JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

From the New York Herald.

THE WEALTH OF NEW YORK CITY AND STATE.

We published in yesterday's edition of the Herald, in tabular form an official return made by the State Assessor of the Assessed valuation of real estate in the various counties of the State. In the same book returns of the equalized valuation of real estate, the valuation of personal property, and the aggregate equalized valuation of property in the several counties. This very useful and instructive exposition of the tax-bearing abilities of our people opens a wide field for retrospective and prospective contemplation. Not the least gratifying conclusion to be deduced from the facts submitted is that the equalized valuation of property in the State is $94,031,530 greater than last year, and that the valuation of property in New York city has increased $73,704,814 during the past twelve months. So far as our city and county are concerned there are also just grounds of gratulation from a comparison of the figures representing the real and personal property for New York county and that of all the other counties of the State. The term county, which is generally applicable to an extended boundary, is almost a misnomer when applied to New York, for the city proper is, in fact, the county, and the county is the Empire City.

Again, in drawing proper and just deductions from the property return referred to, and with a view of fairly estimating the value of the personal and real estate of New York, as contrasted with the returns made of the same for the other counties, consideration should be had to the figures credited to Kings county. The City of Churches, almost to an equal extent with New York, includes the county of Kings, and as Brooklyn is really but an appenage or extension of New York, the great bulk of her wealth and taxable property being drawn from, and the products of, the business and commerce of the port of New York, the returns for these two counties might be fairly classified under the head, "New York city." This would give the two cities, or counties combined, an aggregate valuation of real and personal property of $1,026,402,586, against a total for all the counties of the State of $1,260,120,770, being more than three-fifths of the assessed property of the entire State.

This official certificate of the great preponderance of the wealth and influence of our city must naturally be a matter of pride and gratulation. New York has no gold fields, as California has, no silver mines like Nevada, nor coal and iron mines like Pennsylvania, but she has an unequalled harbor, which makes her the centre of the trade and commerce of the world. In her port arrives the tens of thousands of emigrants that monthly flocks here to found new homes on the broad and fertile lands of this Continent, and who are steadily increasing the population of our city, enlarging its limits and adding to its wealth and prosperity in every material way. Room for these fresh accessions of bone and sinew is what is wanted, and this can only be attained through the aid of railroads running in every direction into the country. Homes for the working classes are also needed. Mr. A. T. Stewart is doing a good work in both these ways—in building up a town where large numbers of mechanics and artisans can find homes, and providing a rapid means of conveyance thereto. This is a large field in this direction of usefulness for our millionaires—let them follow the example set them, and thus make for themselves names that will endure as long as the city stands.

AGES OF ANIMALS.

The average life of cats is fifteen years; of squirrels and hares, seven or eight years; of rabbits, seven; a bear rarely exceeds twenty years; a wolf, twenty; a fox, four to sixteen; lions are long lived—the one known by the name of Pompey lived to the age of seventy; elephants have been known, it is asserted, to live to the great age of four hundred years. When Alexander the Great had conquered Porus, King of India, he took a great elephant which had fought very valiantly for the king and named him Ajax, dedicated him to the sun, and let him go with this inscription: "Alexander, the son of Jupiter, dedicated Ajax to the sun." The elephant was found with this inscription three hundred and fifty years after. Pigs have been known to live to the age of twenty, and the rhinoceros to twenty; a horse has been known to live to the age of sixty two, but averages twenty-five to thirty; camels sometimes live to the age of one hundred; stags are very long lived; sheep seldom exceed the age of ten; cows live eight or ten years. Cuvier considers it probable that whales sometimes live one thousand years; the dolphin and porpoise attain the age of thirty; an eagle died at Vienna at the age of one hundred; ravens frequently reach the age of one hundred; swans have been known to live three hundred years. Mr. Malerton has the skeleton of a swan that attained the age of two hundred years. Pelicans are long lived; a tortoise has been known to live one hundred and seven years.—Southern Farmer.

THE WAIST OF THE PERIOD.—Our old friend tight-lacing has again made his appearance. Beaten back for a time, probably more by fashion than by the spread of knowledge, he has not been killed, but has only recoiled apparently for a better spring, for his victims are as numerous and pitiable as ever. The folly is one which was formerly to be found mainly in the drawing-room, but now it also is the streets. It is lamentable to observe at every turn a woman, young or old, who moves forward in a stooping position, unable even to hold herself upright in consequence of the pressure upon the muscles of the thorax. If the evils of tight lacing were confined to the distorted appearance which it never fails to produce, we might regret indeed to see the female form divine so distorted, but it would scarcely be in our province to comment upon it. But, as medical practitioners, we see its effects every day in the train of nervous and dyspeptic symptoms by which it is constantly indicated, and in the still more grave and internal mischief of permanent character which it often causes by it. Until some little physiological knowledge is made a part of female education, and is considered an "accomplishment," we suppose it is of little use to protest against the cruel injury to health which women thus inflict upon themselves. The matter is one which is "worse than crime—it is folly," for beauty is destroyed by the process which is intended to increase it.—London Lancet.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,
LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,
AND THE NEW
UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER,
Improved with Rowell's Patent Double Cogwheels, and the Patent Stop, are now undoubtedly far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. H. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $7, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done both more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.
