VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1868. NO. 297

DAILY SENTINEL

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

THE DESTINED PREPONDERANCE OF WHITES.

The Columbia, S. C., correspondent of the New York Times says in a recent letter:

"In the district in which Columbia is situated—Richland—there is a small settlement of Germans, two-thirds of a mile out of this city, upon the Wateree river. The beginning was made the first of last November, under the management of Mr. Herman Leiding, a native of Germany, and a resident of Charleston. The start was made with four families, and negro labor was hired to do some kinds of farm work. With twelve laborers they have put in for the present year's crop, with abundant promise of good yields, over 200 acres, as follows: 80 acres in small grains (wheat, oats and rye,) 70 acres in corn, 35 acres in cow-peas, 15 acres in cotton, 1 acres in potatoes (Irish and sweet.) These items go to inform the foreigner as to what our upland soil readily grows. It is the intention of Mr. Leiding to make this a nucleus, to which he hopes, by its success, in a few years, to attract to it as many laborers as can possibly be accommodated. Similar movements are afoot—one in Pickens' District, and one in its incipiency in Newberry. Immigration is the weapon with which the Caucasian proposes to contest the rulership with the Africans. The contest cannot last many years; and the darker and inferior race must go to the wall. This point has already had its influence upon the negroes in some parts of the State, especially within twenty miles of this Germantown. In these localities, negroes are joining political leagues with the whites, seeing that co-operation with the whites is the only chance for the existence of the blacks. Legislation need not attempt to interfere with this law of races."

The radical scheme of subjecting the Southern States to the control of black votes has the double iniquity of heaping instant wrong on one race and preparing ultimate ruin for the other. This is seen and admitted between intelligent and candid Northern men who observes the excessive lengths to which the negroes, under radical instilment, are disposed to carry the exercise of political rights, and it begins to be seen by every well informed citizen that who reflects on the mere political relations, present and prospective, between the white and black populations. The average preponderance, in the whole South, of whites over blacks, is at this time hardly less than the proportion of three to one. In the United States at large the number of negroes does not exceed four millions, while there is a total population of about forty millions. Assuming the extremely doubtful proposition that the natural increase of the two races will be equal, the ratio of blacks to whites must relatively decrease year by year under the effect of immigration which will bring accessions to the whites and none to the blacks. And after no great lapse of time, this relative decrease must reduce the negro element from one-tenth in the entire country to about one twentieth, and from one-third in the entire South to about one fifth or sixth. Now, if the Southern negroes should act hereafter in accordance with the political tuition which they have already received from the radicals, they will insist on offsetting the larger increase of the whites by disfranchising a corresponding number of the latter population. Disfranchisement for the purpose of putting the blacks in political ascendency, is precisely what radical legislation has done at the outset, and it need not be surprising if the American pupils of radicalism extend that example into a settled policy which they will pursue at all hazards to the bitter sequel. The fact is, they cannot assert the radical theory of negro suffrage without declaring a political war against race, and that to the utterance. For this theory assumes that there is an uncompromising antagonism on the part of the whites to the rights and interests of the blacks, and that these can never be secured in legislation and administration unless the whites are politically and every otherwise disabled from assailing or obstructing them. Hence, the obvious tendency of those negroes who are deeply imbued with their radical tuition is, not to be satisfied with mere civil and political equality, but to make actually struggle for exclusive and universal power; for supremacy everywhere and in all relations; for predominance in affairs of state and, in affairs of business; for mastery in religion, in education, in amusements and recreations, to solid intercourse, and to the furthest and most sacred recesses and retreats of private and domestic life. Such, in brief, and in broad, is nothing more than the applied logic of radical precept and example. If the mass of the Southern negroes should [illegible] themselves to so extreme [illegible] movement, the partial and [illegible] which they might [illegible] purchased at the price [illegible] race to perdition in the [illegible] a movement looks [illegible] of social impossibility [illegible] of nature. It opens [illegible] and numbers, [illegible] laws are against it [illegible] who wishes well to [illegible] pate in it; he even [illegible] know that a con[illegible] take advantage of [illegible] violence is a sure no[illegible] down that race and [illegible] t on, would be certain [illegible] reactionary combination [illegible] gressors and oppressors.

GEN. GRANT AND THE IRRAELITES.

The following important protest against the election of Gen. Grant we find in the St. Louis Republican:

To the Editor of the St. Louis Republican:

As the advocate of an independent paper, you will allow us to make a few remarks in regard to the nomination of the Republican party for the Presidency, not from a party point of view, but entirely independent of it.

While we, as Israelites, claim in this benign land of religious liberty equal rights as citizens, we ask for no more than what the Federal Constitution in plain words guarantees, and the several States vouchsafe by special enactment. Indeed, the spirit pervading the Declaration of Independence [illegible] that even at the time, when a good deal of religious intolerance and prejudice were yet remaining, it was believed that no republic could prosper [illegible] any length of time, if the doctrine of perfect equality of all citizens [illegible] recognized, by all and provided for by legal enactment.

With this doctrine the Republic will stand or fall, concerning which there can be no difference of opinion, and few there will be, at least in this country, who will be bold enough to call it in question. But we ask, there will be, will some might be, whose actions indicate that they are no special admirers of this doctrine, or that they will do [illegible] any further than they can conveniently reconcile it with their abstract ideas and theories of the social compact. It would be hardly worth while to say a word in contestation of such anti-republican sentiments if they are entertained merely by a few cranks or abstractionists of simplicity; but should they be publicly espoused, or indirectly officially proclaimed by men of influence and high positions—such as are looked upon as leaders of political parties—then it becomes an imperative duty of every good citizen to raise his voice against it, ne quid respublica detrimenti capiat. To these few preliminary remarks, Mr. Editor, you will allow us to add a few words concerning the present Republican candidate for the Chief Magistracy, General U. S. Grant.

It will be obvious that we are not speaking from a party point of view, because some of us belong to the Radical, some to the Conservative, and again some to the Democratic party; but we all agree that the doctrine of equal rights for all citizens, and general, perfect, and unlimited freedom of conscience should be kept sacred by all, and that, moreover, a man who aspires for the Chief Magistracy of the United States should be far, far above suspicion regarding it. But General Grant, as commander of the 13th. army corps, by issuing the following order, not only ignored or disregarded this cardinal Republican doctrine, but indeed pronounced officially his unqualified condemnation upon it. Here is the order in full:

"HEADQUARTERS 13TH. ARMY CORPS,
DEPARTMENT OF THE TENNESSEE,
Oxford, Miss., Dec. 17, 1862.

Gen. Order, No. 11:

"The Jews, as a class, violating every regulation of trade established by the Treasury Department, also department orders, are hereby expelled from the department within twenty-four hours from the receipt of this order by the post commanders.

They will see that this class of people are furnished with passes and required to leave; and any one returning after such notification will be arrested and held in confinement until an opportunity occurs of sending them out as prisoners, unless furnished with permits from these headquarters.

No passes will be given this people to visit headquarterters for the purpose of making personal application for trade permits.

By order of Major General Grant.

JOHN A. RAWLING, A. A. G.

Official: J. LOYMEL, Captain and A. A. G."

Dr. Wise, of The Israelite, of Cincinnati, very appropriately used the following language in condemning this order:

"Worse than General Grant none in the nineteenth century in civilized countries has abused the Jews, officially, in broad daylight, and most barbarously. If there are among us who lick the feet that kick them about, and, like dogs, run after him who has whipped them; if there are persons small enough to receive indecencies and outrages without resentment, and creep about their tormentors for selfish purposes, we hope their number is small, and we know it is too small to be counted in comparison to those who will not vote for a man and oppose him, who outraged the Jews in a manner as General Grant did."

Now, Mr. Editor, we do not wish to be understood as calling in question that Israelites, like many other, transgressed the regulations and orders above referred to, not that they rendered themselves subject to punishment, nor, indeed, the propriety of punishing them; but to officially brand with disgrace and infamy a whole nation on account of the transgressions of a few single persons—transgressions that had almost ceased to be considered a sin, because practiced on the largest scale by both civil and military officers,—and to designate the Israelites as "a class," to be arrested unceremoniously wherever found, whether violators of law or not—this will appear to us as if the semi-barbarian middle ages were about to be inaugurated again under the auspices of General Grant. Shall we as Israelites vote for such a man? Will the two thousand three hundred votes from Israelites in this city help make a President with the name of U. S. Grant, who, attaining power by accident, issued an order expelling all Israelites, whether guilty or not, from his department merely because they were Israelites? Hardly can we believe that, in view of this fatal, and unrevoked as the outrage stands, there will be one Jew enough found in our midst to think of it. Without being in politics, we hazard the prediction that there will be as few Israelitic votes cast for General Grant next November as he had occasion to make arrests under his order.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR,

ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.

By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

THIS GREAT WORK PRESENTS THE ONLY complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens, from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One Agent in Boston, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.

One in Boston, Mass., 103 subscribers in four days.

One in Memphis, Tenn., 105 subscribers in five days.
