N. Y. Correspondence of the Philadelphia Telegraph.

THE BABY BUSINESS.

The Philadelphia readers of the New York daily newspapers will probably at one time or other have had their attention attracted to a certain quarter of the journal wherein parties wishing to adopt beautiful blue-eyed babies could be accommodated upon reasonable terms. Sometimes it is added that the adopting party may be a professing Christian; but more often the advertiser casts aside all considerations of faith and practice, and confines herself to statements in regard to the reasonableness of terms.

The blue eyed baby business is carried on to a greater extent in New York than in any other city upon the American continent. The number of blue-eyed babies that come to the surface in the columns of the daily and weekly press is immense. Baby-farming is a regularly recognized business in itself and those harpies who engage in the profession are most successful who part with the greatest number of babies for a consideration.

There are several of these baby-farmers in New York. One of them is in St. Mark's place where a female physician, in conjunction with a male one, undertakes to supply Christian families with as many blue eyed babies as may be desired. She never makes any charge, but it is tacitly understood that babies of various degrees of blue-eyed beauty are to be procured from her at prices between $50 and $150. The proprietress has a sharp eye, a shrewd tongue, a long head, and a short manner, and is not capable of being browbeaten. Another one is on Third avenue near to Stewart's.—It is located over a shop, and pervaded with an air of intense respectability. Indeed, the "respectability" of these places is their most gratifying and salutary characteristic. The servant who opens the door may look dowdy around the hair and dirty around the neck, but she is respectable; the parlor into which you are shown may have cemetery like mouldness of atmosphere, suggestive of new made graves, but the pictures on the wall are scriptural in subject, and the few ornaments are uniformably correct and respectable; the "lady" who receives you is generally attired in black bombazine (as though she were a Rachel weeping for other people's children,) but the respectability of her appearance and language is one of the first things that strikes you.—This Third avenue establishment is, however, more of an office than anything else. The real hospital and nursery is "further up town."

In Nineteenth street is a third baby farm, and these three are the principal ones of Gotham. From these issue most of the advertisements which dupes, blessed with no children of their own, and wishing to adopt those of others, so readily answer.—Scattered all over the city are smaller ones, where the business is less artistically conducted, and the police decents upon which render a temporary residence there extremely risky.

It is in holes like these that the nobodies' children of New York, who somehow or other are "left over," and never adopted out, go through protracted courses of ill-treatment, which finally bring them to the grave. Whatever sorrowful chance may have taken the innocent visitor to such a house, he will have remarked with inexpressible compassion the old countenances of the withered and unhappy little children that there abound. These are the blue-eyed babies that the advertisements run about, and which the female physician is so desirous of adopting out into a Christian family where they may experience the comforts of a home. Wretched children of nobody, I am sure they need it; for the tender mercies of the woman on whose hands they are left are sure, sooner or later, to conduct them to the grave.

Some of these children escape death, however, by being sent to Randall's Island, whose nurseries received during the year 1868 over eleven hundred such cuidren.—Here their condition is at least a little better than under the roof-tree of the venal friend who assisted their mothers (at the rate of $25 per week) in bringing them into the world. They receive at least some education. The girls are taught sewing, and the boys get some inkling of trades.—Thence, periodically, they are sent West, and in a few years no small proportion of the population of the prairie-peopled West will consist of the grown-up children of nobody. At the same time, the condition of the juvenile occupants of Randall's Island—these little illegitimate ones—is nothing to brag of. The nurses there who take charge of the younger children mix a great deal of their milk of human kindness with bad gin, and educate the innocents to a love of whisky. The mortality among the infant population is extremely large. Last year more than one half the entire number died. The various children's hospitals and other charitable institutions for children established in the city do something toward mitigating this evil; but all the benevolence heaped together seems but as a drop in the bucket. It is one of the great shames of New York that there are such extensive facilities for the "putting away" of nobody's children, and one of the first steps toward reform should be the abolishment of all such advertisements as the blue eyed baby ones. ALI BABA.

REPORTERS IN ENGLAND.—The British Parliament does not officially recognize the existence of the reporters of the press, although there are reporters' galleries with retiring rooms and other conveniences, attached to the Chambers both of the Lords and the Commons. After a long struggle, the right of the public to obtain, at the earliest moment, a full account of the proceedings of the Legislature has been tacitly admitted, and no doubt exists but that the attention of the Speaker to the fact that "strangers" were in the gallery, the House would be immediately cleared of all persons, whether reporters or editors.

In the early part of this century no grievance was more common than that of a member rising and saying, "I observe, Mr. Speaker, that there are strangers in the gallery," and a strong proof of the great change that has been produced in the manners and customs of the age is to be found in the incident that a member of the House of Commons recently called the attention of the Speaker to the fact that reporters were present. The circumstances were as follows: The House of Commons, at 4 o'clock a. m., July 30, having been in session for twelve hours, was called upon by the Government to consider three orders of the day remaining undisposed of, to wit: The Public Works, the Drainage and Improvement of Land, and the Nitro Glycerine Bill. The ministerial agent insisted that the House should go into committee on these measures, which would prolong the session for an hour longer. The reporters being fagged out, withdrew at once in a body, their presence being unnecessary, as the bills probably had merely to be read over by the clerks. The absence of the reporters was then intimated to the Speaker, with the suggestion that their conduct almost amounted to a breach of privilege, inasmuch as they were the only link between the members and the public.

The Speaker thereupon replied, with assumed gravity, taut as the House of Commons did not pay the reporters it had no control over their services, and added that these gentlemen had a decided advantage over himself, since, at the end of a twelve hours' sitting, they could withdraw, but that he must remain to the end of the daily session.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER.

Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE COG-WHEELS, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned washboard. By using it one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price, Washer $14, Extra Wringer $3 and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

Sold by dealers generally, to whom liberal discounts are made.
