Cotton Thinning Need Eliminated

finding the potential germin- of his cotton seed and treat- he seed before planting, the r can now select a planting which will make thinning essary. S. C. Lehman of the Carolina Agricultural Ex- ent Station, reports these ngs upon the completion of at the Upper Coastal Plains h Station near Rocky nt.

a preliminary greenhouseination test, 68 per cent of untreated seed emerged, but 17 per cent were disease In the same test, 74 per cent ed treated with Dow 9B ged, and all emerged plants disease free.

field tests, the seeds were ed with Dow 9B, counted, dropped by hand in rows with hills 12 inches apart. Three ing rates—four, six and eight per hill—were used in two- plots. One row of cash plot thinned to three plants per No thinning was done on the row.

picking time there was no ence in the average number ls on unthinned and thinned seeded at the same rate. ws where four, six and eight per hill had been planted, verage of 11, 6 and 2 per of the hills were missing. missing hills were well-dis- ed, and resulted in very if any, reduction in yield.
