WM. R. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

RATIFICATION MEETING AT TAMMANY HALL.

Tammany Hall was the scene of the most enthusiastic meeting Friday night that has been held in New York since the Convention met. The occasion was the formal tender of the nominations to the nominees by Gen. Morgan, of Ohio, Chairman of the Committee appointed for that purpose by the Convention. Mr. Seymour, in accepting the nomination, said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee:—I thank you for the courteous terms in which you have communicated to me the action of the Democratic National Convention. [Cheers.] I have no words adequate to express my gratitude for the good will and kindness which that body has shown to me. Its nomination was unsought and unexpected. It was my ambition to take an active part, from which I am now excluded, in the great struggle going on for the restoration of the general government and prosperity to our country, [great cheering] but I have been caught by the overwhelming tide that is bearing us to a great political change, and I find myself unable to resist its pressure. [Loud cheers.]

You have also given to me a copy of the resolutions put forth by the Convention, showing its position upon the great questions which now agitate the country. As the presiding officer of that Convention, I am familiar with their scope and import.—As one of its members, I am a party to their terms. They accord with my views, and I stand upon them in the contest which we are now entering. I shall strive to carry them out in full, wherever I may be placed, in public or in private life. [Cheers.] I congratulate you, and all Conservative men who seek to restore order, peace and prosperity, and good government to our land, upon the evidences everywhere shown that we are to triumph at the next election.—[Prolonged cheers.] Those who are politically opposed to us flattered themselves that there would be discord in our midst.

They mistook the uncertainties of our views as to the best methods of carrying out our purposes for differences of opinion with regard to those purposes. They mistook an intense anxiety to do no act which should not be wise and judicious for a spirit of discord; but, during the lengthened proceedings and earnest discussions of the Convention, there has prevailed an entire harmony of intercourse, a patient forbearance, and a self sacrificing spirit, which are the sure tokens of a coming victory.—Accept for yourselves, gentlemen, my wishes for your future welfare and happiness.—[Cheers.] In a few days I will answer the communication you have just handed me, by letter, as is the customary form. [Tremendous and continuous cheers.]

Further remarks were made, repeatedly interrupted by cheers.

Gen. Blair's speech was brave, manly, and emphatic. He said "we are about entering on a contest for the restoration of the Union and the principles of the Constitution, and the preservation of the white race from the domination of a semi-barbarous people." There is no white man in the land, worthy of the name of a white man, who would be willing to deprive Lee and Johnston, and their gallant comrades, of the privileges which are the birth right of their race.

ELECTIONEERING DODGES.

"Major-General Howard has formally ordered the discontinuation of the Freedmen's Bureau in South Carolina, and will, as speedily as possible, close the bureau's business in other States."—New York Tribune.

This sort of deception will hardly mislead even the unwary. The trick has been repeated too often to have the least merit of novelty, and is now regarded as only a barefaced attempt to impose on the public by wilful misrepresentation. The Freedmen's Bureau has just been extended another year by the influence of General Howard, who first pretended to recommend its abolition. That fact is the best answer to the false statement of the Tribune, and reveals the real sentiment of the head of this corrupt political machinery, who has worked it only for selfish and party purposes. There is not the remotest intention of closing the bureau, now, and never has been. The best proof of it is the law recently passed by an undivided Radical vote in both Houses of Congress. It forms an essential element of their programme in the Presidential campaign, and was renewed for that object expressly. The proof is to be found in the Senate bill proposed by Mr. Howard, by which the President is deprived of all supervising authority, and "the present Commissioner," (General Howard,) is rendered independent of the army regulations and of all proper accountability, until the 1st. of January next, thus covering the Presidential election. That proposition reveals the plot; while another introduced by Mr. Pomeroy, as a sequel, proposes to transfer the Indian Bureau to the Freedmen's Bureau, and thus fasten it permanently on the Government. The Tribune is well aware of these facts, and yet has concealed them for party effect.

Ratiualism has taken a sudden and violent spasm of reform since the New York Convention. But this pretended zeal comes rather late in the day, and exposes its own motive. Nearly eight months have been squandered in factious agitation and in a desperate effort to get possession of the Executive office. All the great material interests have been treated with the utmost neglect and contempt by the dominant party in Congress. Precious time and money have been wantonly wasted in persecuting the President and in attempts to rule or ruin. And now, at the eleventh hour, when all is confusion, when everybody is worn down with fatigue, the session about closing, and when the New York Convention has framed its indictment, the very men who have all along treated with scorn the serious public business rush forward with political schemes for reducing the army, for a higher protective tariff, and for other purposes, all intended to counteract the effect of their past criminal omissions, and to propitiate a people whom they have outraged by neglect, extravagance, and unparalleled corruption. These electioneering expedients have had their day, and can succeed no longer. The eyes of the country are at length open to the iniquities which have been practiced, and the mischief which the rule of Radicalism has produced. Professions have no value from such a source, because the most solemn promises have been made only to be violated. This affected repentance is like that of the hardened criminal who goes to the gallows protesting his innocence, in the vain delusion that his guilt may be doubted and his bad character redeemed. As the individual is estimated by his life, so is a party judged by its recorded acts. Seven years of bloated power and unexampled tyranny confront Radicalism, and demand its expulsion as the only means left of rescuing the country from most serious perils.

Inasmuch as the New York Post and other papers have been deceived by the artful "dodge" of Gen. Howard and his Radical friends, we publish his own testimony to show that the Freedmen's Bureau has not been stopped, and that his whole movement is a sham, got up to deceive the public:

"WAR DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen,
And Abandoned Lands,
Washington, July 6, 1868.

"Brevet Major General R. R. Scott, Assistant Commissioner, Charleston, South Carolina:

"GENERAL: Your method of reducing the number of agents of the bureau and gradually transferring the duties devolving upon them to local officers of State appointments, meets with my approval. It will embarrass you less to select an army officer, who will heartily co-operate with you, to act as Assistant Commissioner, and to have all civil agents replaced by army officers, carefully selected. These officers had better be as few in number as possible. Your own appointment will be continued until a suitable officer can be selected to relieve you.—Meanwhile, please make your recommendations to effect the changes of reduction above suggested, as soon as you can, and name an officer to act as Assistant Commissioner. I believe your local magistrates will render the duties of these army officers very light, and they will be your best assistants to protect the Government property. The superintendent of education had better be a civilian, as you suggest. As soon as the State shall be ready to assume the work of education, this office also will be relieved by State appointment.

O. O. HOWARD,
Major General, Commissioner.
"Approved: J. M. SCHOFIELD,
Secretary of War."

THE FOURTEENTH ARTICLE.

The practical operation of the amendment proposed by Congress to the Constitution as the fourteenth article, when adopted, has not been generally considered, and has, in some instances, been misapprehended. This article will soon be ratified by three-fourths of the States, and proclaimed as a part of the Constitution.

Seven of the lately excluded States will soon have accepted the article as an amendment through Africo Radical bayonet made Legislatures. It will be a part of the Constitution, provided the reconstruction acts of Congress are to stand as laws of the land.

It has been represented that the fourteenth article gave to the several States, including the Southern States, the option of extending the franchise to all persons, including the freedmen, or of limiting the suffrage to whites, as heretofore; it being provided, however, that the basis of representation in Congress shall be in accordance with the population of the voting classes.—If a State excludes any class of male inhabitants from voting, the basis of representation shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens in a State.

But Congress, by an arbitrary law, practically withdraw and annulled this option, and left hardly anything for the fourteenth article to operate upon. They enacted laws establishing universal negro suffrage in all the excluded States, and constituting negro State governments, and enabling the negro-Radical Conventions of such States to force negro suffrage upon the people of those States by Constitutions, which have since, by another act, been declared perpetual.—Thus, there remains to the Southern States no option between universal negro suffrage and a qualified suffrage.

But to the Africanized State governments there does remain the option of contracting the basis of representation by denying or abridging the right of suffrage for the white people of the State. The Constitutions of some of those States which have been or are about to be readmitted by Congress exclude large portions of the white citizens from the right of suffrage.—National Intelligencer.
