COTTON GOODS IN ENGLAND.—The Manchester correspondent of the Providence Journal says:

For the week ending 23d ult., I cannot report much business, as large classes of buyers, such as the India and China merchants, as well as to some extent the home trade houses, refuse to pay the advance; and although willing enough to operate at last week's prices, they refuse to go beyond them. This is particularly the case as regards goods; and as manufacturers are compelled to pay more for yarn, they adhere very firmly to their advanced quotations, so that little business has resulted in this department. In yarns, I must report more activity, and a considerable business has been done in them, chiefly for export, at an advance of about 1d. per pound, which is barely equivalent to the rise in the raw material. The German and the Greek merchants have been the principal operators, and have done a large business in yarn, and even in certain classes of cloth for the Levant and the Mediterranean markets, the transactions have been considerable. On the whole, however, our market is by no means animated, and the almost total absence of all demand from the various American markets in itself leaves a void not easily supplied.

THE CUBAN SLAVE TRADE.—The following is from the Havana correspondent of the New York Times, under date of the 9th instant:

Last week, about 2,000 negroes were landed on the north coast, between Havana and Bahia Honda. Two of the vessels were American and one Spanish. The former Wintermoyeh, of New York, landed 450. One of the vessels, a Spanish corvette, which landed 900 was found adrift and brought into this port by a Spanish cruiser. The cargoes belong to Messrs. Pedro Lacoste, and others of Guines known, but as they form a part of Concha's kitchen Cabinet, it is unreasonable to suppose that any of the negroes will be seized by the authorities, unless the English Abolitionist papers open fires again on the boastful and sprightly Marquis of Havana. I am personally acquainted with a gentleman of this city who purchased one hundred at Bahia Honda, and who brought them to his country seat near Havana for speculation. This cannot be done without the knowledge of the authorities, let them say what they please in defence of their conduct. If a man cannot ride his own horse in this country without taking out a separate passport for him, it is still more difficult to lead a hundred wild negroes over the roads without detection by the country police.

NEW YORK, May 23.

JOHN BULL AND A YANKEE CAPTAIN.—The bark John Howe reports that an attempt was made in the harbor of Sagua to impress Captain Bartlett, of the ship Charles, bound to New York with sugar, to give up his papers and hoist his ensign, by the officers of the British steamer Buzzard.—Capt. Bartlett refused, and the steamer fired several blank cartridges to intimidate him, and then the commander, with 100 men, proceeded to the Clarendon. Capt. B. refused to let any come on board but the officers, who, after an exciting scene, left without accomplishing their purpose. During the affair Capt Bartlett was struck, but the officer denied that it was intentional.

GOOD FOR MR. CLINGMAN.—When Senator Andrew Johnson's Homestead bill was before the Senate on Wednesday last, Mr. Clingman moved to amend it, by providing that instead of giving 160 acres of land to every man that will go and settle on the public lands, (thus tempting people from North Carolina and other old States to emigrate to the new States,) there shall be given to every man 160 acres, whether he gives a way to settle on the lands or remains at home. Mr. C said he was not in favor of the bill, but if the lands were to be given away that, he was for a fair and equal division.

Very right, Mr. Clingman. And the principle will apply as well to the whole system of giving away the lands, to individuals, or to States, or railroad companies.—Pay. Obs.

SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONVENTION.—This body adjourned sine die on Friday last. The slave trade resolutions of Mr Pratt were disposed of by a resolution to lay on the table and print. A resolution condematory of the acts of Capt. Davis and Com. Paulding in Central America, and declaring the interests of the South in the preservation of that country paramount to all other interests, was adopted. A resolution declaring it "inexpedient for any State to re-open the African slave trade while it is in the Union," and an amendment declaring that "just as soon as we are out of the Union, it will be expedient and advisable to re-open the slave trade," were laid on the table—ayes 71, nays 3. A resolution calling a convention to take into consideration the duty of the South, under existing circumstances, was lost—ayes 28½, nays 31½—Florida being divided. After the usual vote of thanks, the Convention adjourned to meet the second Monday in May next, at Vicksburg, Miss.

IMPORTANT INVENTION.—Thomas Musgrove, of Northampton, has invented a machine for removing burrs and dirt from wool, which promises to accomplish the same results with that staple that the gin has with cotton. The machine is very simple, and is in the form of an attachment to the ordinary carding machine. It adds only $15 to $17 extra expense to the carder. The thorough mode of its action may be illustrated by the fact, that Mexican wool was passed through, and in a few moments freed from thirty per cent. weight of burrs without any apparent injury to the fibre, adding 15 cents per lb. to the value of the wool.

A SCENE IN THE SENATE.—The Senate was a little startled, the other day, out of its dullness and dignity by an accident.—A reporter carelessly threw his overcoat over the rear railing, which shuts off the reporters from the Senate below. It chanced that in the pocket of said overcoat there was a stout Bowie knife, which was, by the impulse given to the coat, thrown with some violence below, striking the blade into Senator Hammond's seat, which was at that moment unoccupied. For a moment, the Senators were startled out of their propriety, and the sergeants at-arms went up to the gallery and arrested the proprietor of the coat, but when explanations were made, he was released.

SIXTY DOLLARS PER HUNDRED.—A lot of tobacco was sold at Milton, N. C., last week, for $60 per hundred.

A SINGULAR ADVENTURE.—Last evening, Dr. Vinton preached an eloquent discourse to the young men of this city in St. Paul's. The church was well filled by an attentive audience of young gentlemen; a few ladies also graced the occasion with their presence. The discourse was particularly addressed to young men, and the temptations to which youth are exposed were forcibly set forth.

Many of the young men lingered upon the broad steps, as the long congregation, with thoughtful minds and softened hearts, left the stately edifice.

Among the congregation was a young woman of some twenty years, who was fashionably costumed, in half mourning. As she passed out of the gate into the broad street in front of the church, she (accidentally) dropped a glove, and appeared to be weeping. A white handkerchief was held to her eyes, as she gracefully passed along. A young man, who had heard the discourse of Dr Vinton, was standing near the gate when the glove was dropped, and the article which, in former times, was a challenge to brave deeds, fell directly upon his patent leathers.

The young man at once secured the glove and hastened to restore it to its owner.—The glove was received, and a kind word of thanks given in return. A glistening tear lingered in the black eye of the recipient, and she said she was so overcome by the discourse of the speaker, that she scarcely knew what she did. Her tears then flowed more bountifully than ever. The young man, who had also been sensibly affected by the same discourse, deeply sympathized with the beautiful stranger. He spoke kindly to her, and she took his arm. The parties walked around our beautiful Common by the mellow light of the young moon, and ere they had reached the front of the State House, the young woman had dried her weeping tears, and the young man found himself the companion of a fascinating young woman with a Grecian face, a sparkling black eye, and hair which more than resulted the wing of the raven in glossy blackness.

The parties then passed down Park street mall, and lingering for a few minutes for rest, took a seat on one of the benches, near the corner of Park st. The striking of the clock marked the hour of ten. This reminded them that they must leave for their homes. The young man says that he escorted her to the residence of a well known citizen, not far from Pemberton Square, where he left her, as he supposed, ringing the door bell. When he reached his rooms he found that his portmonnaie was missing. It contained $24 in bank bills, and three one dollar gold pieces.

This morning the victimized young man called at the house where he left his tearful friend, but it is scarcely necessary to add that no such person as his acquaintance of the evening previous was to be found. He is of an opinion that his pocket was penetrated by the gloveless hand of his fair acquaintance while they were seated on Park street mall, although he stoutly avers that they sat at that respectful distance from each other which seemed proper for their new and singular relation to each other.—He also says that the sermon and the adventure will be lessons for life to him.—Boston Ledger.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A sure cure for DYSPEPSIA

The history of this remarkable medicine, and its astonishing success in obstinate cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

The Oxygenated Bitters contain nothing which can intoxicate; as the medicine has no analogy whatever to the various alcoholic mixtures designed as "Bitters," being purely a medicinal compound, in which are combined the most valuable vegetable agents, and a peculiar oxygenated property, hitherto unknown, but highly efficacious in all complaints arising from weakness and derangement, or prostration of the stomach generally. It is a mild indigestible tonic, removing all disagreeable symptoms, and assisting nature in her efforts to restore the impaired powers of the system.

SETH W. FOWLE & Co., 138 Washington Street, Boston, Proprietors. Sold by their agents everywhere, and H. M. Pritchard, Charlotte.

DR. HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS have proved such a certain cure for all diseases of the Stomach, that no one can for a moment question its efficacy in the most alarming cases. For many years we have watched its steady progress in public estimation, and the beneficial effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach, of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain effectual remedy. Its great celebrity is the above proposition after years of careful study and sifting, and is now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which is so richly merits. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

Sold by Druggists every where, and by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Sole Proprietors, 58 Water and 56 Front Streets, Pittsburgh, and by H. M. Pritchard, Charlotte, N. C.

HORRIBLE SCENE IN SONORO.—The Yaqui Indians are at war with the people of Sonora, Lower California. These Indians entered Santa Cruz de Mayo and killed every man there was in it, got all the women and children together, shut them up in the church and set fire to it, and then burned the rest of the town. At a battle fought on a plain called El Sancito, between Gov. Pesquiera and Don Jesus Gandara, the latter was totally defeated, and himself killed in the action, and also three of his principal officers taken prisoners and shot on the following day. This occurred on the 23d of February last. The troops are now at the river Yaqui, and have intentions of killing men, women and children, and stealing all the cattle they can lay their hands on.

PERILOUS FEAT.—At Montreal, on Thursday evening last, a tight-rope dancer, named Antoine Delare, walked the length of a rope stretched from the third stories of two buildings, across Great St. James street and returned, in the presence of thousands of spectators. After crossing for the first time, he appeared somewhat exhausted, but prepared to recross. When about two yards over the rope, he grew slightly agitated, and was about to make a false step; the crowd below were alarmed for his safety, but he preserved his balance with one foot, and instantly recovering, threw himself upon the rope where he remained stretched for a few minutes. With great agility he soon regained his upright position; but instead of going forward he retreated slowly backwards, and leaned against the wall. He then advanced, and without making a false step, reached the opposite window, amid the warmest plaudits of the crowd.
