BHYO NEWS

Mickey Aberman

For the past few weeks the members of Mickey Aberman Chapter have been very active in community service. The Arthur Goodman Memorial Park in Matthews will have a new look as the membership is building two picnic tables and a barbecue grill.

Cerebral Palsy has moved from its former quarters at the Wachovia Center to the American Credit Building. Ten of the members were responsible for transferring all the office equipment such as furniture and filing cabinets. The Chapter will again help the C.P. Foundation at its annual telethon in January.

The chapter has been having most of its meetings at Beth Shalom. In appreciation for their kindness in permitting them to use the premises, the members built the congregation's succah.

A Halloween party in cooperation with Chaverim chapter was held for the children of Thompson Orphanage.

The treasury is $100 richer because the AIT's worked many hours sorting shoes at Simon's Formal Wear.

CHAI BBG

Chai-BBG is off to an exciting and busy start this year. Nine new members (MITs) are being taught all about BBG's structure, activities, and goals. Each has been teamed with an older member (our Big Sister - Little Sister program). Sisters can carpool to meetings, go out to lunch together, and just become better friends.

Most of our members-in-training attended MIT-AIT convention on Oct. 19-21. At this convention they got to know other BBYOers from other cities, as well as gaining a better knowledge of what BBYO is all about.

We are currently working on our newspaper, scrapbook, banner, and songs which will be entered in contests at Winter Cultural Convention this month. Our parents will be informed about BBYO at a Parent Orientation Program. Our advisor, Toby Silber, was treated to a fun-filled evening at Farrell's.

ORT 1880-1980

This year we celebrate 100 years of service of the Jewish people through ORT, the vocational and technical education program that has been a living part of the history of the Jewish people for a century — a force for change, a powerful fighter for human dignity, and a source of hope.

During the month of November we set aside one week and concentrate on ORT education. The seventh day of that week we call ORT Sabbath. What better way is there to end one century and begin a new century, of serving Jewish people, sustaining communities, transforming lives, providing security, and helping the uprooted and displaced, by worshiping together?

 Oneg Shabbat to be given by ORT

On Nov. 17th, ORT will have the drawing for $300 cash, membership to Sports Illustrated's Racquet Club and jewelry from David's. Join us at the "J" for popcorn and "Oldie but Goodie" movies. Everyone welcome.

Devorah Hadassah

President Alice Schreiber enthusiastically told Devorah Hadassah that the regional board meeting in Washington, D.C. (Oct. 3-4) was enlightened by a special event "A Day on the Hill".

On Friday evening, November 2nd, the Devorah group will honor its charter members and past-presidents at Temple Israel. The group will sponsor the Oneg Shabbat that evening. The entire community is invited to participate in bringing in the Sabbath.

Devorah welcomes the following new members: Wilma Saly, Freida Marks, Helen Solow, Sally Winokuer, Phyllis Karas, Jean Anoff, Sylvia Palis, Mickey Schiffman, Frances Jackson, Norma Pepper and Muriel Weinstein.

Singles Club (Over 35)

Many thanks to Rene Sutker for being a gracious hostess to Selma Lebold and Tesa Natelson for their extra help in setting up the Break-the Fast supper at Rene's house. The food was super delicious thanks to the good cooks and bakers in our midst.

CHARLOTTE BBW

"Welcome To Our World"

An original musical, "Welcome to Our World" will be presented by Charlotte Chapter B'nai B'rith Women at their paid up membership luncheon on Wednesday, November 7th. This presentation, written, produced and cast by members of the chapter, will give everyone a glimpse of the fulfilling world of BBW.

This program will launch Charlotte Chapters' personal giving campaign, its first annual fund raising drive. Any pledge, small or large, will be welcome. A contribution of a minimum of double Chai ($36) will be honored with an invitation to a special event to be held later in the year. All proceeds raised from the campaign will go directly to support BBW philanthropies. Among these are the Children's Home in Israel, B'nai B'rith Youth Organization, Hillel, Career and Counseling Services and the Anti-Defamation League.

Cost: paid-up members, gratis; guests $3.50. The time is 11:30 a.m. at Temple Israel's, Blumenthal Hall. Baby sitting is available upon request. For reservations: Rhoda Gleiberman (366-1732) or Loretta Bodner (525-6807). For additional information: contact Susan Bruck (847-4268) or Arlene Shapiro (365-0237).

BBW Community Calendar

The Community Calendar is here! Once again Charlotte Chapter B'nai B'rith Women has kept its tradition of having the calendar out by Rosh Hashanah. If you are in need of one and have not received it, call Arlene Shapiro at 365-0237.

CHAI

Thanks to the efforts of Ilsa Bergen who started off this season with a refreshing new program called "Finding Oneself", which comes under the topic of Human Relations. This program will run for eleven weeks.

The lecturer, Ms. Sharon Collins, is a very vigorous young lady who typifies the program. Mainly, I guess, we like to listen to her because she could be one of our granddaughters.

Ms. Collins comes well qualified. She is a graduate of UNCC, has attended UNC-G, and is currently with CPCC on the Council for Nursing and Medical Studies.

Every other Monday, after lunch, Miss Nancy Lowe will start something new, but right now, she is working out with us on arranging the programs we want.

On October 15th, Dr. Stetner spoke about the forthcoming Symphony Concerts. We will utilize our free season tickets but need some good-hearted people to volunteer to drive our group to and from these concerts. Please call Ilsa Bergen at 366-0300 if you can do this. We sure appreciate it!

Thought for the month: the words "senior citizen" are not synonymous with "senile citizen".

Who Cares??

10 little members standing in line, one preferred TV, then there were 9.

9 members planned to work quite late, one forgot her promise and then there were 8.

8 little members with good deeds of heaven, one lost her enthusiasm and then there were 7.

7 regular members got into a fix; they quarreled over a program and then there were 6.

6 little members were very much alive; one moved away and then there were 5.

5 little members wishing there were more; one became indifferent, then there were 4.

4 little members cheerful as could be; one complained of too many meetings and there were 3.

3 little members knew what to do; one joined a bridge club and then there were 2.

2 faithful members, the rhyme is nearly done; one just got discouraged and then there was 1.

ONE lone member won her neighbor true; brought her to a meeting and then there were 2.

Two earnest members, each enrolled one more: that doubled their number and then there were 4.

Four sincere members worked and couldn't wait 'til each had won another and then there were 8.

Eight enthusiastic members got 16 members more and in just six more verses the enrollment is 1,000 and 24.
