Jewish Youth Leader Of The Year

The first Pierre Gildesgame Annual Award for the Jewish Youth Leader of the Year has been won by Shimon Cohen, 19-year-old youth leader of Cardiff, Wales. The award was presented to him in the House of Commons.

Mr. Gildesgame, who conceived the Award to promote the development of Jewish youth leadership in the United Kingdom, is the president of the International Maccabiah Games Committee and former chairman of the Maccabiah World Union Executive.

The Award, which carries a cash prize, has enabled Mr. Cohen to come to the United States this summer for a 6-week work/study experience at the Center of the Jewish Community in Stamford, Conn. Arrangements for him to come to the Stamford Center were made by JWB and the World Confederation of Jewish Community Centers.

Mr. Coehn was a Bnei Akiva leader in his native Cardiff, where he was a madrach (leader) in camps for a number of years.

Thanks

The JCC thanks those who helped the Day Camp in a special way.

Lomars sent Julie Tosi, one of their employees to the J to work with the camp staff on physical education skills. John Crane, another Lomars employee, taught the fishing part of the sports specialty.

Dorcas Zeeso brought with her all of her gymnastics equipment which added a new dimension to gymnastics.

Eddie Leighton assembled the first aid kits and worked with the camp staff on first aid which is applied regularly in camp. During orientation with the staff Gloria Lerner participated and helped in many areas such as physical education activities, working with the four year olds in instructional swim. Her daily participation and concern were valued and much appreciated by all in camp.

Jim Oddo, the J's "man in charge of the pools", worked with the staff during orientation on our instructional swim program. His guidance and help with the staff were a big help in the swimming program.

Argentine Jewry Needs Help

For several years the Anti-Defamation League through its involvement in Latin America has highlighted the problems that Jews are encountering especially in Argentina. ADL has compiled a list of individuals, mostly Jews, who are either political prisoners or have "disappeared". Massive violations of human rights have resulted in imprisonments, kidnappings, and disappearances of thousands.

The following is a letter which was sent to ADL which best tells the plight from the standpoint of one family.

Dear ADL:

I want to tell you the misfortune which has pursued me since my birth. When I was four years old, a band massacred people in my little town in the Ukraine. I, my brothers and my parents fled to the woods and remained alive, unfortunately. I say unfortunately because we remained alive to keep on suffering. Soon after my brothers and my parents, with their grandchildren in their arms, were assassinated and thrown into a common grave.

I came to Argentina before the war. It was a blessed land for me, until misfortune touched me another time. After I learned about the murder of my family and of the Jewish tragedy, I did not want to keep on living or marry and have children. Eventually time and loneliness caused me to change my mind. I formed a happy, beautiful home and family. We dedicated ourselves to work and study.

The 11th of August, 1976 at 3:30 in the morning, the armed forces of this government broke into my house, they are loyal imitators of the Hitler government. With explosives they blew out the door of my house, and with a machine gun stole whatever they wanted. They tied our hands and blindfolded us and took away my two sons, ages 18 and 25.

My sons' question as to why they were taking them was not answered. My sons were taken by mistake, as was the assault on my house. They were looking for another person but not knowing on which floor he lived, they came and entered my apartment. The young man they sought, had been sent out of the country by his parents some time before the federal police arrived to arrest him. The police admitted that they had made a mistake in coming to our floor, but when they left our building, they scrawled swastikas on cars parked nearby. I have not seen my sons nor do I know anything about them. I ask you, ADL, help the one who writes this letter and other Jewish parents who are going through the same suffering. I ask you in my name and in the name of all those Jews who have gone to all the places in order to know what happened to their sons, get back our sons from the Hitlerites. You can influence; the cries of the Jews in America help.

I greet you, ADL, and I ask you to pardon my bothering you. (For obvious reasons the letter does not convey the name or address of the sender.)

Disappearances continue, although at a lesser rate than in previous years. Years ago, we were equally horrified at the stories of anti-Semitism in Soviet Russia. We were not at all sure that protest could affect the vast Russian monolith. We felt compelled, however, to make the effort. Current events in the Soviet Union demonstrate that intensive protest and publicity over a period of time do achieve a measure of success. It is with this in mind that we request your cooperation in a special program designed to secure the release of individuals known to us to be political prisoners or missing. You can do this by writing directly to the president and ambassador of Argentina, the Organization of American States, and officials of the United States government. Their names and addresses as well as specific individuals you may inquire about are available by calling or writing your regional ADL office, 3311 W. Broad Street, Richmond, Va. 23230.
