HEROISM OF A YOUNG LADY.

The Boston Courier, speaking of the burning steamer John Jay, on Lake Champlain, says:

"The nobility of Miss Kate Gurney conduct during the excitement and the struggle for life on board the John Jay, rises to the dignity and sublimity of poetry. She was travelling under the protection of her friend and neighbor, Mr. Pritchard; and when danger was imminent, she turned to him, 'Sir, take care of Mrs. Pritchard; I can swim.' Thus saying, she tripped forward, with a mind composed and a determination fixed, and passed over the side of the burning vessel. The distance from the shore was then over a mile; but she—relying upon her own strength and courage, and being unwilling to embarrass others who might have dearer charges—undertook to save herself. She swam a mile, and became exhausted. A good boatman, observing that she failed, pushed to her relief and succeeded in reaching her in time. He took her into his skiff and landed her safely. She, in a transport of joy, and true to that nature, which is always grand, rewarded him with a gift more precious to his manly heart than gold."

MURDER FROM SUPERSTITION.

At Tarn, France, two little boys saw a man approaching the mother of one of them, who was watching her cows, and kill her with a hatchet; they gave information, the man was arrested, and confessed the deed. He himself said it was not, as some supposed, that he had conceived a passion for her, and that she had repulsed his advances, not that, as others imagined, it was vengeance on her for having refused the hand of her daughter; but it was that "she cast a spell over him, and would not relieve him from it." It turned out on inquiry that the man had really labored under the delusion that he was bewitched by the woman, had consulted a physician as to what he could do to relieve himself "from the domination of the evil spirit;" had begged the cure of the parish to exorcise him, and had actually taken to the cure of a bottle of sedlitz water to bless, in the belief that it would drive the demon away. In presence of these facts the advocate for the prisoner insisted that he ought to be acquitted as a man an act, but the jury declared him guilty under existing circumstances, and the court sentenced him to hard labor for life.

A Myriad of Flies.—The Dove, during her trip down Kentucky river last week, when near Marion, Kentucky, was invaded by clouds of flies, which literally covered the boat all over. They are the species known as the lake fly, with their bodies and wings about an inch in length. They covered the boiler deck to the depth of a foot or more. The cabin was filled, and they had to be swept to the guard and then shoveled overboard.

PROSPECTUS OF THE Lincolnton Dispatch.

As the county of Lincoln will at an early day be in the enjoyment of Rail Road facilities connecting her citizens with the rest of mankind, it is manifest to all, that a Public Journal should be established in her midst, affording a medium of communication to her citizens at home, and conveying to, and from them whatever may be desirable and interesting to be known.

The undersigned therefore propose publishing in the town of Lincolnton, a weekly newspaper under the title of the LINCOLNTON DISPATCH.

This paper will be devoted to imparting information of every kind. Its chief aim will be to promote the cause of Internal Improvement in the largest sense—to foster and encourage all the Industrial arts—to awaken a new spirit in Agriculture, and to afford reliable answers to the Farmers' inquiries that will and must seem be made as to what is the best path to success. It is proposed to elicit discussions on all important subjects as the surest way of establishing truth. This Journal will gather from every point, and present weekly a condensed statement of the news of every kind, so as to be acknowledged as a pleasant and useful companion to every family which it may chance to greet.

Whilst politics will be only a secondary matter, yet they will receive such attention as they deserve, and as Editors, reared in the Old Whig School of Clay and Webster, and believing in the conservative principles of the American Party, they shall editorially advocate their own principles, yet they will not refuse to others of different politics a place for promulgating their sentiments.

It is believed that a paper conducted as this is proposed to be, will be well appreciated, and supported by an active, industrious and inquiring community.

These proposals are issued with the view of ascertaining what support we may expect. If not enough is received, to justify our embarking in the enterprise, then this prospectus closes our labors. Should we however receive the encouragement we expect, then the LINCOLNTON DISPATCH, will be issued at the earliest day practicable.

OUR TERMS of subscription is $2 00 per annum in advance; $2.50 if payment be delayed six months, and $3.00 if not paid until the expiration of the year.

Subscription money not required until the first number has been issued and received. Address, Fink & Krimminger, Lincolnton, N. C.

Sale of the Factory and other Property

BELONGING TO THE ISLAND FORD

MANUFACTURING COMPANY!

BY virtue of a deed of trust made by the Island Ford Manufacturing Company, I shall sell at auction, at said Factory, on the 21st day of August next, all the real and personal property belonging to said Company, including the Factory and Machinery. The personal property will be sold on a credit of six months, the real estate on 3, 6, 9 and 12 months, purchasers giving bond and approved securities.

The buildings are comparatively new and commodious. There are in the Factory about 1100 spindles, 20 looms, and all necessary machinery, all in fine order. On the premises are a large and well-constructed Store House, four excellent houses for operatives, and sundry other buildings. There is a good dam and excellent water power. In short all the advantages necessary to spin and weave cotton to advantage.

I will afford full opportunity to any one who may wish it, to examine the property before the sale.

VALUABLE TOWN LOT FOR SALE.

By virtue of a Deed of Trust to me executed by Dr. William L. McRee, dec'd., during his life time, I shall, on Monday of the County Court for Burke County, being the 18th August next, at the door of the Court-House in Morganton, expose to Public Sale to the highest bidder, A VALUABLE LOT IN THE TOWN OF MORGANTON, one square west of the Court-House, fronting on Main and College streets, where Dr. McRee resided, containing four or more acres, on which there is a very nearly completed, with four large rooms below stairs and four above, with a wide passage above and below, and cost about three thousand dollars. Adjoining the main building there is a fine one-story Brick Building, with two rooms and a piazza in front, with all the necessary out houses and stables in good repair. Immediately on the corner of Main street, is a fine one-story Brick Building, rough-cast, and covered with tin, with a large and convenient Store Room, well fitted up, and two other suitable rooms attached.

A yard tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers, and a fine garden.

Its situation being central and convenient, any person desirous of purchasing a beautiful, healthy, and desirable residence, would do well to attend the sale. The Western Rail Road will be here in less than three years, and property will double in value. Should this opportunity to secure a summer or a permanent residence, unsurpassed by this or any other town in North Carolina, be lost, there is no probability of acquiring, within the corporate limits of the town, a residence so desirable. Terms cash.

E. J. ERWIN, Trustee.

ALSO,

At the same time and place, as Executor of of W. L. McRee, I will sell eleven Likely Negroes.—Terms of this sale made known at that time.
