New highway map available

RALEIGH — Motorists traveling across North Carolina will soon be able to chart their trips on a brand new official North Carolina State highway map.

The map, published by the North Carolina Department of Transportation with the cooperation of the Travel and Tourism Division of the Department of Commerce, is being made available to the public starting March 6.

"The new 1978-79 North Carolina Transportation Map and Guide to Points of Interest isnan attractive travelers aid, full of useful data. It is a map that is progressive and futuristic for it provides information not only about our highways and points of interest, but information about other modes of transportation as well," commented State Secretary of Transportation Thomas W. Bradshaw Jr.

The new map, featuring on its cover a bright beach scene, and a "Welcome to North Carolina" message by Governor James B. Hunt Jr., contains a wealth of information. Its "points of interest side" has a new montage of photographs, depicting life across North Carolina from snow covered mountains to sandy beaches. Its expanded points of interest listing directs the traveler to various North Carolina attractions, including ski areas, outdoor dramas, State and national historic sites, waterfalls, State parks and forests, and provides information about handicrafts, rockhounding and complete fare and schedule information about the State's ferry operations.

Cartography changes to the new highway map depict the latest highway additions and changes, and the added color on the road side of the map aids the motorist in locating county boundaries with added ease. The revised highway side of the map also sports a revised city map inserts segment that provides the traveler with up-to-date information on travel through and around the largest North Carolina minicipalities: Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, Fayetteville, Gastonia, Greensboro, High Point, Raleigh, Wilmington and Winston-Salem.

The 1978-79 North Carolina Transportation Map has also a new panel that provides data on how to obtain additional information about bicycle programs, aeronautics matters, public (mass) transit and State's ferry operations.

The new map will be provided to the public free of charge. "But," explained Cy K. Lynn, Public Affairs Director for the Department of Transportation, "the map may not be used for promotional, commercial, or political purposes.

The maps are being printed by a Kansas City firm at a cost to the State of $127,000. In all, 1.25 million maps have been ordered for distribution to the public by the Department of Commerce and the Department of Transportation.

The maps will be available at North Carolina Welcome Centers and most other State offices that deal with the general public. The maps can be obtained by writing the Travel and Tourism Division, Department ofCommerce, Dobbs Building, Raleigh, N.C. 27611 or the Public Affairs Office, Department of Transportation, P.O. Box 25201, Raleigh, N.C. 27611.

See you next week.

Babe Ruth League outlines season plans

The Albemarle Babe Ruth League held its league meeting last week. Presiding was District 28 Director, Billy Wooten in the absence of the President, Bill Underkoffler of Edenton. Officers present were Marvin Hunter, secretary, and Mrs. Bryant Woodell, treasurer. Coaches present were Carl Sawyer, Ralph Jordan, Bryant Woodell, and Marvin Hunter. Mike Johnson, Director of the Edenton-Chowan Recreation Department, and several others interested in the program were also present.

After the treasurer's report, Wooten designated officers and coaches to collect sponsors' money for this year.

The 16-18 year old league, which has two teams, Woodard's and Winslow Oil-Hertford Hardware, was discussed first. With Edenton expanding to two teams and Manteo adding one, and the possibility of Plymouth having one team, a six-team league is pictured. The local league will be hosting the 16-18 year old Area G Tournament in July.

The 13-15 year old league, which had three teams last year, is going to a different look as it will be the only program in the county for boys in that age group. More information will appear in next week's paper concerning this league.

The league decided to sponsor a Pitch, Hit, and Run Contest (similar to Punt, Pass, and Kick) for the 13-15 year olds on the first Saturday in April. The boys will also sign up that day for the league with practice starting in April. The fee for each boy will be $5. A smiliar event will be held for the 16-18 year olds in April also.

Several other items of business were discussed including the recruitment of assistant coaches and helpers. Anyone interested in helping with a team should contact the Recreation Department in Hertford. Help is also needed for the 6, 7, and 8 year old boys' league and girls' softball league.

The next meeting is scheduled for the middle of April.

GREENSBORO — North Carolina taxpayers may again designate a dollar of their taxes to the 1980 Presidential Election Campaign Fund, the Internal Revenue Service says.

In 1977, Tar Heels earmarked $473,487 of their Federal taxes to the campaign. Checking off to the Fund will not increase the amount of tax paid, nor decrease the amount of a refund due. On joint returns, both husband and wife may designate $1 if the joint tax liability is $2 or more.
