FAILURE OF PROHIBITION.

Testimony of Prominent Men in Prohibition States.

Hon. Charles F. Libby, Portland Maine (Ex-President State Senate, Ex-Mayor of Portland and State's attorney.)

"I kept a record of all these men and the number of times they came before me. I looked it all over to see what I had accomplished at the end of my term I found that I had driven out of the business one set of men and another had come in, and, so far as I can judge from my experience, the last set of men engaged in the business was worse than the first. In addition to that, I found that when the law was very stringently enforced it created a demand for club-houses, and I found that young men were establishing club-rooms here in this city, and not only did they become places where drinking was carried on, but, by supplying large quantities than they generally would have in their possession as a means of gratifying their appetite for drink, they were also getting to gambling and other vices. I found that, while I was driving the liquor out of the ordinary shops, where it had been sold, I was driving it into the houses and kitchens, where the children of the family, who, up to that time, never saw it, were accustomed to see it dealt out in that surreptitious manner. The rigid enforcement of the law introduced the system of peddling—something which we never had in the city before."

Hon. S. E. Shepherd Leavenworth, Kans. (Ex-Secretary of State.)

"The consumption of liquor has been increased rather than diminished, and men have been made worse instead of better. Prohibition has debauched our State. The attempted enforcement has brought out the worst element of human characters on both sides of the question. Men who once had respect for the law have grown to hate and despise it, and their sons are following in their footsteps. In place of saloons we have drug stores, joints, club-rooms and secret hell-holes, where vicious stuff is sold to all who want it, old or young."

Ex-Mayor Westcott, Portland, Maine.

"While the law has grown stronger, I do not see that the effect of it has been to reduce the number of arrests or the amount of drunkenness in this city."

Ex-Gov. Chas. Robinson, Kansas.

"It has been fashionable for the last ten years to ignore facts and deny the existence of saloons, but they exist all the same, and while good men have slept and ignored the situation, the young men and boys have become tipplers in club-rooms and cowest drinking places as never before in the history of the town."

W. H. Green, Portland, Maine, (Manager Express Company.

"In general large quantities of liquor come by express every day, and previous to the holiday large quantities come in. I find that within the past ten years you cannot place any reliance in any one in regard to liquor."

Rev. Dr. Newton Smyth.

"Years ago, when I lived in the State of Maine, I was an ardent Prohibitionist But I have lived long enough and watched the operation of the Prohibitory law in Maine closely enough to become convinced that it is not the best means of serving the cause of temperance. The effect of the law in Maine has been bad for the temperance cause. There is a great deal of drunkenness in the State. The moral forces of temperance have been weakened, in my opinion, to a very large extent by an undue and impracticable reliance upon law. I have studied prohibition in Maine for twenty years and have found that its effect has been to produce much of the worst kind of drinking. It has increased home debauchery. It has increased the number of bottles carried in hip pockets and has promoted the habit of solitary drinking, which is most dangerous."

Hon. John A. Kasson, Iowa.

Writing of the effects of prohibition in Iowa, said:

"Business stagnation pervades every city and town in the State. Immigration has been turned away, and the growth of population during the last five years has not kept pace with the natural increase of a healthful and progressive community. The burdens of municipal taxation have been increased, rents have fallen and property depreciated in value. The operation of the prohibition law has disappointed all its friends. Experience has proven that it is inoperative in towns in addition, and while attempts are made to enforce it the costs are simply frightful. Where the 'open saloon' has been banished, crime and court expenses have not decreased."

Iowa has since adopted a system of license.

GREAT CROWDS ATTEND.

The Democratic Convention The Largest in the History of the State. No Indication as to Outcome.

Special to Journal.

Greensboro, N. C., 22nd—The weather is perfect for the season. A good rain, cleared the atmosphere and it is comparatively cool.

Crowds have come in on every train and rooms are about at premuin tonight. The Craven, Jones, Pamlico and Onslow delegates all comfortably quattered. The attendance will be largely increased to-morrow from nearby towns which will make the convention the largest in numbers ever held by the Democratic party in the State.

Badges and ribbons are seen every where and the tagging is carried on by enthusiastic followers of gubernatorial candidates who meet every train and tag those getting off.

Both Stedman and Glenn estimates remain unchanged. Both claim victory There is a lot of gossip that some men now named may be brought out after Stedman and Glenn forces see they cannot nominate their favorites.

J. S. Carr, Bana Holt and J. S. Cunningham are mentioned as possible candidates. Naming members of different committees will take place in morning.

Convention will be called to order at noon tomorow by Chairman Simmons. When convention mee's it is expected that session will be almost continious untill all is ended. The nomination coming last.

The great crowds are splendidly handled by the hotel people.

HITT WITHDRAWS

Declines to Accept Nomination For Vice President, Fairbanks May be Choice of Convention.

Special to Journal.

Chicago, June 22—The Republican Convention today was marked by a great lot of oratory. Speaker Cannon's speech was the chief event of the day which was applauded.

It was conceded early in the day that Senator Fairbanks would be nominated for Vice-President. He was given a great ovation as he entered the hall.

The Illinois delegation has withdrawn Congressman Hitts name from the Vice Presidential race at his own request.

The convention decided to accept the invitation to visit the St Louis exposition.

The platform, which is said to be almost a precise duplicate of that of 1900 was adopted. It is particularly like the last one in regard to the paragraph on the tariff, trusts, etc.

It congratulates the party on the successful result of the Panama canal matter and also claims praise for the party giving freedom to Cuba.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

For Week Ending Monday June 20th, 1904.

During the first half of the week the weather over the entire State was too cool for the growth of all crops, and their progress was retarded slightly; but the latter part was warm, and all vegetation made a fresh and vigorous start. The amount of rainfall was deficient, especially in the eastern half of the State where the crops in general are suffering for want of moisture.

The following are the amount at a few scattered places for the week ending 8 a m today: Goldsboro .96 of an inch; New Bern .18; Weldon .04; Raleigh and Wilmington a trace; Charlotte .20; Asheville .30.

While the week was not very favorable for the growth of crops, it was an ideal one for all farm work, especially for killing weeds. Farmers took advantage of the dry weather and pushed rapidly, which by the end of the week was well up everywhere.

Considering the cool and dry weather, cotton is doing very well. The plant is rather small, but has a good healthy color; chopping is about over, and complaints of lice are very few. The oat crop is fair in a few central counties, but in general it is not doing very well. Corn is being worked the second time, and is doing quite well in most sections.

A Newport Wedding

Mr. W. A. Capehart, a prominent citizen of Bertie county, and Miss Victoria E. White, a young lady of unusual character and popularity in Newport, were quietly married yesterday morning at 7-o'clock at the home of Mr. J. S. Bell where the bride has lived for several years.

Rev. J. H. M. Giles performed the ceremony and, it is said, was one of the influences in making the match; he and the groom having been firm friends for many years.

Mr and Mrs Capehart spent the day in the city yesterday and left on the steamer Neuse last evening for their home in Merry Hill, Bertie county.

SALE RAPIDLY INCREASING.

Mi-o-na, the Dyspepsia Remedy, Has Cured Hundreds of F. S. Duffy's Customers.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of a medicine has been achieved by Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that F. S Duffy the popular druggist, has hard work to keep a stock on hand.

It is very popular with well known bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry or other cases, have found a cure in this reliable remedy.

Mi-o-na is in the form of small tablets and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take; costs but 50c, gives quick relief and makes lasting cures.

This remedy has been so uniformly successful and made so many remarkable cures that F. S. Duffy will in the future sell Mi-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not cure. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cure so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.

Fifty-eight years of scientific brewing with honest materials and scrupulous attention to details have made possible the perfection reached in PABST BEER.

USE HYOMEI AT OUR RISK"

F. S. Duffy Will Pay for HYOMEI Treatment if It Fails to Cure Catarrh.

So pronounced has been the relief and cures following the use of Hyomei in catarrhal troubles, that, in nearly every city and village all over this country the leading druggists have advertised that they would pay for Hyomei themselves if it did not effect a cure. In this city, F. S. Duffy have publicly announced in the Journal and other papers, "Use Hyomei at my risk." The result has been an enormous demand for the Hyomei outfits, and many unusual cures have been made.

The fact that Hyomei is so convenient and complete and that it cures by merely breathing and not by drugging the stomach, no doubt has has considerable influence in creating confidence in the treatment. When Hyomei is used, every particle of air that enters the head and throat and goes to the lungs, is charged with healing balsams that kill the germs of catarrh and soothe and heal the irritated mucous membrane.

F. S. Duffy urges all who are subject to catarrh or catarrhal colds to get a Hyomei outfit from him and use it at his risk. No matter how skeptical you may be, you cannot dispute the fairness of this offer. Use Hyomei for a month, if, at the end of thirty days you can say to F. S. Duffy. "It did not help," he will refund your money without question or argument. This is his way of removing all doubts as to the power of Hyomei to cure catarrhal troubles. He believes it the strongest evidence that can be offered to the curative powers of Hyomei.

BARLEY is one of the oldest cereals known in history. But the barley grown today is the product of centuries of cultivation. Although it is a hardy cereal, and can be grown in any temperate climate, it is best cultivated in our Northern States, where the soil is peculiarly adapted to produce the most nutritious species.

Milwaukee, the home of the Pabst Brewing Company, is located on the edge of a vast barley district, where the best barley in America is grown. Pabst has his own buyers, who have had years experience in selecting barley, and whose exclusive employment is to purchase the two million bushels of this grain needed every year.

Every bushel of barley used by the Pabst Brewing Company is the best the land affords, and this insures the greatest possible nutrition in the malt from which Pabst beer is made. The hops, likewise are obtained by special employes whose office it is to inspect the crops of this flower each year, and their purchase is governed by their practical knowledge of the best localities of growth, and also the quality which possesses the correct amount of aroma and "hop principle" necessary to product good beer. Pabst Beer is always pure because it is brewed from only the choicest materials.

Before any vat, brew-kettle, keg or bottle is used a second time, vast corps of men and women wash, cleanse and pour these receptacles until they are sweet and clean and free from all contamination.

System, the best labor and the latest scientific machinery are used throughout the great Pabst plant. Cleanliness and quality are above all else observed to the extreme.

The doors of the Pabst plant are always open to visitors, who may inspect for themselves the superior methods employed in the manufacture of Pabst Beer which could not be made better if double its price were offered.

Perhaps you are in need of a beer which is healthful and pure—just the kind you will feel proud to serve as a table beverage. Get Pabst.
