Germs Peel Right Off With "Gets-It"

2 Drops, and the Corn is a "Goner!"

When you've got to walk on the sides of your shoe to get away from those awful corn-pains, there's only one common-sense thing to do.

Then "Gets-It" Your Corns Won't Bother Us Much Longer, Sweet Marie, Loosen and Peel Off!

Put 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on the corn right away. Pain and inflammation will disappear, the corn will begin to shrivel from that instant—then it loosens and falls right off.

There's no other corn-remover in the world that acts like "Gets-It." No new discovery has been made in corn-removers since "Gets-It" was born. Don't forget that fact. "Gets-It" does away forever with the use of salves that irritate, bandages that make a bundle of your toe, plasters that half do the work, knives and razors that draw blood. Use "Gets-It"—no more digging or cutting.

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere. One a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Goldsboro and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Goldsboro Drug Co., and M. E. Robinson & Bro.

MOBILIZE NAVY; RECRUIT ARMY

Quick Work After President Signs War Declaration.

ALL GERMAN SHIPS SEIZED

Call For Volunteers to Be Followed by Conscription Until Force of 2,000,000 Is Raised—House Vote For War Resolution 373 to 50 After Seventeen Hours of Continuous Debate — Woman Member Votes "No."

President Wilson has signed the joint resolution of congress, and a state of war now exists between the United States and the Imperial German government. This nation is now upon a war basis.

The Atlantic fleet was immediately informed by wireless, as were all neutral governments and those of the entente allies. The Swiss minister wired the news to Berlin through his government.

Mobilization of the United States naval reserve and the naval militia was at once ordered.

The house voted for war, 373 to 50 after a seventeen hour debate, the dramatic feature of which was the abandonment of the president and his party by Representative Claude Kitchin of North Carolina, the Democratic house leader. He voted against the joint resolution.

Miss Jeannette Rankin of Montana first woman member of the house, also voted no, then collapsed.

War plans are swinging along with celerity and smoothness. The United States struck the first blow to seizing ninety-five German passenger and merchant ships in its ports, even to the Philippines and other island possessions. They represent a gross tonnage of slightly more than 600,000 and their value is placed at $120,540,000.

War department plans, approved by the president, call for the immediate raising of an army of 500,000 men composed of the regular troops, national guard and volunteers. The remaining 1,500,000 will, when needed be raised by selective conscription of men from nineteen to twenty-five years

Pacifist Battle Against War.

The pacifist fight in the house began mildly, but it grew steadily as the long debate dragged through the day and into the evening. The pacifists gained during the day, however, and it became apparent that the vote would probably show between seventy-five and fifty against the measure. Majority Leader Kitchin lent strength to the pacifists in a dramatic speech.

"Prayerfully impressed with the gravities of this situation and appreciating the penalties that war will impose, my conscience and judgment have shown the path of duty, and I must tread it if I have to tread it alone," he said. "I have prayed for guidance. I have reached the conclusion that I must vote against the resolution."

Deserted His Party.

A sigh that was almost a sob swept the big chamber as members in the floor and crowded galleries realized that the leader of the administration party on the floor was deserting his party and his party's president. A battle of applause from the pacifists broke the sombre silence.

"I shall not only be criticised for this course," said the Democratic leader, "I shall be denounced from one end of the country to the other by a yelping pack of critics. I cannot leave my children land and riches, I cannot leave them fame, but I can leave them the name of an ancestor who has tried to do his duty and who on this day did his duty as God gave him to see. I shall always believe that we could have and we ought to have kept this great Christian nation out of war. Every obligation of justice, every obligation of right combines to forbid my consent."

Representative Miller, Republican, of Minnesota changed the spirit of the house when he produced what he declared was a suppressed paragraph from the text of the intercepted Japanese-Mexican-German alliance note. It read:

"Agreeably to the Mexican government, submarine bases will be established at Mexican ports, from which will be supplied ammunition and supplies. All reservists in the United States are ordered into Mexico. Arrange to attack all along border."

Secretary of State Lansing denied flatly that the Miller paragraph was a part of the Zimmermann note.

The administration fight was led by Representative Flood of Virginia and Representative Harrison of Mississippi. Mr. Flood said the war was forced on the United States by the imperial government and asserted that every move that patience might dictate had been made by this country. Representative Harrison reiterated President Wilson's declaration that no war against the German people is proposed.

Across Great Britain.

Representative Cooper of Wisconsin ranking Republican of the foreign affairs committee, led the pacifist fight. He asserted Great Britain had been permitted to change the rules of international law, but that we now proposed to fight to prevent Germany from changing them. Representative Britten of Illinois and other pacifists took the same view and argued that Great Britain and not Germany was the real cause of the difficulties surrounding American commerce.

Ex-Speaker Cannon upheld the resolution in a ringing speech.

"One-quarter of me is German," he said, "but the other three-quarters are respectively English, French and Irish and I can wonder what my forbears looking down upon my action now, are thinking. But the mixture, I know and you know, has been welded, and the heart that prompts this utterance and dictates this vote for war is American."

A brilliant argument against America entering the war was delivered by Representative Keating of Colorado. He said the election of 1916 was won for Woodrow Wilson on the grounds that he had kept us out of war.

"If the men who voted for him on that kind of a platform had known that he would permit the entry of this nation into this European hell," shouted Keating, "he could not have carried a state in this Union."

Representative Heflin of Alabama made a violent attack upon Majority Leader Kitchin.

"I say to you, Mr. Speaker," roared Heflin, "that had I contemplated such action as that committed by the gentleman from North Carolina I would have made out my resignation as leader first, then made the speech and then resigned from congress."

Almost Come to Blows.

An exciting episode marked the speech of Mr. Burnett, Democrat, of Alabama, against the resolution. He declared he could not stultify his conscience by voting to send the young manhood of America into the trenches of Europe. Representative Heflin interrupted the speaker.

Shaking his finger at Heflin, Burnett challenged him in the event of the passage of the resolution to resign and go home to enlist with the Alabama troops.

"My sister has a boy just back from the border," retorted Heflin, "my nephew will go into this war"—

"Oh, it's easy enough to fight through somebody else," interrupted Burnett, while the two men, their faces aflame, started toward each other.

For a moment the house sat aghast waiting for an actual physical clash between the Alabamans. But the sergeant at arms interposed the mace and led Mr. Burnett to his seat.

Representative Chandler, Republican, of New York made a brilliant speech in support of the resolution. He said in part:

"The United States has borne for long the attacks of the German imperial government. Many people have come to believe that we have ceased to be a nation of spirit and bravery. But I tell here that once this declaration is enacted into law you will find that neither courage nor the martial spirit of Americans are dead. They have simply been dormant."

Representative J. Fred Talbot of Maryland, the father of the house Democracy and the senior member in point of continuous service, made a rousing war speech that brought the floor and galleries to their feet.

"The accusation of the timid people that there has been a lack of preparation for this war is incorrect," said Representative Talbot. "We are better prepared than the world knows, and there's a mighty good reason why the world should not know how well prepared we are. War is all that General Sherman said it was, and he helped to make it so. You ask, 'What is this nation going to do but fight?'"

U. S. SEIZES PASTOR.

German Minister at Hoboken Arrested by Federal Marshals.

The Rev. Hermann Bruckner, pastor of St. Matthew's German Lutheran church and head of the Seamen's home for German sailors in Hoboken, was arrested by deputy United States marshals. The arrest was made just prior to Good Friday services in the edifice.

While a congregation of 800 waited for the pastor to appear at the services the marshals placed him under arrest. They refused to state the charges.

Since the beginning of the war Bruckner has been one of the leaders of the German movement in this country. He was one of the several Germans who made affidavits that the steamship Louisiana carried guns on the voyage that resulted in her sinking without warning by a German submarine off the Irish coast.

COAL STRIKE THREAT.

Forty-five Thousand Bituminous Miners Demand More Pay by April 16.

A strike of 45,000 bituminous coal miners in the central Pennsylvania field will be called for April 16 unless the operators' association reverses its decision to await the result of the Indianapolis conference.

This announcement was made at Dubois, Pa., by 200 delegates attending the special convention of union miners. The delegates insist that the operators agree to a joint conference with a committee of miners before April 16.

SEVEN WORD ADVICE TO ENEMY ALIENS.

In seven short words, an aggregate of twenty-seven letters, Attorney General Gregory epitomizes the safest rules of behavior for enemy aliens here. In a message to all United States marshals and federal attorneys in the country he said:

"No German alien enemy in this country who has not hitherto been implicated in plots against the interests of the United States need have any fear of action by the department of justice so long as he observes the following warning:

"Obey the law. Keep your mouth shut."

GIGANTIC BATTLE RAGING IN FRANCE

Both Sides Preparing For a Titanic Struggle.

The most terrific battle ever waged in the world is continuing over the German lines in France.

On the ground there were sharp battles—mere skirmishes perhaps—feelers for the titanic struggle which military experts believe must begin within a few days along the Hindenburg line. The German artillery fire continued very heavy at many points, indicating continued and thorough preparation by the victor of the Masurian swamps to attempt to strike a fatal blow at the allied troops before they have opportunity to dig themselves in on the open ground which they took as the Germans fell back.

The British war office reported that the aerial squadrons had made several successful raids, dropping large quantities of bombs on airdromes, transports and ammunition stations. One battery in action was hit by bombs from aeroplanes. Three hangars were destroyed by one party of aviators.

The British troops advanced along the Bapaume-Cambrai road over a front 3,000 yards wide, says the official statement. The battle raged north of the village of Louveral.

The French penetrated the German lines in Belgium at two points near Lombartzyde, says the Paris report. Many German dead were found in a trench blown up by French fire.

Grenades were used to repel an attack by Germans against Vauchendelle earlier.

The French also repulsed a surprise attack by the Germans in the Vosges.

An attempt by the French to gain ground near Laffaux was broken down by German fire "with heavy losses," says the official report from Berlin.

British aeroplanes sunk a German destroyer and crippled a second boat of the same class off Zeebrugge, the British admiralty announced. Seaplanes also dropped many bombs on ammunition depots at Ghent and Bruges.

SOCIALISTS ATTACK U. S.

Urge Revolt to Prevent War Preparations Here.

The Socialist Labor party has made a violent attack on the United States government.

The war policy of the president and congress are bitterly assailed, and the members of the party advised to start a revolution if necessary to halt aggression against Germany.

The appeal of the organization was in the form of a manifesto printed in circular form and widely distributed all over the country. The manifesto is issued under the signature of the national executive committee of the Socialist Labor party. Arnold Peterson, secretary, 45 Rose street, New York. It urges the overthrow of the capitalist wage system and the organization of the workers on revolutionary industrial lines.

POLICE ARMY ON GUARD.

12,000 Armed With Rifles, Ready For Call, in New York.

Municipal defense of New York city in war times, as planned several months ago, is in effect. Twelve thousand police armed with rifles are ready for instant call to quell any disturbance.

Bridges, power houses, public buildings, all have special protection. Extra lights have been added to the many bridges between the boroughs.

Conditions as They Appear.

Our cotton market jumped this morning 50 points; cotton is now selling for 19½c. and indications are that we will sell cotton at 25c. before January 1918. Hosiery mills are sold ahead for 12 months and over, and don't consider any additional business. Spindles are working night and day and are unable to keep up with the demand. Textile people are exerting every means they have to fill their spring orders and they are from four to six weeks behind.

In the wholesale market, conditions are so abnormal that every bill is marked "prices subject to change without notice." In the face of all this, there is one retail concern that is optimistic and is giving its customers every advantage of early purchases. In the line of clothing for men and little men, you may purchase a suit at $5 to $27.50; it looks as well and is as reasonable as they were last year. In hats at $3.50 there is no difference in the price, and the styles are prettier. Shirts in both cotton and silk seem so much more elaborate than in former years, and it is up to the man. He may buy a real nice shirt for $1 or buy one at $6, to suit his taste and nation. This have taken a departure from former times. The Tokio Crepes have that softness and gayety that is so much desired in neckwear plus service; they are washable, as the colors are fast, and are constructed so they may be washed. I am referring to Epstein's, where every item and price is guaranteed, and "the Styles" are only 24 hours from Broadway.

THE Goldsboro Loan Co., is now one of the few stores able to sell the $1.25 Official League D & M Baseball for $1.00. This is possible for when buying they buy for three stores, one in Rocky Mount, one in Spartanburg, and one in Goldsboro, and by buying large quantities they are able to secure them at greatly reduced prices. Because of its great value $1.25 Official League Ball has been adopted by the United States army and navy and is being used by them exclusively. The people should take advantage of this opportunity and save money on baseballs. The Goldsboro Loan Co. are not only dealers in baseballs, but they also have on hand a large supply of sporting goods of all descriptions. Inspect them before buying and you will be convinced that you can save money by trading with the Goldsboro Loan Co.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Could Do No Work Now Strong as a Man.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to work or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief. My weakness has entirely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 165 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is worth more than which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. Jos. O'BRYAN, 1 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness and nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.
