Esther Page Hill Is Recipient Of NAEA Award Of Excellence

Esther Page Hill, associate professor of visual arts at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, is the recipient of the National Art Education Association (NAEA) Student Chapter Sponsor Award of Excellence for 1985. The plaque was presented at the annual NAEA convention in Dallas during the awards session April 22.

The UNCC student chapter of the NAEA nominated professor Hill, their faculty advisor, in December 1984. The nomination was supported by a book depicting the activities of the chapter over a 10-year period since being chartered in 1974. Dr. Marilyn Newby, chairman of the NAEA Student Chapter Sponsor Award, stated in the award letter that the "book of credentials and information about your many significant activities of the past 10 years is eloquent testimony to the excellence of leadership you have provided for our future art teachers."

Five student members of the NAEA attended the Dallas convention and participated in a presentation on Saturday, April 20, entitled "Cross-Cultural Arts-Cross-Cultural Arts-Mainstream Teachers." Students attending were: Pamela Davis of Smyrna, president; Johnnie Jones of Charlotte, vice president; Jacqueline Johnson of Charlotte, secretary; Tony Howard of Davidson, publicity-historain; and Denise Humphries of Charlotte, coordinator of special projects.

Learn To Swim

The Greater Carolinas Chapter of the American Red Cross has teamed up with the Charlotte Parks and Recreation Department, Hornet's Nest Girl Scout Council and Boy Scouts to offer a free "Learn To Swim" program for children this summer.

"Learn To Swim" will be offered in June and July. The first two-week beginner swimming sessions run from June 17-28, from 10 a.m. - 10:45 a.m. or from 11 a.m. - 11:45 a.m. The second session takes place July 8-19 during the same hours. The locations include: Revolution Pool, Double Oaks Pool, and Cordelia Pool.

The "Learn To Swim" program is geared toward teaching large groups of children. It's an assembly line method of teaching. Students must successfully complete a series of stations in order to pass the course.

There are no swimming skill requirements for entrance into the course. To ensure students' safety, participants must be at least eight years of age and at least 54 inches tall. And, students should be registered by parents or guardians through recreation centers or at one of the pool sites.

Instructors for the course will include: Charlotte Parks and Recreation staff who are certified Red Cross water safety instructors (WSIs), Red Cross volunteers, and trained water safety aides from the Girl Scouts and the Boy Scouts.

"This is the first time we have sponsored a beginner swimming program of this magnitude," says Janne Mandrell, assistant director of Health Education for Red Cross. "We hope to teach hundreds of children through this 'Learn To Swim' program."

Paw Creek Academy

Paw Creek Christian Academy has kicked off its 1985-86 Student Enrollment Drive. This is a month-long drive that concludes with Academy weekend on May 3, 5 and 6.

This provides an alternative to families that wish to do something extra for their children by allowing them to attend a school that believes in getting to the basics in Christian and educational life. Emphasis is placed on a proper relationship between man and God. However, an excellent academic program is maintained.

PCCA develops the qualities and character of each student to make him an "educated Christian" and an asset to himself and his community.

This is PCCA's 11th year as a private, Christian school; and an Enrollment Drive Committee has been formed to direct the enrollment program with the aim of filling all vacancies. Aaron Hicks, Registration Chairman, says that the school is experiencing some exciting policies and amazing interest in its academic program.
