Baltimore Lock Hospital

DR. JOHNSTON,

Physician of the celebrated Institution, discovered, when in the Great Hospitals of Europe, viz: England, France and elsewhere, the most certain, speedy, pleasant and effectual remedy in the world for

ALL EXCESSES OR ABUSES OF THE SYSTEM,

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Stricture affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—these terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—strange and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible—destroying both Body and Mind.

YOUNG MEN

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE

Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness, Loss of Procreative Power (Impotency), Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, speedily relieved.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS

immediately cured and full Vigor Restored. This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands this subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE SPEEDILY WARRANTED

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders who keep them trifling month after month, taking poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately.

DR. JOHNSTON,

member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the best part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., and some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible and destroys both mind and body. Should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

A CERTAIN DISEASE

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him. He falls into the hands of ignorant and designing pretenders, who, ineapable of curing, fill his pecuniary substance, keep him trifling month after month, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair leave him with ruined health to sigh over his galling disappointment; or, by the use of that deadly poison, Mercury, cause the concomitant symptoms of this horrid disease to make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the skin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whose bourne no traveller ever returns."

To such, therefore, Dr. Johnston offers the most certain, speedy, pleasant and effectual remedy in the world.

ENDORSEMENT OF THE PRESS.

The many thousands cured at this establishment within the last twenty years, and the numerous important surgical operations performed by Dr. Johnston, witnessed by the Representatives of the Press and many others, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a man of honor and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

DEATH OF HORACE GREELEY

LAST HOURS OF THE GREAT JOURNALIST.

Statement of One of His Physicians—Causes Leading to His Death—Interesting Facts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.

Horace Greeley died at fifty minutes past six this evening. He was conscious at the time and his passing away was peaceful.—He had been in a state of apparent unconsciousness since eight o'clock in the morning, his strength having entirely failed, and his pulse at the wrist being imperceptible. He appeared to suffer but very little dining to-day.

MR. GREELEY'S LAST ILLNESS.

The New York journals of Friday contained particulars of Mr. Greeley's illness and detailed reports upon his condition up to the previous evening.

At six o'clock Thursday ex-Surgeon General Hammond arrived at the bedside of Mr. Greeley, and held a lengthy consultation with the attendant physician, who has not left him since the first alarming symptoms manifested themselves. The Herald report says:

The cause of his illness is concisely stated by those in charge. Mr. Greeley, already worn by the almost constant exertion and the loss of sleep incidental to his tour through the West, was, during his late wife's illness, always at her side. By the deepest entreaties he was prevailed upon to take only four or five hours' sleep in twenty-four, and from lack of rest ensued nervous prostration. It was with difficulty, too, that he could be induced to eat sufficient food to afford him proper nourishment, saying it was distasteful to him. Still his vigorous constitution remained apparently unshaken till, within the past ten days, when the keen eyes of his friends noted his failing health, though they were hardly prepared for so sudden and complete loss of vital force.

For obvious reasons it is undesirable to publish the exact location of the residence where Mr. Greeley is now lying, but it may be stated that a distinguished physician dwells there and never leaves him. A gentleman who has long been a devoted friend of the great journalist divides with his wife the care of watching at his bedside, the former sitting up with him during the night and the latter during the day.—With the exception of his daughter no others are allowed to see him, and in fact but two persons have made the effort.—One was a prominent member of the Tribune Publishing Association, and the other a New York reporter, who, on the strength of a momentary interchange of words with the physician, whom he met returning from the telegraph office, published half a column of stuff.

The World report gives the substance of a private statement by Dr. Hammond shortly after the consultation on Thursday evening. Dr. Hammond at that time is reported as having expressed the opinion that Mr. Greeley's case was hopeless, and thought it improbable that he would survive forty-eight hours. He added:

"This morning (Thursday) I went down and found Mr. Greeley in a very sad condition. His mind is quite gone. He does not know his friends, and speaks quite incoherently. While I was at his bedside, Mr. Weed, an old friend of Mr. Greeley's, came up, and wishing to test Mr. Greeley, I said: 'Mr. Greeley, do you know Mr. Weed?' Mr. Greeley stared vacantly, and answered that he had never met him in his life before, and did not know him, and, said he, further, 'I never heard the name of Weed before.' Mr. Greeley has been in this condition for some days. He was taken to his present place of abode on last Monday week. I have heard it said that Mr. Greeley gave indications of mental disturbance before the election."

In relation to Mr. Greeley's conversation and actions, Dr. Hammond said:

"He talks incoherently the whole time, and is quite obstinate. If one wants him to show the pupil of his eye he immediately closes his eyelid tightly and refuses point blank to let anybody look at it. If his pulse has to be felt he struggles and keeps his wrist hidden as long as he can. He refuses to eat anything from a spoon, so we had to administer beef tea through a tube. He does not know his own daughter. He keeps talking the whole time, but as what he says is quite unintelligible, of course no notice is taken of it. One thing he kept repeating over and over again while I was there was: 'I died when I was born, and I was born when I died.'"

Concerning the diagnosis, Dr. Hammond said that in his opinion Mr. Greeley was suffering from inflammation of the brain and its membranes. "While there is life, of course," he added, "there is hope, but there are more than ninety five chances in a hundred against his surviving forty-eight hours."

The sequel has sadly shown how true were the fears of the physician.

MR. GREELEY'S LAST MOMENTS—"IT IS DONE!"

NEW YORK, November 30—The accounts published of Mr. Greeley's last moments represent him to have been conscious during the day, as is usual in cases of inflammation of the brain. His physical suffering was extremely slight, but increased, and the morbid action of his mind was violent from exterior manifestations. He was asked, "Do you know that you are dying?" and, without tremor or emotion, he answered, "Yes." Again, when asked if he recognized Mr. Reid, he looked up with immediate recognition, and lifting up his hand, grasped Mr. Reid's feebly, and said distinctly, "Yes." His last words were, "It is done!" The face hardly changed, only settling a little into a look of perfect peace.

MR. GREELEY'S LIFE INSURED.

Many years ago the Tribune Association, foreseeing the shock which Mr. Greeley's death would give the Tribune, insured his life to the amount of $100,000, for the benefit of the stockholders in common. This life insurance policy has been kept good, and will accrue to the Tribune whenever its illustrious founder breathes his last.—At the time of effecting the insurance the Tribune's stock was changing hands at from $3,500 to $4,000 a share, showing the total valuation of the institution to have been from $350,000 to $400,000. One hundred thousand dollars was then viewed as a very moderate estimate of the pecuniary loss which the Tribune would sustain in the death of Horace Greeley; but the chances of that dire calamity to the Tribune seemed so remote that no motion was made to increase the life insurance, not even after the hundred shares which represent the entire Tribune Association had risen to $10,000 each. Some of the Tribune's stock was recently sold at a smaller figure; but the stockholders still estimate the entire property at a round million.

In the death of Mr. Greeley the Tribune stockholders will sustain an irreparable loss, compared with which $100,000 is a mere bagatelle.

THE SCENE AT CHAPPAQUA—MR. GREELEY'S FAMILY TO LEAVE THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

Everything looks desolate at Chappaqua. There is general mourning among the inhabitants. "I'm a Grant Republican," said an old inhabitant to the Sun reporter; "but I could cry for Horace. He's done a mighty sight for this place."

The swamp which Mr. Greeley converted into a grassy and productive field was covered with snow. The sombre evergreens were sparkling with frost. Jordan, Mr. Greeley's man, is to leave the place on Saturday. He has been in Mr. Greeley's service for some three or four years, and figured somewhat in the Chappaqua receptions of the late campaign.

It is understood that Mr. Greeley's family will never return to Chappaqua. The model homestead is to be abandoned. The house was deserted. On the barn was posted the following, Rescued from the Flames—A Forgotten Baby.

Mention has been made in our dispatches of the rescue of the family of Richard Warren from the building No. 720 Broadway, New York, which was burned Thursday morning about 2 o'clock. The New York Times gives the following interesting particulars:

This family consists of Mrs. Sarah Warren, aged sixty-five; her son, Richard Warren, aged thirty-seven; his wife Bridget, aged twenty-two, and their children, Thomas, aged seven years; John, aged five years; Ann, aged two years, and Richard, aged two weeks. All these persons were removed in safety by the police and a number of citizens who volunteered to assist them.

In the excitement and confusion, the infant last named was abandoned by its relatives and was not missed until the family had reached the street. Its absence being noticed, occasioned much distress, and it was feared that the child must perish in the flames, as the task of entering the building at that time was one of great difficulty and absolute danger.

Officer O'Reilly, of the fifteenth precinct, upon learning that the infant still remained in the building, without a moment's hesitation and at the risk of his life, rushed into the building, and after a few moments' delay, during which the crowd which had gathered about the scene almost held their breaths, he emerged with the infant and placed it in its mother's arms. A cheer rang out upon the night air which could be heard above the din of the fire and the thumping of the engines. O'Reilly was nearly choked with the smoke while making his way through the burning building.—Officer Wilson, of the fifteenth precinct, rescued Mrs. Frances Bailey, aged sixteen, whom he found asleep in a bed room on the top floor. Roundsman Buckley rescued Mr. Brown from the building No. 722 Broadway. She was almost dead with fright. Mrs. Samuel J. Lewis and her servant, Ellen Farley, were removed in safety from their residence, 716 Broadway, which had taken fire in the rear.

And will in itself be a full consideration for the price charged for Admission Tickets.
The distribution of GIFTS will take place immediately after the Concert, on the vast stage of the Opera House and in full view of the audience under the immediate supervision of the President and Directors of the Vue de l'Eau Company, and the following distinguished gentlemen, who have kindly consented to be present and see that the gifts are properly distributed as advertised:
Hon. John B. Ludlow, Mayor of Norfolk.
Hon. A S Watts, Mayor of Portsmouth.
Col. Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk.
Hon. Jas. B Whitehead, ex-Mayor of Norfolk.
James G Holladay, Esq. of Portsmouth.
The Board of Directors is composed of the following gentlemen, whose well-known character for integrity, honor, and public enterprise are so well known as to guarantee success, and a fair and impartial distribution of the gifts:
Major George W Grice, President Bank of Portsmouth.
Col. Wm Lamb, President First National Bank, Norfolk.
Geo. V D Groner, General Agent Boston Steamship Company.
Capt. Nathaniel Burrows, of Burrows Son & Co., Bankers, Norfolk.
Wash Reed Esq., of Peters & Reed, Merchants.
E O Ghio, Esq. Sup't Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad.
Robert J Neely, Esq, of R J & W Neely & Co
Marshall Parks, Esq., President Albemarle & Chesapeake Canal Company.
E C Lindsey, Esq, Real Estate Broker.
Wm H White, Esq. Attorney at Law, Norfolk.
The distribution will be by blindfolded persons, or blind children, from two wheels, one of which will contain gifts on printed slips, sealed in envelopes of the same size; the other will contain tags with numbers on them corresponding with all the tickets sold; after the contents of both wheels are thoroughly mixed by revolving, the person at the first wheel will take a number therefrom, and then the person at the second wheel will take a gift therefrom, and the gift thus taken will belong to the number taken immediately before it—this process will continue—the numbers and gifts being publicly announced, until the whole four hundred and one gifts are distributed. Thus the public will readily see there can be no fraud, collusion, or knowledge of what gift any number will get.
Should the tickets be not all sold when the concert comes off, the presents will be distributed in proportion to the number sold.
It is hoped the public will promptly respond to this effort to establish upon a firm basis a delightful resort during the heated months.
TICKETS ONLY $5 EACH.
Currency Gifts will be paid in CASH at our banking house, in the city of Norfolk, on presentation of the tickets entitled thereto without discount.
