Democratic Speaking.

HON. A. L. BROOKS
Speaks at Burlington Saturday Night, Oct. 14. He is a Great Speaker. Hear Him. Ladies Invited.

U. S. SENATOR OVERMAN AT GRAHAM, OCT. 21.

United States Senator Lee S. Overman will address the citizens of Alamance on the issues of the day at the Court House in Graham, N C. on Saturday, Oct. 21, at 7:30 p. m. Senator Overman is a great Statesman, Orator and Democrat. He is one of the leaders in the State and Nation, and it is indeed a rare opportunity that the citizens of Alamance county have to hear him.

All people are invited. Ladies are particnlarly invited to hear this gifted orator.

WHAT MR. EDISON SAYS ABOUT IT.

Anyone who knows anything about the scientific achievements in the last quarter of a century, knows who Thomas A. Edison is. They know, too, that he is a Republican; and they further know that his personal fortune cannot be disturbed to any appreciable extent by the success of one party or the other. But above other things, he feels an interest in the welfare of his country. A few days ago in New York he made the following statement:

"No President ever made such a record of achievement. No President ever faced such problems. It is not alone that Woodrow Wilson has statesmanship; he has leadership, too. Give the people the facts and it will be a Wilson landslide.

"I have always been a Republican, but I put my country above party. In a world crisis, with the fate of America in the balance, I would be ashamed of myself if I did not put myself behind a man who has given us peace with honor, prosperity with justice and preparedness without militarism."

U. S. Senator Overman, the statesman and orator, will speak in Graham on Saturday night, Oct. 21st. The people of Alamance will be glad to hear him. His knowledge of the politics of the nation and what the Wilson Democratic administration has done for the country can be had from him—one who knows.

The New York Herald, which is not friendly to President Wilson, has been taking straw votes in the West and from the results it reaps little consolation and can hold out small prospects for the success of Candidate Hughes. It is said that "straws show which way the wind blows," and in the returns the straws point to Mr. Wilson.

Our news columns tell of U-53 German submarine's visit to our shores and the destruction of ships belonging to the allies. Our government has been appealed to and the matter is under advisement. It is a serious proposition.

THE COUNTY CAMPAIGN.

Our county candidates have been out for a week. All, except the candidates for the Legislature, simply make anuouncements, and the two candidates for the Legislature do the speaking. From the reports the prospects are altogether encouraging for a big Democratic victory. The people know just as well as anybody else that things are going well under Democratic control and are not going to trade off a good thing for one of doubtful value.

Throughout the Middle-west, the Northwest and the Great West, there are many, and we say many advisedly who, four years ago voted either for Taft or Roosevelt, but this year will vote for Wilson. They are men of prominence and write it out over their own signatures. Many of them have been life-long Republicans, but they say this year they will support Wilson and give their reasons for doing so. On the contrary we hear of no prominent supporters of Wilson four years ago having deserted him.

With everything that the farmer has to sell bringing top-notch prices, there is little inducement for them to change their way of voting, and every inducement for them to vote for "four more years" of Wilson.

Hon. A. L. Brooks, one of the State's foremost orators and Democratic speakers, will speak at Burlington Saturday night, Oct. 14th.

Try It! Substitute For Nasty Calomel

Starts your liver without making you sick and cannot salivate.

Every druggist in Town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of clomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and peofectly safe and gives better results said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50s, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant tasting purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine, no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition. adv.

FORECASTING THE ELECTION.

A WILSON VICTORY.

The Republicans profess to be confident that they will elect Mr. Hughes, basing their claim on the assumption that the entire Bull Moose vote has returned to the Republican fold, as indicated by the Maine election. But they overlook the fact that President Wilson only received 51,000 votes in Maine in 1912 when he was unknown, and that the Democratic candidate for the Senate last month received over 68,000 votes.

This shows an increase of about 33 and one-third percent in the Democratic vote. Of course everyone knows that the entire Bull Moose vote has not returned to the Republican party because a large proportion of the above 17,000 increase of the Democratic vote came from the Progressives and the entire vote of Maine as a State has increased.

However, even accepting the Republican argument that the vote for Hughes will equal the combined vote of Taft, 3,439,725, and Roosevelt, 4,168,564, Mr. Hughes would receive 7,608,000 votes and Mr. Wilson, who received 6,303,000 votes in 1912, would receive 8,404,000, which would overwhelmingly re-elect him.

The sure Democratic States have 173 electoral votes, that is those States which gave Mr. Wilson a greater vote in 1912 than they did to Taft and Roosevelt combined, have 173 efectoral votes, which Mr. Wilson is sure to get this time.

On the above assumption of giving Hughes the combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt and increasing Wilson's vote by one-third, Wilson would receive in addition to the 173 sure Democratic electoral votes the 144 additional electoral votes from the following States:

| | Popular Votes. | | Electoral Votes. |
|---|---|---|---|
| | WILSON. | HUGHES. | |
| Colorado | 152,000 | 130,000 | 6 |
| Connecticut | 112,000 | 102,000 | 7 |
| Delaware | 28,000 | 23,000 | 3 |
| Indiana | 375,000 | 313,000 | 15 |
| Maryland | 159,000 | 111,000 | 8 |
| Nebraska | 145,000 | 124,000 | 8 |
| Nevada | 10,000 | 9,000 | 3 |
| New Jersey | 238,000 | 234,000 | 14 |
| New Mexico | 37,000 | 26,000 | 3 |
| New York | 861,000 | 845,000 | 45 |
| Ohio | 564,000 | 506,000 | 24 |
| West Va. | 151,000 | 134,000 | 8 |
| | | | 144 |

It will be seen from the above table that the 144 votes contained therein added to the 173 sure Democratic electoral votes will give President Wilson at least 317 electoral votes when all he needs to re-elect him is 266.

However, there is scarcely any doubt that President Wilson will carry Oregon, Washington, and Montana, with a strong fighting chance in Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Illinois and California, and some others.

The people are realizing more and more every day that if they would be so unwise as to turn a good and faithful servant like Woodrow Wilson out of office, that they would be simply buying a "pig in a bag" if they elected Mr. Hughes, because all that Hughes has done from the time he was nominated until now has been to abuse and vilify Mr. Wilson and endeavor to criticise the great record that Mr. Wilson has made. Anybody can criticise, but if that is all he can do, as seems to be the case, he is not worth giving serious attention to.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson III.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 15, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xxv, 1-12. Memory Verses, 10, 11—Golden Text, Matt. x, 25—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The successor to Felix, Porcius Festus, seems to have been in some respects like minded to Felix, for he, too, was willing to do the Jews a pleasure (xxiv, 27; xxv, 12), and he would have sent Paul back to Jerusalem had he been willing to go. This was what the Jews desired, that they might lay in wait for him by the way and kill him (xxv, 3). Their hatred of Paul does not seem to have decreased in the least during two years, for they were still full of grievous complaints against him which they could not prove (verses 2, 7). He was having wondrous fellowship with the Lord Jesus, for whose sake he was suffering and of whom it was written, "False witnesses did rise up: they laid to my charge things that I knew not." "Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness" (Ps. xxxv, 11; lxix, 20).

When we consider such words as these, "Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue," "Thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues," "There shall no evil befall thee," "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper" (Job v, 21; Ps. xxxi, 20; xci, 10; Isa. liv, 17) and other similar assurances we are tempted to wonder a little, but then we remember that Paul was told that he must suffer great things for Christ's sake, and he taught others that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God and that all who will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. And our Lord said to His disciples that in the world we would have tribulation, and after He ascended He said to one of the churches that the devil would cast some of them into prison, but they were to continue faithful even if they died for it, and some who had been killed were told to rest awhile till others should be killed as they were (Acts ix, 16; xiv, 22; II Tim. iii, 12; John xvi, 33; Rev. ii, 10; vi, 11). He certainly loves His own and will to the uttermost, yet He allowed the disciples to toil nearly all night against a contrary wind, and He allowed Lazarus to continue sick and die and be buried that God might be glorified.

We must bear in mind that just because we are His we have the world, the flesh and the devil to contend with, but He will not suffer us to be tried above that we are able, and all our trials and afflictions are working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory (I Cor. x, 13; II Cor. iv, 15-18). When from the kingdom and the glory we look back over our life story and consider all the way by which He has led us we may perhaps see a reason for everything He has done or permitted. But we shall surely say right was the pathway leading to this. It therefore becomes us during this little while to say, "As for God, His way is perfect;" "Just and true are Thy ways, Thou King of nations" (Ps. xviii, 30; Rev. xv, iii).

If only we could have no will of our own and rest wholly and fully in the perfect will and love of God we would have a foretaste of heaven in spite of all our trials here. When Paul refused to return to Jerusalem and appealed to Caesar that decided matters for the present, and Festus said, "Unto Caesar shalt thou go" (verses 9-12). It may be that the Lord's night message to him, "So must thou bear witness also at Rome" (xxiii, 11), helped him to decide to appeal to Caesar, for Caesar meant Rome, and this may have seemed to him his opportunity.

King Agrippa and Bernice having come to Caesarea to salute Festus, the whole matter was laid before them, and Agrippa expressed a desire to hear Paul for himself, and that will be our lesson for next week. Thus was being fulfilled the Lord's message to Ananias concerning Paul. "He is a chosen vessel unto me to bear my name before the gentiles and kings and the children of Israel (ix, 15). As Festus rehearsed the matter to Agrippa, he said that the whole matter seemed to be a question of Jewish superstition, and specially concerning one Jesus, who was dead, but whom Paul affirmed to be alive (verse 19). Does not that seem to describe the knowledge that many so called enlightened people have of Him even now? Many are like Gallio and care for none of these things (xviii, 14-17), while many more, even among churchgoers, who take some part in the public worship outwardly, know nothing of Him as a personal Saviour and friend.

It is written of such in Isa. xxix, 13, "This people draw near me with their mouth and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me." Also in Ezek. xxxiii, 21, "They hear thy words, but they will not do them, for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness." In Matt. xv, 8, 9, our Lord quoted the words from Isaiah concerning the hypocrites of His day. Can you not hear our Lord saying to you, "What think ye of Jesus? Whom do ye say that I am?" Does your heart reply, "O Lord, thou art to me my own Saviour, who didst bear my sins on the cross and hast redeemed me by Thy precious blood, that I might live for Thee, and after I have suffered awhile share Thy kingdom and glory."

HOW CATARRH IS CONTRACTED.

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucous membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought and a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere. adv.

Educational Column Conducted by Supt. J. B. Robertson.

Summary of the School Attendance Law of Law of North Carolina as Passed in 1913 and Amended in 1915.

Compulsory attendance in effect "continuously for four months of each school year."

"Period of compulsory attendance for each public school shall commence at the beginning of the school term of said school unless otherwise ordered by the county board of education."

"Period of compulsory attendance shall commence at the beginning of the compulsory period of the school term nearest to the eighth birthday of child."

"Shall cover the compulsory period of four consecutive school years thereafter."

EXEMPTIONS.

(1) Physical or mental conditions such as to render attendance impracticable or inexpedient. (As attested by any legally qualified physician before any court having jurisdiction under this act.)

(2) Distance of two and one-half miles or more from the nearest schoolhouse by the nearest traveled route.

(3) Poverty.

(a) Service of child necessary for his own or his parent's support. (As attested by affidavit of parents and such witnesses as attendance officer may require.)

(b) Unable to buy necessary books and clothes. (To be shown before magistrate by affidavit of parent and such witnesses as attendance officer may require.)

Teachers may excuse for

(1) Unusual storm or bad weather.

(2) Sickness or death in child's family.

(3) Unforeseen or unavoidable accidents.

Such excuse and reason therefor shall be recorded by teacher and reported to attendance officer.

Attendance officer may excuse for

(1) Protracted illness.

(2) Quarantine of the home.

(Upon report of health officer or upon satisfactory evidence to this effect.)

"Two unexcused absences in four consecutive weeks shall not be unlawful." But all absences without legal excuse should be reported.

Teacher's Duty.

(1) Shall at the end of each week serve written or printed notice upon parent or guardian notifying him of absence of child during week and shall file copies of all such notices with attendance officer immediately.

(2) Shall report to attendance officer immediately names of all persons failing to render satisfactory legal excuse within three days after the mailing or serving of notice.

(3) Shall report to the attendance officer and to the county superintendent on or before the fourth Monday of each calendar month during the compulsory attendance period:

(1) Names of all children absent without legal excuse during month.

(2) Number of absence of each child.

(3) Name of parent or guardian of each child.

Teachers must co-operate with attendance officer in the enforcement of this law.

Teachers' Meetings.

The colored teachers of the county will meet for the first teachers' meeting for the session of 1916-'17, the last Saturday in this month, the date being Saturday, Oct. 28, 1916, at 11 a. m. at the court house.

The white teachers of the county will meet the first Saturday in November, the date being Saturday, Nov. 4th, at 10:30. Every teacher is urgently requested to be present at this meeting.

James Whitcomb Riley, the Second.

A fourth grade pupil of the Graham Graded school was studying James Whitcomb Riley and his best loved poems. The children were told to compose a verse about Mr. Riley in honor of his birthday, Oct. 7th. A boy nine years old handed in this:

"Oh, Whit Come Riley, you are migbty funny
A sitten in the meadow nice and funny,
Riten poetry every day
Of every thing you can think of over the way."

He was warmly praised by the teacher and the next day handed her six poems, among them this jewel:

"In the field of wheat a pumpkin
does lie,
Rich, sweet, and yellow as gold;
Don't you like pumpkin pie?
I can eat more than you can hold."

We suppose that Mr. Riley and all great men were once in the fourth grade. Who can measure the mind of a little child?

DESPONDENCY.

When you feel discouraged and despondent, do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two. Despondency is very often due to indigestion and biliousness, for which these tablets are especially valuable. Obtainable everywhere. adv.

The failure of Mr. Hughes voice is perhaps due to the straining efforts to speak the hyphenate language.

Newsy Letter From the University.

Cor. of The Gleaner.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 9th.—The celebration of University Day on Thursday will be the most important event of the week in Chapel Hill. Classes will be suspended for the day, and all will render homage to the University—what it has stood for in the past, and its outlook for the future. Dr. Edwin Mims of Vanderbilt University, who also taught English here for three years, will deliver the principal address. Many members of the faculty go out in the State to deliver lectures before alumni organizations. It is expected that several alumni will return to the Hill for observance of the day here.

The social service work, begun so auspiciously last year in connection with the moonlight school movement, is moving forward with much success among the students this year, under the direction of the College Y. M. C. A. The Carrboro night schools have an average attendance of 60, while the negro settlement schools are attended by 35. This work is carried on by 15 students. Besides these schools and the district Sunday schools, the students are also engaged in helping boys of Chapel Hill pursue a system of wholesome recreation. For this purpose the Boys' High School Club for the older boys and the Knights of King Arthur for the younger have been organized. These organizations carry on a work similar to that of the boy scouts. The Y. M. C. A. through its employment bureau has kept 25 self-help men continually employed, besides keeping 40 employed at odd jobs.

As an evidence that the University News Letter is affording suggestions to other colleges for a similar kind of work, Dr. E. C. Branson states that a recent communication has been received from Dr. S. C. Mitchell, President of Delaware University, requesting that he be allowed, with proper acknowledgment, to follow the North Carolina publication in his bulletin for the State of Delaware. The North Carolina Club, under Dr. Branson's direct leadership, already has 89 research studies under way for this year. These research findings are made at the headquarters of the North Carolina Club which is a clearing-house for exact information. The studies will be published in the News Letter and the State press. The circulation of the News Letter is now 9,000 weekly. It goes into every county of the State and into 32 States of the Union, as well as to Canada, England, France and Egypt.

The University regrets very much to have to give up the services of Prof. Charles H. Herty, head of the Chemical Department, after December 1. Dr. Herty has accepted the position of editor of the leading chemical journal in the country, "The Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry," New York. He has done much in building up the chemical work here to its present high degree of excellence, and he will be sorely missed. It is recognized, however, that he will be in a position to render service of a most valuable kind through his journal. Dr. Herty declares that he will devote much attention to chemical and industrial development in North Carolina and the other Southern States. Dr. Herty will teach his regular classes until December.

Sheriff's Notice to Owner of Captured Horse, Buggy, Etc., to Come Forward and Claim Same.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Sheriff of Alamance county, on 7th day of October, 1916, seized a quantity of spirituous liquors and at the same time captured a bay horse, open buggy and harness used in conveying said liquors.

Pursuant to Chap. 197, Sec. 2, Pub. Laws, 1915, the owner of said property is hereby requested to come forward and institute proper proceedings to secure possession of the same, otherwise same will be advertised and sold according to law. This Oct. 12, 1916.

R. N. COOK, Sheriff.
