VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1867. NO. 86.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. B. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

EXTRACTS FROM THE ADDRESS OF THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION TO THE PEOPLE.

We are not unfriendly to the negro. On the contrary, we know that we are his best friends. While he occupied the position of a slave, he was protected by the laws, according to his condition in life. And now that he has been made free, we are not only willing to confer upon him every civil right, but to protect him in the full and free enjoyment of those rights. In his property, in his life, and in his person, we are willing that the black man and the white man shall stand together upon the same platform, and be shielded by the same equal laws. We venture the opinion that the people of South Carolina are prepared to adopt as their own the Constitution of any New England or other Northern State, wherein it is supposed that the civil rights of the negro are more fully and amply secured.—But, upon a question involving such grave and momentous issues, we should be untrue to ourselves, and unfair to our opponents, were we to withhold the frank and full expression of our opinions. We, therefore, feeling the responsibility of the subject and the occasion, enter our most solemn protest against the policy of investing the negro with political rights. The black man is what God and nature and circumstances have made him. That he is not fit to be vested with those important rights may be no fault of his. But the fact is patent to all, that the negro is utterly unfitted to exercise the highest functions of the citizen. The government of the country should not be permitted to pass from the hands of the white man into the hands of the negro.—The enforcement of the reconstruction acts by military power, under the guise of negro voters and negro Conventions, cannot lawfully re-establish civil government in South Carolina. It may for a time hold us in subjection to a quasi civil government, backed by military force, but it can do no more.—As citizens of the United States we should not consent to live under negro supremacy, nor should we acquiesce in negro equality. Not for ourselves only, but on behalf of the Anglo-Saxon race and blood in this country, do we protest against this subversion of the great social law, whereby an ignorant and depraved race is placed in power and influence above the virtuous, the educated, and the refined. By these acts of Congress intelligence and virtue are put under foot, while ignorance and vice are lifted into power.

In South Carolina the negro majority, under the reconstruction acts, is much more than two to one. In most of the other Southern States the negro majorities, if not so great, are almost as decided. In those States where the white vote is in the ascendant its election districts have been so arranged as to take the political power from the white vote and cast it in favor of the negro vote. What, then, is the inevitable result? It invests the negro with absolute political power in each of the ten Southern States, and at the same time invests him with the balance of power in the United States. Nor is this all—the reconstruction scheme closes the ballot-box against the best informed and educated classes in the community, and opens it to the negro, of whom not more than one in a hundred can read a word, and not more than one in five hundred can write his name; and multitudes of whom are so profoundly ignorant as to be unable to remember the name by which they have been registered.—Verily, this seems to be converting a popular government, of which we have been justly proud, into a popular farce; and we should be content so to consider it, if it did not involve the issue of life and death to the form of government established by our fathers for the benefit of themselves and their posterity. If the object of the framers of the reconstruction acts was to degrade the Southern people, it is time for them to consider whether the degradation may not be brought to their own doors—whether the poisoned cup may not be returned to their own lips. But it may be asked, why do not the Southern people accept the situation and control the negro element? This question is much more easily asked than answered. In the first place, it may be said that the influence of the corrupt and intriguing demagogue, who will appeal to the passions and prejudices, has always been found to be more powerful with excited and ignorant mobs than the wisest counsels of the best friends. Besides, the foundation stone upon which republican government rests is that the elective franchise is to be exercised by a free, intelligent, and unbiased judgment; and whenever it is admitted that the franchise is to be controlled, or, in other words, to be made the subject of undue influences and of bribes, then, too, it must be admitted that republican government is at an end, and must, sooner or later, give way to such other government as may be forced upon a depraved and already corrupted people. But if it is proposed in advance to place the enfranchised negro under control, why confer the franchise at all? Surely the part of wise government is to prevent the evil, and not open the door to the mischief which others are admonished they must be prepared, by trick, or management, to avert. But why press the subject further? It is enough for us to know that this wild and reckless experiment comes home to the hearth-stone of every citizen, and involves life, property, society, liberty, and every life-blood. Nor is this all. The courts of justice are dragged into the mire from their high position; our most intelligent white citizens are excluded from the jury, while the ignorant negro is elevated to that responsible position; the jury lists are made up from the lists of registered voters, which, as we have said, are more than two to one in favor of the negro. Not only, be it remembered, is the negro admitted to the jury-box, but the white man is excluded therefrom. Think you that when the great masters of the common law of England pronounced their encomium upon the trial by jury, that they contemplated for a moment such an instrument, not as an ignorant negro panel? Think you, that when the framers of the Constitution of the United States incorporated into that instrument the provision that the trial by jury should always be held inviolate, that they intended to engraft upon it such an enormity as negro jurymen, fresh from the cotton and rice fields of the South? Think you that when John Rutledge and his illustrious compeers stood that instrument on the part of South Carolina, that they intended to forge a chain which, in a period no longer than an ordinary lifetime, would drag their grandchildren, (who were then playing around their knees, and some of whom are now living,) for trial before a jury of their own slaves? Talk of additional humiliation, talk of confiscation, complain of clemency to rebels after this! God forbid! The Government of the United States has enforced against the Southern people the most stupendous act of confiscation that has ever been enforced in the history of nations; fifty property in slaves has been confiscated to the amount of three thousand millions of dollars; other personal property, in the shape of cotton, provisions, stock, plate, and money, has been captured or destroyed, to the value of one thousand millions of dollars; and from these causes their land has deteriorated to the extent of one thousand millions of dollars, making in the aggregate the enormous sum of five thousand millions of dollars. These overwhelming pecuniary losses fall exclusively upon the Southern people. The political evils complained of will, of course, fall chiefly upon the people of the South, but not exclusively upon them. Fasten negro supremacy upon the South, and it must be felt through all of her relations with the North—whether commercial political, or social. Should a Northern man—and how often must such necessarily be the case—be brought to trial in the State or Federal Courts at the South, his life or liberty must be passed upon by ignorant negro jurors. Should the most difficult and complicated questions of property arise in Southern courts—and how often must such be the case, arising from intermarriage, inheritance, or trade—the cause of the Northern man must be decided by the same ignorant criminal. Nor is this yet all. The highest prerogative of government is the taxing power, and the efforts of the wisest statesmen have been expended to guard this great power against abuse. No power has been more jealously watched than this. No power has given rise to so much strife and bloodshed in the history of the world. The contest between the mother country and the colonies originated in her assumption of the right to tax without representation. By the reconstruction acts of Congress the taxing power is placed in the hands of those who own no property, and is taken away from those who hold the property and must pay the taxes. The war that has always existed between capital and labor is decided in favor of the latter, and the wealth of the country is prostrated at the feet of those who have nothing at stake but their daily wages and their daily bread. How will this power be exercised? Can it be supposed for a moment that it will be exercised in any other way than to impose such burdens upon the tax payers as will amount in the end to practical confiscation of the small remaining substance of our people? But we must forbear. Such are some of the immediate consequences of the reconstruction acts upon the people of the South and upon the whole country.

We have said, and we repeat, that we desire peace; but the policy now proposed cannot give us peace. It is contrary to the voice of reason and the law of nature. Instead of peace, under the reconstruction acts we shall have strife and bitterness. Instead of the South recovering from her poverty, and contributing her share to the commonwealth and prosperity of the country, she will become more and more impoverished. The blight of misrule will cut short her harvests and dry up her resources. The law of violence, which has prevailed for more than two years in reconstructed Tennessee, will extend its sway throughout the entire South, and we, shall reap, like her, the harvest of crime and blood multiplied two-fold.

We have shown that free negro labor, the sudden emancipation policy of the Government, is a disaster from which, under the most favorable circumstances, it will require years to recover. Add to this the policy which the reconstruction acts propose to enforce, and you place the South, politically and socially, under the heel of the negro; these influences combined would drag to hopeless ruin the most prosperous community in the world. What do these reconstruction acts propose? Not negro equality merely, but negro supremacy. In the same breath of humanity to both races—in the name of citizenship under the Constitution—in the name of a common history in the past—in the name of our Anglo Saxon race and blood—in the name of the nineteenth century—in the name of magnanimity and the noble instincts of manhood—in the name of God and nature, we protest against these acts as destructive to the peace of society, the prosperity of the country, and the greatness and grandeur of our common future.

The people of the South are powerless to avert the impending ruin. We have been overborne, and the responsibility to posterity and to the world has passed into other hands.

DRY GOODS.

NEW GOODS!. NEW GOODS!!

NEW FALL AND WINTER GOODS FOR 1867.

Old Prices Reached the City and Stopped at

A. CREECH'S,

R. SMITH'S CORNER,

Fayetteville Street.

I AM NOW RECEIVING MY FALL AND WINTER Stock of

Staple and Fancy Dry Goods,

And I can say, with safety, that I have one among the largest and most complete stocks that has ever been brought to this City, either before or since the war,—embracing almost any and everything suitable for Ladies' and Gentlemen's wear.

CALICOES, 10, 12½, 15 and 18 cents per yard.
FRENCH MERINOES, 75 cts. to $1.25 per yard.
DELAINES, POPLINS, and a great variety of other Dress Goods, embracing all the new combinations of the season, and will be sold cheap enough to insure sales.
BROWN DOMESTICS, 12½, 15 and 20 cts. per yard.
BLEACHED DOMESTICS, 12½, 15, 20 and 25 cts. per yard, and all other goods in proportion.

Also, the largest and most varied stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SATINETS,
TWEEDS, AND KENTUCKY JEANS

I ever offered to the trade in this City, both as to price and quality.

Also a very fine assortment of White and Colored FLANNELS,

LADIES' CLOAKS,
BREAKFAST SHAWLS,
SQUARE AND LONG SHAWLS,

which will be sold at prices to suit my customers.

Ladies', Misses' and Children's TRIMMED AND UNTRIMMED HATS, new styles, from 50 cents to $4.00 each.

Boots and Shoes, Boots and Shoes.

The largest and best stock I ever brought to the City, consisting, in part, of J. Miles & Son's make and others of equally high standing.

Ladies' Pegged Balmorals, from $1 to $2.
Ladies Sewed Balmorals, from $1.50 to $3.00.

CRECH'S is the place to come to buy your Boots and Shoes.

Hats, Hats, Hats,

From 75 cts. to $4.00. Don't stop until you come to CRECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are "back again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to assure whether I am in back, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the mark entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold and my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in Store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say, I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

A. CREECH'S,

RAILROADS.

IMPORTANT TO

CAROLINA SHIPPERS.

THE NEW

Baltimore and Carolina Grand Trunk

FREIGHT LINE,

VIA PETERSBURG, VA.,

Comprising the following great Freight Routes:

THE POWHATAN

Steamboat Company's Freight Line of Steamers,

PETERSBURG AND WELDON,

RALEIGH AND GASTON,

NORTH CAROLINA,

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA,

WILMINGTON AND WELDON,

ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA,

WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER,

CHARLOTTE AND SOUTH CAROLINA R. R.,

And their connections.

Time Quick and Rates Low.

THIS NEW TRUNK LINE FORMS A GREAT FREIGHT ROUTE between Baltimore and Weldon, Warrenton, Raleigh, Hillsboro', Lexington, Salisbury, Morganton, Charlotte, Lincolnton, Goldsboro', Newbern, Beaufort, Wilmington, Chesterville, Lumberton, Columbia, Supterville, Manchester, and all intermediate points on and near these great Railways and their connections.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas. Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf, and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run through without breaking bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh, Charlotte, Goldsboro', Wilmington, &c. &c. This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a Sea Route. Marine risk is small and insurance is comparatively nothing. The Wharf of the Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very centre of the great shipping district of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce for Market at the lowest possible rates.

☞ The Inland transportation over this Inland Fast Line, must all goods, whether Northward or South-ward bound, "Via Petersburg."

☞ Freight landed in Baltimore day following delivery to the Steamers.

Through Receipts are given and fixed rate per 100 pounds guaranteed both ways

☞ Rates in every case same as via Bay Line and Portsmouth to and from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

N. B.—With regard to last named points, freight is forwarded to and from Petersburg by Philadelphia and N. Y. Steamers.

For rates and all further information, apply to any Freight Agent on the Line, or at the
