Impressions of A M.I.T.

As a Member-in-Training (MIT) of B'nai B'rith girls (BBG) I attend my first activity in BBYO the weekend of August 28-30 in Kings Mountain.

Approximately 60 old and potential new members boarded a bus at the JCC for a 45 minute drive to Kings Mountain. When we got there we had "icebreakers" which were a barrel of fun.

"Entebbe" was the program for the first night. This historic happening occurred not so long ago and the presentation made us think about how such a situation could have happened and hopefully will not happen again.

Saturday it was time for leadership training. We got to learn about who we are and who people are. Then it was off to an anti-semitism program which scared me half to death. The "KKK" gave us a surprise visit (Michael Newman, Phil Saunders and Gary Lerner). You have never seen anybody as scared as all the MITs and AITs (Aleph-in-Training) were. We prayed that they will never find us. Boy were we glad that it was just our own AZA group as the KKK.

Saturday night, the closing of the weekend, we participated in the Twig Ceremony. Boy — you have never seen everyone cry at once. The crying, of course, was because we're all so sentimental.

The food was great and, I was told, it was exceptional this weekend. I am looking forward to this year not only to be with my friends but to meet new ones and to be an active member of Chaverim BBG.

Thanks go to Sherry Rosen and Gary Lerner for putting together the whole weekend and to all of the advisors: Tobey and Alan Silber, Maddy Stein, Hoel Montezinos, Jaffa, and Regional Director, Phil Saunders, for making Kings Mountain a very successful weekend.

HaLailah Chapter BBW

Judaism Institute & Minority Child Workshop

This is the fifth year of Ha Lailah Chapter's Judaism Institute and the fourth year of the Minority Child Workshop. The workshop, offered to teachers for recertification credit, is a four session program designed to inform the teacher of ways of dealing with the diversity of minority students now found in Charlotte schools with an emphasis on the Jewish child. The workshop begins October 29 at the Staff Development center and continues for four consecutive Thursdays.

The session held on November 12 is at Temple Israel and is the Judaism Institute which is also open to local ministers and Sunday school teachers, and all Charlotte-Mecklenburg teachers who have not participated in the Minority Child Workshop. The Minority Child Workshop is led by members of Ha Lailah and community leaders.

Through participation in the Judaism Institute and Minority Child Workshop, teachers become more aware of the different influences a Jewish child faces at home. It is hoped that one situation to be alleviated is a child not being excused from school for Rosh Hashonah and other major religious holidays.

Your children's teachers should be encouraged to participate in this Judaism Institute and Minority Child Workshop. For more information contact Shelly Bregman at 364-1333.

Raffle

For the fourth year Ha Lailah will raffle a free year's membership to the JCC. You will receive a letter explaining the raffle which will be followed by calls made on October 18 and October 28.

Raffle tickets are $1 each; a book of 12 is $10. The drawing will be at Ha Lailah's December general meeting.

Proceeds from the raffle help support BBW projects such as the Children's Home in Isarel, Hillel, BBYO, ADL and other community and national service projects. We hope you will support us and buy raffles when you are called.

General Meeting

The next general meeting will focus on Child Abuse. It will be on October 15 at Lee Blumenthal's home. Michael Corey, Executive Director of the Family Support Center, Inc., is the featured speaker.

Special Projects

On October 30, Ha Lailah will give its second annual Halloween party for the children and adults at St. Marks, a school for the profoundly retarded. The parents and staff as well as the children look forward to this special treat each year.

The chapter has a new and exciting project for the entire community — "Grow Chart". This chart will be distributed to all new mothers at local hospitals. In addition to being a lovely three foot grow chart, information such as emergency telephone numbers, shot records, doctor visits and phone numbers of local agencies involved in health care are on the charts. A sponsor is being sought to help defray the printing costs. The local hospitals are very excited about the charts and are anxious for their distribution. If you are interested in sponsoring this worthwhile project, call Sue Brodsky at 364-5609.

Other News

Elayne Clift, new Mid-Atlantic Regional Director BBW, will be visiting Charlotte the first week in October. We are looking forward to meeting with her and sharing ideas on upcoming BBW projects.

The chapter, primarily a community service organization, holds monthly evening meetings. It strives to meet needs and interest reflected in the diverse membership by offering interesting programs and participation in worthwhile community projects. If you are interested in becoming involved in Ha Lailah BBW, contact Susan Sachs (364-1922) or Cookie Pollack (332-3859).
