Summer Youth Employment

RALEIGH-Glenn R. Jernigan, Employment Security Commission (ESC) Chairman, announced today that 30 ESC staff coordinators will be placed in ESC offices throughout the state to promote summer youth employment.

Jernigan said, "We are anxious to complement the Governor's special task force in applying maximum efforts for youth summer employment opportunities. Twenty coordinators will be located in local offices for special emphasis on youth programs. Ten additional coordinators will supplement outreach to migrant and seasonal farmworkers in primarily rural areas. The statewide network encompasses 85 offices serving all 100 counties."

"We will also be involved with CETA allocations for summer youth programs," said John B. Fleming, Director of ESC's Employment Service Division. According to Fleming, all funds will be expended in normal categorical programs and participants must meet CETA eligibility requirements. "Some local ESC offices have already contracted for CETA summer youth programs. Those local ESC offices which do not have specific contracts will cooperate with CETA program operators who do have contracts referring to them youth who qualify but lack job opportunities through our regular ESC system," said Fleming.

Melvin D. Starnes, Manager of Manpower Programs at ESC said, "Our contract with Balance of State, the city of Charlotte and the Greensboro Consortium should total $3.5 million for the operation of summer youth programs."

Jernigan said, "We plan to use many methods in our support for youth employment. Our managers will be contacting employers who have the most potential for providing job openings particularly agriculture, fast food, construction and lawn care. We will coordinate, also, with community leaders, youth groups, schools and the youth themselves.
