FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.

GEN. BLAIR ON THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

Gen. Blair surprised Washingtonians this morning by an appearance, and the surprise was greater when it was found that he had been quietly at his father's town residence, opposite the War Department, since the day before Christmas. The General was the centre of a large and warm circle of friends at once, and the first visit he has made to the capital since the memorable canvass of last fall was made the occasion of many greetings and inquiries and expressions of regard. The affinity with which he has eluded public observation and spent a quiet season of domestic festivity at the adjoining residences of his father and brother, led to the declaration from him that Gen. Grant himself could not have unconvered himself more securely, and he was sure didn't feel half so good on the whole as the man who wasn't elected Vice-President, but who felt sure, nearly all along, that he would be. Gen Blair declined to discuss the recent canvass, or any of its episodes, but expressed himself convinced that the majority of legal voters in the country were not represented by the party in power, which got itself up by the negro and kept its opponents down by disfranchisement. After all, he said, he was almost sorry he was not elected, because he had long wanted to do several nice things for friends who had stood by him through thick and thin, but who, like himself, must wait. He had come out of the war a bankrupt, and even now his business was gone, and he was solely dependent upon a commissionership of the Pacific Railroad for even a subsistence. In reference to recent issues which had grown up between Grant and the Radicals in regard to the Civil Tenure law, this only bore out that estimate of the General's character which Gen. Blair had been frank and free to acknowledge on the stump concerning the Republican candidate. He stated that Gen. Grant would lead, not follow, and that he would be more likely to demand new powers and exercise all the old powers of his office than to relinquish the exercise of a single prerogative. The General was of the opinion that the liveliest times in political circles were ahead that had been experienced for a good many years. This evening the General left to inspect a new section on the Union Pacific road, more than a thousand miles from Omaha, West.

THE CIVIL TENURE BILL.

A distinguished Democratic Congressman from Pennsylvania to-day expressed the opinion that the Civil Tenure law would not be repealed by the House this session. A careful count before the adjournment, he said, convinced the Democratic members that a decided majority of their Republican associates were opposed to the bill or repeal, and General Butler's having offered it would be the reverse of favorable to success. Some time before recess began, there was a tacit understanding among all the Democratic members that they would do nothing to forward the repeal of the law, because that repeal was, even if meant in good faith, designed to help an administration to which Democrats owed no favors. If the bill to repeal came to a vote, of course Democrats would vote to wipe out the law, against which they were committed on principle; but towards the close of the session, prior to recess, it became evident that no intention to report the bill existed at present. At the re-assembling of Congress, it is likely, says the same gentleman, that the Judiciary Committee will be in no hurry to consider the bill, let alone report it. It is the opinion of the Democratic members of the House Judiciary Committee that no favorable report will be made by the seven Radical members on that Committee. It is likely that Mr. Wilson and three others—Lawrence, of Ohio, Williams, of Pennsylvania, and Boutwell, of Massachusetts—will report adversely to repeal. Woodbridge, of Vermont, and Churchill, of New York, are expected to report mildly in favor of a repeal of the law. The democratic members will make no report whatever, and will leave the Radicals to fight it out among themselves. It is conceded that no impetus has been given to the possibility of repeal by the sudden pronunciamento of Grant or being it to be done. The Senate hopes to be spared the necessity of considering the repeal, because of its probable delay in the first instance in the House.—Cor. N. Y. World.

FALLEN SOVEREIGNS.

At the moment when the Queen of Spain, who might so easily have retained her throne, is compelled to seek an asylum abroad, it cannot be uninteresting to mention the names of the princes who, within the last half century, by circumstances foreseen or unforeseen, by their own fault or in consequence of unwise resistance, by false calculations or enterprises which could not possibly succeed, have fallen from power, or lost a portion of their authority. The great conqueror of the century, he who transmoulded the French Republic into a sort of universal monarchy, Napoleon I, was thrown down definitively in 1815. His brothers, the Kings Jerome and Joseph, had already succumbed. Murat, King of Naples, disappeared soon after. Immediately upon being restored the Bourbon monarchy in Spain began to totter. It lost all its American colonies, which became republics, and Ferdinand VII. was kept on the throne only by the French expedition in 1823. In the following year took place the fall of Iturbide, Emperor of Mexico. The Sultan of Turkey was shortly afterward deprived of Greece, which was proclaimed an independent monarchy on the 3rd of February, 1830. In the same year fell the Bey of Algiers, and also Charles X, led on by M. de Polignac and the Ultra Legitimist and Clerical factions. The King of Holland lost Belgium—that is to say, one half of his states—on the 25th of August, and the deposition of the House of Orange Nassau was proclaimed at Brussels. The Duke Charles of Brunswick was, on the 7th of September, 1830, driven from his dominions by an insurrection. The Czar, at the same epoch, lost Poland for a time. In 1833, the too famous Don Miguel, King of Portugal, was compelled to cede the crown to Dona Maria, daughter of Don Pedro, who retains the sovereignty of Brazil. Louis Philippe was sacrificed to the faults and obstinacy of M. Guizot. On the 1st. December, 1848, the Emperor Ferdinand, of Austria, had to abdicate, in order to avoid being expelled. At that epoch Pius IX was brought back to, and has since been supported at, Rome only by French arms. Austria, for a short time, lost possession of Hungary. The King of Prussia, Frederick William IV., threatened all along from 1848, was forced, on the 6th. February, 1858, to take an oath to preserve the Prussian charter. In 1855, Nicholas I died of vexation and wounded self-love, because he was a coward on the road to Constantinople. In 1859, the Duke of Modena, the Duchess of Parma, and the Grand Duke of Tuscany were struck out from the list of reigning princes. Soulouque, the Emperor of Hayti, was hurled from his throne on the 15th. January, 1859. In the following year, Francis II, King of Naples, saw Garibaldi enter his capital on the 7th. September, and again another deposition was announced.—Otho, King of the Hellenes, was driven from his throne by an insurrection in 1862.—Three years later, Prince Cuza lost the quasi-sovereignty of Roumania. In 1866 the Emperor of Austria definitively gave up Venetia, the surrender of which may, perhaps, have saved the Empire. In the same year Prussia overthrew the thrones of Hanover, Nassau, Brunswick, and Electoral Hesse and Maximilian fell in Mexico.

During all this lapse of time no constitutional monarchy has been disturbed—no revolution has taken place in England or in Sweden, where the young dynasty confronts 1848. In Belgium the royal house has survived the storms of 1848; so in Portugal; in the United States no President has been overthrown with the exception of the Confederate leader, Jefferson Davis, now engaged in commercial affairs. The military Presidents and Dictators in the South American States have been on the other hand sent adrift, each alternately by the others. Such is a sketch of the downfall of monarchies within the last half century.—Every reader will draw from it the conclusion which is most agreeable to his opinions, be they repulsive or in favor of the popular cause. To reproach the latter, however, with so many vicissitudes, would be difficult.—Paris Siecle.

LIFE INSURANCE.

The Most Vigorous and the Most Liberal Insurance Company in the Country.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

141 Broadway, N. Y.

ASSETS OVER

$1,000,000!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
ABRAHAM POLHEMUS, Vice President.
WILLIAM M. COLE, Secretary.
D. P. FACKLER, Consulting Actuary.
DANIEL AYRES, M. D., LL.D. Med. Examiner.

POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.

This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the MOST LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:

1st. TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamp.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

LIFE INSURANCE.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

HON. E. A. BULKELEY, President,
AUSTIN DUNHAM, Vice
T. O. ENDERS, Secretary.
H. W. St. JOHN, Actuary.

SUMMARY OF BUSINESS FOR 1867

Total Assets, over	$810,000,000
Polices Insured in '67,	15,951
Am'nt insured, nearly	$45,000,000
Policies Average "	3,000
Receipts for 1867,	5,129,447
Surplus for Dividends,	2,000,000

Dividend Fifty per cent.

Receipts for Interest Nearly Paid Its Losses.

It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.

Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.

The growth of the Ætna has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Policies at the most favorable rates.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company what-ever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

ANNUAL INCOME over $6,000,000.

The only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Ex. of rate at age 30 $14 67, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies.

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment.

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies, issued at the rates published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue.

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Value.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums—and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the insured, securing, as an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

NON-FORFEITURE RULES.

No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.
