

JCC Presents Women's Views

The Adult education committee of the JCC is happy to present a new series of one-day programs for women, known as "Women's View". The first of these, entitled "Every Wise Woman Buildeth Her House" (Proverbs 14:1) will take place on Wed., Sept. 26th. This workshop comes at a time when most of the world's Jewish women are indeed focusing in on their home and family. It's holiday time! And when we think of holidays - especially Jewish ones - we think of FOOD. In the morning session, two of our very own "Jewish cooks", Janet Lefkowitz and Peggy Gartner, will prepare a variety of traditional Jewish foods, including the making of challah, which will then be served as the luncheon fare. In the afternoon, Rabbi Richard Rocklin of Temple Israel will discuss the vital role of today's Jewish woman in her home. It is hoped that this day will provide "food" for thought as well as palates and bring a renewed sense of purpose to the ever-challenging task of keeping Judaism alive within our homes. Come to this exciting program on Wed., Sept. 26th, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. $4.50/members and $6/non-members. Register now at the JCC by calling 366-0357.

The second "Women's View" will be held on Wed., Oct. 24th and is entitled "The Expandable Woman". Dr. Jonnie McLeod and Mary Williams from the Mecklenburg Mental Health Center will be the speakers. On Nov. 28th the 3rd

THIS 'N THAT

Governor Jim Hunt has appointed Steven Hockfield, attorney, to a four year term on the N.C. State Banking Commission.

Congratulations to Erica Portnoy and David Portnoy, daughter and son of Marilyn and Gilbert Portnoy. Erica was elected President of District 5 BBYO and David was elected secretary of District 5 AZA.

Congratulations to Sonni Besnoy. Sonni passed the CPA examination third in the state.

Roy Wallace, son of Marian and Sam Wallace, was named top salesman for the month of July at Wickes Furniture Co. out of eleven salespeople.

Caryn Kaplan, daughter of Fran and Ron, recently appeared on "As the World Turns".

"Women's View" will be entitled "Women in the Arts" and will feature Gladys Lavitan and Cheryl Palmer from the Mint Museum of Art. (Look for details concerning these workshops in next months Charlotte Jewish News)

"Women's View" is being co-ordinated by Eileen Pink and Lois Schneider, and enrollment is now being accepted for one or all of these programs. Babysitting will be available by reservation ($1 per child for the day). Please bring your child's lunch. JCC will provide punch. Register by calling the JCC today - 366-0357.

Successful Aquatic Program

Central Piedmont's two programs in water movement which began with the swim season at the JCC are flowing along splendidly.

Instructor, Abby Hoffman, says that she has seen body strengthening and more relaxed movement in both the Chai group and the near-to-newly retired participants. Much of the course involves learning to breathe efficiently on land and in water, and group and personal experience moving in the pool. Abby explains, "I am not concerned just with swim as a water exercise. Walking, jumping, skipping, and stroking in the pool provide unlimited benefits to the individual concerned with mind and body fitness."

The Chai group participants were recently photographed and videotaped, documenting the program as a pilot for future such aquatic classes with adults over 60.
