

JCC Soccer Quiz

1. Did you know that the "J" has two extremely talented soccer teams this fall?
2. Did you know we are playing in the Methodist Home Park Soccer League, one of Charlotte's finest youth soccer programs?
3. Did you know that we have four very talented and extremely dedicated coaches working with our players?
4. Did you know that we have brand new and beautiful soccer goals that we will take with us to the new Foundation Project?
5. Did you know that 2 very generous agencies in Charlotte are sponsoring our two teams?

If you answered yes to the above questions, then you are obviously an informed soccer enthusiast.

If you answered no - read below and you can get all the questions right next time.

The "J" has two soccer teams competing in the Methodist Home Park this fall. We have a team of 7, 8, & 9 year olds sponsored by Swimmer Insurance and a team of 10 & 11 year olds sponsored by the Family Dollar Stores.

The 7, 8, & 9 team is coached by Morey Scheffer and Bob Hawkens. The team practices on Tuesday afternoons and plays Saturday afternoons at 2 p.m. at the Methodist Park Home Little League Field. Our 10 and 11 year olds are coached by Mike Klein and Bob Trittin. They practice on Wednesday afternoons and play Saturday at 4:30 at Garinger High School. Because we are playing in such an outstanding league, we felt it necessary to have regulation soccer goals for our players to practice. The following should be thanked for contributing towards these goals, which we will take with us to the new Foundation Project: Bob Abel, Mark Bernstein, Herman Blumenthal, Bill Gorelick, Harry Lerner, Alvin Levine, Jerry Levin and Morris Speizman.

You are cordially invited to come and cheer for either or both teams. We will be playing on Saturdays until the weekend of November 26 with the weekend of the 19th beginning our end-of-season tournament.

Theologians Share Anguish

The Israel Study Group convened their semi-annual meeting in Weston Priory, Weston, Vermont, October 1 & 2, 1982. The undersigned members issued the following statement:

As Christian theologians we share in the worldwide anguish over the recent massacres in West Beirut. Relentless calls to establish accountability have been issued, particularly with respect to the role of Israeli authorities in these tragic events.

We believe that the time has come for us to engage in careful reflection. It is clear to us that the voices of conscience are mixed with a chorus of cynicism, hypocrisy and bigotry. The history of antisemitism demonstrates that the world has too often remained silent in the face of atrocities except when Israel stands accused. We have observed that people who in the case of Hiroshima, Nagasaki, as in the case of LyLai and Cambodia and the atrocities committed by the PLO have remained silent, are now stridently raising their voices in condemnation of Israel. We have observed also that little or no criticism has been levelled against the real perpetrators of the massacres, the Phalangists, a Christian militia.

We note how many of our Jewish sisters and brothers in the U.S. and Israel have called for an accounting for the massacres in Lebanon regardless of where the blame may fall. In Israel we have seen a free and democratic society engaged in a struggle of conscience, an increasingly rare phenomenon among the family of nations. How many other members of the United Nations would engage in such public self-examination?

As our Israeli friends endure this painful soul searching we stand with them in full understanding and compassion, while at the same time we as Christians confess our own sins of silence, hostility and indifference which have so often contributed to these tragic situations.

Taking these words from our common scriptures, we pray with the Psalmist, "PEACE BE UPON ISRAEL."
