Sebastian Morey's Spring Poem.

The angels pack their winter clo'es—their clo'es fum head to feet—
An' douse pertum'ry on 'em—at's wat makes the air so sweet—
The flirtin' heavens they sass the hills 'ith win's an' gentle showers,
An' then the jolly, gigglin' hills they sass right back 'ith flowers.

The earth, whose jints have been so stiff 'ith frosty roomatiz,
Jest puts her sunshine plarster on an' goes about her biz;
An' natur', she jest swallers down her tonic of warm win',
Shakes off the blues, an' then resolves to try the thing agin.

The brook, thet's been a-grumblin' on way un'erneath the snow,
Breaks into sich a laffin' song it makes the May-flowers grow;
An' all the pussy willer buds jest rush out in a throng,
An' stan' there, 'ith their night caps on, a-listenin' to the song.

The brooks go peddlin' potery, the robins strew it roun',
The bobolink jest slings it an' makes the air resoun';
In flowin' lines er crocuses no man should dare to skip,
God writes his purtiest potery on his medder manuscrip'.

—S. W. Foss in Yankee Blade.

A Horse Attacked by a Lion.

The other morning as Luther Evans, a son of L. L. Evans, went to the field for his team on the Barber Darling place, near Soquel, he discovered that an animal, which he supposed was a dog, was worrying one of the horses. As he drove nearer he saw that the animal was not a dog, but an exceedingly lively specimen of the California lion, which was making a vicious attack upon the horse, biting and scratching it with leonine ferocity. The horse was making the best defense possible, rearing and kicking, and was aided by his mate, but the lion was very evidently getting the best of the fight and would soon have secured an equine breakfast. As young Evans, who was on horseback, rode up the lion crouched on the ground for a moment and ran to the woods. The horse had been badly bitten on the flanks, neck and belly and was nearly exhausted from loss of blood, but under proper treatment is expected to recover.—Santa Cruz Surf.

Fishing in Florida.

Carl Michael, the only professional catfisher in the state, reports business brisk and a good demand. He is catching 400 pounds per day of this toothsome delicacy, and sells all he gets to city dealers, who ship the meat to northern hotels, where it is served up as bass and sheepshead to the unsuspecting guest. He strings ropes between the pilings along under the docks, and on them attaches his hooks with short lines about four feet apart like a trawl line. He visits them with a boat every day and removes the captures, getting one cent a pound from the dealer. The heads and fins are cut off before shipping, thus removing suspicion as to their humble and lowly natures. Florida's resources are as yet almost unknown, and this industry is in its infancy.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Terrorized by Rabid Cats.

There is a great scare in the Mt. Moriah neighborhood near Burgin, Ky. It appears that some time ago a cat in that vicinity was bitten by a mad dog. The inoculated feline spread the disease until now nearly every cat in the township has the rabies and the people are almost panic stricken. The brutes are far more ferocious than mad dogs, and actually pursue people. A few days ago Miss Agnes Bonta, one of the best known young ladies of the county, while walking through the yard, was attacked by one of the rabid animals, which pursued her to her room and kept her the reuntil she was rescued by members of her family. More than a dozen persons have been bitten.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Rats in England.

The plague of rats reported in some portions of England continues to be as bad as ever, and all sorts of plans are tried for getting rid of the rodents. News also comes from the Laccadive islands of a similar experience, the rats having destroyed the cocoanut plantations and reduced the inhabitants to destitution. The plaster of Paris cure is being tried. It consists in sprinkling plenty of powdered plaster of Paris upon boiled rice. After eating it the rats become thirsty, it is said, and when they have drunk the water hardens the plaster of Paris and kills them.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Prepared for Her Death.

Lizzie O'Connor, employed by the Waterbury, Conn., Manufacturing company, died Friday. A few weeks before she had dreamed of seeing an open grave toward which was carried the remains of a young girl. She accepted the dream as an omen of her death, and named her pallbearers and chose the robe in which she was to be laid out after death. The day she made her arrangements she caught a cold which developed into pneumonia and resulted in her death.—New York Evening Sun.

The great Bear River canal, in Utah, for the construction of which $2,000,000 has been provided, is expected to be one of the most extensive irrigation works in this country. It will irrigate 200,000 acres in Salt Lake valley and 6,000,000 on Bear river, increasing the value of the land to $50 an acre. Bear lake is in eastern Idaho. The reservoir for the canal covers 150 square miles.

There have been landed at Granton by the Danish mail steamer Laura, from Iceland, 222 cases and casks containing over 7,500 braces of Iceland ptarmigan, which are really white grouse, valued only at $1,200. During the severe snow storms of winter the ptarmigan come down from the mountainous regions of Iceland to the seacoast in quest of food, where they fall easy victims to the huntsman's gun.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial Bottles Free at Robt. R. Bellamy's drug store.

APRIL ACIDITIES.

The man who loses is never accused of not playing fair.

When a factory shuts down the hands are not likely to shut up.

The ring and letters which a girl returns are slight tokens.

Eve was the first woman to get a fall "sack" if we remember rightly.

Spruce gum costs over a dollar a pound wholesale, to those who chews to buy it.

The shrewd girl divides her time between airing impressions and impressing heirs.

It is said that a man from the Pine Tree State can be told by the pitch of his voice.

Boulanger is French for baker, and that's why Boulanger is such a doughty General.

"Every Spring,"

Says one of the best housewives in New England, "We feel the necessity of taking a good medicine to purify the blood, and we all take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It keeps the children free from humors, my husband says it gives him a good appetite, and for myself I am sure I could never do all my work if it was not for this splendid medicine. It makes me feel strong and cheerful, and I am never troubled with headache or that tired feeling, as I used to be."

The lion's share of a thing is naturally the main part.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 181 Pearl st., New York.

FOR 1890.

Consider SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE when you are deciding upon your reading matter for next season. The subscription rate is low—$3.00 a year.

The standard of the Magazine is high.

Its spirit progressive.

The illustrations are interesting and of the best.

There is not space here to give even a summary of the features to appear this year, but among other things there will be a new department and additional pages, and groups of illustrated articles will be devoted to the following subjects.

African Exploration and Travel.
Life on a Modern War Ship (3 articles).
Homes in City, Suburb, and Country.
Providing Homes through Building Associations.
The Citizen's Rights.
Electricity in the Household.
Ericsson, the Inventor, by his Authorized Biographer.
Hunting.
Humorous Artists, American and Foreign.

There will be 3 serials.
Robert Louis Stevenson will contribute in 1890.
Each subject, and there will be a great variety this year, will be treated by writers most competent to speak with authority and with interest. Readers who are interested are urged to send for a prospectus.

25 Cents a Number; $1.00 for Four Months.
