WHAT MAKES A WOMAN?

Thoughts Suggested on Reading the Lines "What Makes a Man?"

Not costly dress nor queenly air;
Not jewelled hand, complexion fair,
Not graceful form nor lofty tread,
Not pearl, nor curls, nor splendid head;
Not pearly teeth, nor sparkling eye,
Not some that sighing hearts captive;
Not breath as sweet as spiration,
Not gaudy gems nor fabrics fine;
Not all the stores of fashion's mart,
Nor yet the blandishments of art;
Not one, nor all of these combined,
Can make one woman true, refined.

'Tis not the casket that we prize,
But that which in the casket lies.
These outward charms that please the sight
Are naught unless the heart be right.
She, to fulfil her destined end,
Must with her beauty goodness blend;
Must make it her constant care,
To deck herself with jewels rare;
Of priceless gems must be possessed,
In robes of richest beauty dressed.
Yet these alone cannot make her beloved,
In purity the most refined.

Nor do they all of those gems combine
Can man's rough nature well refine;
Hath all she needs in this frail life
To fit for mother, sister, wife?
He who possesses such a friend,
Should cherish well till death doth end.
Woman, 'tis true, the state should be,
To sail with man o'er life's rough sea;
And, when the stormy cruise is o'er,
Attend him in fair Canaan's shore.

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Estate—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may think best, and all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed. This is plain and unmistakable English, and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate, which he wishes to dispose of. He goes to upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, for his dollars, comes in possession of a homestead, which, under any other circumstances, he would not have owned.

In fact, we do not view the Company as a lottery—it is what it purports to be, a simple agency for the sale of property, for its true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.

We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-EIGHT THOUSAND AND ONE—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.

The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us, that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. To those who doubtless thought, which he has just revealed, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of it—both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents that already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the Secretary's office.

We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the extraordinary drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh on Saturday last, passed off to the decided satisfaction of a large audience assembled in the Tucker Hall to witness it.—Ill. Post.

Open three nett money prizes, cash on delivery, order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.

☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or citizen or gentleman of standing in the city of Raleigh. For further description, see Circulars, to dealers.

JOHN SKINNER,
June 22-tf Secretary.
