NEW OFFICES

Leland Lewis, son of former Mayor F. L. Lewis, has recently erected a large new building for offices, storeroom and workshop for the Toledo Scale Company which he represents. The building is near the ship basin on the Brunswick river.

WAREHOUSE

The Columbus Trading Company of Whiteville has started work on a new brick and wood frame warehouse on property recently purchased in the Industrial Development area of Shallotte. The company has a lot 50 feet wide and it is said the building will occupy about all of this lot.

ON PROSPECT

According to reports from Shallotte the prospects for a brightly lighted Christmas in the growing town are dimmer than they were last Christmas. Until the new transmission lines are in place providing additional current and with increased avenues to be started up during the year there does not seem to be enough power available for street lighting, E. D. Bishop reported as saying.
