EDITORIAL NOTES.

It was lively on the French ship Finisterre. There were 1,200 persons, without counting a hundred galley slaves in the hold; and off Donegal arose the cry of fire. Sure enough there was fire in the hold. On the ship there were 500 pounds of powder and 2,000 in cartridges. Every one reflected on eternity. But there was a brave captain and a disciplined crew—so they put the fire out.

At Saratoga the State cottages have been occupied the season by the following rich men and their families: August Belmont, worth perhaps $50,000,000; August Schell, worth $1,000,000; Hon. Ben. Wood, worth $3,000,000; S. L. M. Barlow, worth $5,000,000; Pierre Lorillard, worth $5,000,000; Commodore Vanderbilt, worth $70,000,000; Moses H. Grinnel, worth $2,000,000 Peter Mosier, worth $4,000,000; and Silas Herring, worth $2,000,000. If Mr. A. T. Stewart, worth his $80,000,000, was in the row, its worth would foot up to about two hundred millions of dollars.

A DESPERATE villian, eight years of age, named Robert Gordon, has recently been sentenced by an English clergyman and magistrate to one month in prison and five years in a reformatory, for the offence of placing a few pebbles on the track of the Midland Railway, with a purpose, to quote his own blood-curdling language, of hearing them "go smudge" when the train passed over them.

OLIVE LOGAN writes from Long Branch that dresses are growing shorter and shorter in front, to that extent that it is almost as impossible not to know what sort of hose as what sort of nose a lady wears. Such exquisite and wonderful patterns of hosiery as are displayed is quite overwhelming. Pretty combinations in strongly contrasted colors appear in embroidery on the sides. Sometimes the embroidery is of the same color as the stockings, long lines running between open lacelike clocks, terminating in floriform points. The instep of a pair of white silk hose is sprinkled over with tiny rosebuds and leaves in natural colors, the pure green and red. Another pair has a bee-hive on the instep, with bees swarming, in lines that terminate in points below the garter; another pair is striped likewise in alternate inch bands of blue and rose color.

WHILE General Sherman was recently in Omaha, a lieutenant in the second Iowa infantry introduced himself to the general as one of his old soldiers "Oh, oh! General Curtis' old regiment, I'm glad to meet you," said the general, heartily. Then you were with us down in Georgia, where the soldiers starved on a 'turkey apiece a a day,' as one of my old command, whom I met on the rear platform of a railway car in Ohio recently, expressed it." And Sherman was not a bummer, oh, no! not he.

AMONG the delegates to the recent Republican Convention in Wisconsin, which strongly approved by resolution the Government's raid on the Whiskey Ring, were two Milwaukee patriots who were soon after indicated for complicity in the very frauds they had helped to denounce.

A PROMINENT Methodist in Chicago proposes to try if the clinking of the guinea will soothe the hurt that honor feels. The pastor of the church in which he worships, excluded him from the communion, giving as a reason that he was not a proper person to partake of the sacrament, and the aggrieved parishioner sues him for $60,000. The feature of interest in the case is that it is believed to be the first instance on record in history of the Methodist Church of the United States where a dissatisfied member has appealed to the civil courts against any ecclesiastical action. Whether it is a matter of doctrine or morals that has induced the minister to excommunicate the member so unceremoniously is not stated, but the question must come before the jury that is to hear and decide the case.

THE GEORGIA INSURRECTION.

One of two things is certain; the recent disturbances in Georgia grew out of a fixed purpose on the part of the negroes in the insurrectionary district to kill the whites and establish a negro government, or they were the fruits of certain incendiary emissaries of the radical party, who desired to bring about a collision between the whites and the blacks, upon which to ring the changes before the people of the North in the coming elections. It is needless to say that in either view the safety of the white people of Georgia demanded the promptest measures for preservation. It would matter little to the victims whether the murderers of helpless women and children were incited thereto by deeds in the first instance by the acts of Radical partizan emissaries, or by the instincts of their own brutish natures.

After some reflection we are inclined to think that in the Georgia troubles the negroes have been but tools in the hands of designing villains in their own party. All in a familiar with the history of events since the negro was clothed with the right of suffrage, know that they have been the tools in the hands of others while benefitted. Indeed it is openly charged, and by members of his own party in his own State, that the carpet-bag Governor of Mississippi brought about the trouble in Natchez last year, declaring that the killing of twenty-five or thirty negroes would be of great service to the Radical party. This charge has been made time and time again, and we have yet to hear of its contradiction.

Is it upon this same principle, that is to say, that the blood of the negro is the seed of Radical rule, in our opinion, that the real instigators of the Georgia troubles acted; nor do we hesitate to believe that their inspiration came from high sources. There is probably no man in this country more familiar with its true condition, than Senator Morton of Indiana—no one who knows better than he that all is peace at the South save where protection to life and property demand arms. And yet the burden of every speech he makes, is to induce the people of the North to believe the "bloody shirt" lie. Is anyone simple enough to suppose that Senator Morton would not rejoice in a first class "terrible outrage," and that he would not feast upon its bloody details as greedily as if he were rolling the sweetest of morsels under his tongue?

But, thank God, the mingled prudence and promptness of the people of Georgia have thwarted the plans of the fiendish schemingpartizans who sought to murder their way to victory. To the everlasting praise of the people of Georgia be it said, that not withstanding the large proportions of the insurrection and its horrible, brutal purposes, and the imminent danger of its consummation, not a single drop of even guilty blood has been shed. Certainly no more convincing proof of the moderation and self control of the white people of the South and of their purpose to deal kindly and fairly with the negroes can be had. If Northern men shall after this believe the stories of Southern outrages they must surely be wilfully blind. Great is Georgia and good her people.

OUGHT GOVERNOR HOLDEN'S DISABILITIES TO BE REMOVED?

There are some things men cannot forget and that as citizens they ought not to forget.

Carolinians ought not to forget that when Governor of the State, WILLIAM W. HOLDEN overturned their Constitution, set at naught their laws, defied their judges and openly ruled by the strong arm of military power; that he enlisted organized and commissioned a standing army of brigands and cut-throats under the command of a known murderer and assassin from another State; that he created and empowered a military commission to try and shoot his fellow citizens already in filthy dungeons by his command; that he failed so to try and then to shoot them only because of the discharge of the prisoners upon writs of habeas corpus before a Federal Judge. These are deeds that citizens living under a Democratic form of government ought not to forget when committed by their Chief Magistrate.

For these deeds WILLIAM W. HOLDEN was tried, convicted and driven in disgrace from the high office he held. The trial was fair, and the proof was full; the conviction was true and the sentence just. That was four years ago. Then he was an undoubted criminal rightly and justly punished for the highest official crimes known to the law of the land. What is he now? Is he not criminal still? What has he done since then to purge himself of his great guilt, to merit mercy or to win confidence from the people he so grossly outraged? Has he ever spoken one word of sorrow, has he ever uttered one word of repentance for his crimes? Has he not indeed openly gloried in his shame and declared that he has nothing to take back or to disavow! And not only this but has he not permitted the party of which he was the head and to which he still belongs, to endorse in the most public and in the most emphatic manner, not only himself as a man but the very crimes for which he was punished? Will the Convention pardon a man who thus flaunts his crimes as virtues in its very face? To remove Governor Holden's disabilities would be not to pardon him for crime committed and repented of, but to reverse and overrule the sentence of the High Court of Impeachment, and say that the criminal was right and the court wrong.

Nor is their anything in the circumstances of the present day to make Carolinians look with lenient eye upon the official shortcomings of men in exalted positions. The present Chief Magistrate of the State has just prostituted his high office to such low partizan purpose in the matter of the vacancy in the Orange delegation that there is little to incline men to show mercy to Governors who set party above law.

Nor does the course of the Supreme Court during the last four years incline men to mercy. Richmond M. Pearson, then and now, Chief Justice of the State, the Judge, who, with scarce more than the feebleest word of feeble protest, permitted the ermine to be trampled in the dust before his very eyes, was permitted to go unpunished for his official misconduct and since then that body has on Heroded Herod in its usurpation of political power.

There is a manifest conspiracy on foot at this very writing to seize by fraud if not by force, the control of the Convention that is so soon to meet. Brogden has already done want he could to promote it. Settle is asked to do his part next week, and now we are asked to pardon HOLDEN! And of all times in the world, will Carolinians select the present time in which to stultify themselves? Pardon one Radical Governor when another Radical Governor has just cheated them out of a member of a Convention upon which hang all their hopes for the future? Pardon for a Radical Governor when a Radical Judge is listening to a proposition to cheat us out of two other members of that Convention? We rather think not.

Are the people of North Carolina ready to say that the man who raised an army and declaring martial law inaugurated civil war is an innocent man? If not, it will be well for their delegates in Convention assembled, to pause and consider before they remove the disabilities of WILLIAM W. HOLDEN.

GEN. CLINGMAN AT SEWANEE. BISHOP GREEN.

The following correspondence will be of interest to North Carolinians everywhere, as will because of the parties to it as of its subject matter.—Bishop Green of Mississippi, the venerable chancellor of the University of the South, though he has long been absent from the old North State, ye is still firmly fixed in the loving and reverent remembrance of our people:

SEWANNEE, TENN.,
August. 11th, 1875.

Hon. Thomas L. Clingman:

MY DEAR SIR:—I take pleasure in forwarding to you the accompanying Resolution of our Board of Trustees. The cheerful unanimity with which they passed it was but the echo of their gratification in hearing it. The suitableness of your subject, and the happiness of your manner in treating it were fully shown in the unusual interest evinced by both old and young. I hope that it may stimulate our "Boys" to aim at a higher and chaster eloquence than that which is admired by the crowd.

Permit me now, to express for our whole "Board," and for myself in particular, our regret that your stay was so short, and our duties so incessant as to prevent us from being with you as much as we desired. And let me hope that you will again visit us, before long; and thus increase the very favorable impressions made on us by your first, too brief acquaintance with our infant University.

Wishing you better health and all other needed blessings, I remain very truly

Your old friend,
W. M. GREEN,
Chancellor of the University of the South, and President of the Board of Trustees.

UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH,
August 10th, 1875.

At a meeting of the Board Trustees of on August the 7th, 1875, the following Resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Board return its thanks to Gen. T. L. Clingman for his highly interesting and able address delivered on Commencement day, and that he be requested to furnish a copy of the same in such form as he may select to be preserved in our archives.

GOLDSBORO HIGH SCHOOL

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

M. FETTER, A. M., Prof. Ancient and Modern Languages.
E. W. ADAMS, A.M., Prof. Mathematics.

The Third Term of this Institution will begin on Monday, Aug. 2, and end on Monday, Dec. 20, 1875.

THIS School is situated in the town of Goldsboro (the centre of four Railroads), and from its accessibility offers superior advantages to parents and guardians living in the surrounding countries or in the Eastern portion of the state. The location is healthy, and no fears of sickness need be entertained by parents sending their sons to this place, as not a single case of serious illness occurred in the School during the past scholastic year. No parent, therefore, can reasonably be deterred from patronizing this School on the score of the unhealthiness of the location.

Professor E. W. Adams, who has charge of the Mathematical Department, is an alumnus of Raleigh Macon College, and has been a successful teacher of youth for many years.

The course of instruction is sound, thorough and extensive and seeks to develope and improve the mental powers of the pupils by training them to think, and by teaching them the right use of the faculties with which God has endowed them.

The discipline of the School, while it is mild and parental, enforces the duty of obedience to every rule and regulation. As insubordination and disorderly conduct are wholly incompatible with scholastic training and mental progress, no boy who is indisposed to improve his time or is an injury to his fellows, will be retained in the School.

Moral and religious instruction receives a due share of attention and consideration, for unless the heart and conscience be instructed and enlightened, mere secular learning will avail but little in the formation of a correct and upright character.

The four religious bodies being well represented in this place, every boarder is allowed to attend that church on Sunday which his parent may designate. This wish and preference of the parent will be strictly observed, as nothing of a sectarian character is countenanced in the School.

Boys are prepared for advanced classes in College or for the active business of life.

The building, hitherto known as the "Female College" has been secured by the Principal, and will hereafter be used as a school for boys.

Deadly weapons, intoxicating drinks, profanity and every species of gambling are strictly prohibited.

Terms, per Session of 20 Weeks

HALF IN ADVANCE—BALANCE ON FIRST OF OCTOBER.

Tuition for primary department	$15 00
" " Higher English	20 00
" " Advanced classes, with Algebra, etc	25 00

Southern Illustrated Age!!

RALEIGH, N. C.

THE ONLY ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY in the South. Eight pages. Forty columns. Containing more reading matter than any weekly published in the Southern States.

The first number of the SOUTHERN ILLUSTRATED AGE will be issued on Saturday, 26th day of June, 1875.

The Publisher intends making it an illustrated record of the times. It will treat of every topic, Political, Historical, Literary, and Scientific, which is of current interest, and give the best illustrations that can be obtained, original or foreign.

The SOUTHERN ILLUSTRATED AGE will be printed on new type, and heavy book paper.

On its list of contributors will be found the names of many of the best writers in the South. Serial and short stories, poems and sketches, and well conducted editorial departments, giving the latest personal, literary, scientific, political, religious and commercial intelligence, will furnish every week an amount of reading matter never surpassed by other papers, in excellence and variety. It is intended to make the SOUTHERN ILLUSTRATED AGE a journal for the fireside; several columns will be specially devoted to all subjects pertaining to domestic and social life.

No family should be without it.
