so to do for 4 days with intervals abatement, until my life was despaired of by two eminent Physicians of this city—At length I was induced to try Doctor Roger's Vegetable Pulmonic Detergent, recommended for afflictions of the lungs, and to this valuable medicine I can sincerely say I think I owe my life; for a few doses checked the bleeding, and a few cakes of it restored me to the enjoyment of a very unusual degree of bodily health, and I have continued so to this day.

I have been thus particular in writing that the public may be induced to try the efficacy of so valuable a medicine, for complaints for which it is prescribed.

GEORGE HUNTER.

This Medicine may be had of W. S. HASSELL.

BALTIMORE, APRIL 16.

Arrived the schooner Swift, Capt. Cadin, [illegible] days from [illegible] cargo of Wine, to Cornthwait & Carey. On the 25th of March, being in the long. of 61 31, was brought to by the French brig of war, Mameluke, commanded by lieutenant Galabert, forming part of a squadron of two frigates, who left France the beginning of January last, and parted from her companions in the night of the 19th, in a heavy gale. They came on board the Swift, examined her papers, and took the schooner's Register away, declaring her a good prize. After taking out three casks of wine, they gave an instrument of writing (which is hereunto annexed) purporting to be a condemnation under their orders "to capture and destroy all vessels to or from enemies ports," and giving up one half of the vessel to Capt. Catlin and crew, the other half to Capt. Delile and crew, of the late schooner Polly, from Newburyport, bound to St. Bart's, (which they had captured and burnt;) they put 13 souls—Capt. Delile and all his crew, the mate and two hands belonging to the brig Joan, from Porto Rico, of and bound to Portsmouth, N. H. Robert Ramsay and Robert Shew, passengers in the British brig Briton, from Liverpool bound to Tortola, and three Portuguese, belonging to a richly laden ship from Brazil bound to Lisbon, all which they had destroyed.—They had taken and burnt 14 sail of different nations, four of which were Americans. On the 8th of April, being almost out of every kind of provisions, &c. saw a vessel about 12 or 14 miles distant, standing to the westward, it being then a calm, five of the men put on board by the Frenchmen, and one of the Swift's crew, determined on taking the long boat, and left the schooner, against the entreaties of the captain and others on board, in quest of the vessel, for provisions; they were, Mr. Moody, mate of the Joan, Mr. Francis, mate of the Polly, a Portuguese boatswain of the ship that was burnt, two of the Polly's and Joan's crews, and 2 of the Swift's. they were out of sight of the schooner an hour after they left her, but expect they reached they reached the sail—a breeze sprung up in the night, the next morning we saw nothing of the sail or boat, we cruized for them for some time. On the 9th, being in long. 72 30, lat 34 25, spoke schooner Packet, Murphy, from Baltimore for Jamaica, who generously supplied us with provisions. On the 2nd of April, in lat. 28 20, fell in with the wreck of a vessel bottom up, about 150 tons burthen, red ochre bottom and quite clean, the sea running so high, we were unable to make any further observations.

During the time Captain Delile, of the Polly, was on board the French brig Mameluke, they boarded 3 or 4 vessels which they let pass, one a sloop from the United States for Jamaica, the other not recollected. Lieutenant Galabert told Captain Delile that he was induced to present him with half of the Swift and cargo, in consequence of his being captured bound to a friendly port: that his vessel was destroyed fearing that his people might give information of them—Capt. D. was otherwise well treated by the French, who seemed reluctantly to execute the destructive orders of their Emperor.

CERTIFICATE.

Lieutenant Galabert, commanding the brig of war Mameluke, belonging to the Emperor of France, having on the 26th of March, 1812, in lat. 30, long. 64, stopped the American schooner Swift of N. York, bound from Gibraltar to Baltimore, which had touched at Algeziras, (Spain) and considering that this vessel is a legal prize agreeably to the orders of his Imperial Majesty, which include all vessels bound to or from the ports of the enemies of France—I have arrested said schooner, which, however, I release (for peculiar reasons) on condition that one half the vessel and cargo shall belong to the Captain and crew, and the other half to Mr. Delisle, Captain of the American schooner Polly (lately captured by the Mameluke) bound from the U. States to St. Bartholomews, whose vessel we burnt; and said Capt. Delile is hereby entitled, as before mentioned, to half interest and benefit from said vessel; for the performance of which, I have received their words of honor. J. M. GALABERT.
