Lone Touchdown Gives Blue Devils Victory Over Elon In Grueling Contest Here

In Drenching Rain

Light Elon Backfield Unable To Get In Action Because of Slippery Field.

SWIFT IS DUKE SCORER

Touchdown Comes In Second Quarter After 65-Yard Punt and Fumble Give Duke The Lucky Break.

The Maroon and Gold squadron put up an unexpectedly strong resistance against the heavy Duke team last Saturday but lost 6-0. A punt which rolled for about 65 yards and a fumble following the punt, were the two breaks which gave the Duke team their chance to put the ball across the goal line.

Comer field had been made soft by drizzling rains before the game started. Soon after the teams got into action a downpour started which all but stopped the game. The sweeping rain continued almost uninterruptedly throughout the first half and drizzled during the remainder of the game. The slippery ball caused many fumbles by both sides, while the condition of the field made the game a pure mud battle.

The plunging of Caldwell on off-tackle plays was the means of Duke making yardage. The light Elon backfield was unable to get started against the heavier Duke line due to the slippery field. In this respect the light Elon

MISS BROWN BECOMES MEMBER OF FACULTY

Is An Alumnas of Elon Class of '19 and is M. A. of The University of Virginia.

The student body this year is the largest that has ever come to Elon. The buildings are not crowded, but the administration has found that some of the professors had too many classes and in some classess too many students Consequently it was found necessary to make an addition to the faculty. It is a bad season to secure new teachers but we are very fortunate in securing Miss Hattie E. Brown, who hails from State Teachers College, East Rod-

After a short business session in the society hall last Tuesday evening at which a new member, Mr. Hubert Lee, was taken in, the Clio Literary Society was entertained by a number of well presented talks on various topics. The program, although it contained no debate, was varied and interesting, and the members who appeared for the first time are especially to be commended.

The first number on the program was a talk by Mr. T. R. Ruston on the life of John Galsworthy. Mr. Ruston, in a well prepared and well delivered talk, gave a sketch of John Galsworthy's life and told of his fame as a novelist and playwright.

RESPECT FOR LAW WAS TOPIC SUNDAY EVENING

Joint Meeting of Religious Activities Association Was in Charge of Y. M. C. A.

The joint meeting of the Religious Activities Association was in charge of the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday night. The theme of the evening was "Respect for Law." In the discussions that arose from this topic many good points were brought out concerning the proper attitude that we should take toward law, and law enforcement. The scripture lesson for the evening was taken from the thirteenth chapter of Romans. This gave a foundation for the whole subject, in that it gave Paul's views on law enforcement.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Ameria, the Beautiful." After this there was prayer and the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Then the following men discussed the following topics: "Jesus' Respect for Law," Hubert Lee; "Paul's Respect for Law," Gardner Underhill;" "The Necessity of Law in Our National Life," Frank Alexander; "How May We Help to Cultivate a Respect for Law as Christians," Paul Hook.

Following the discussion of these specific topics there was a general discussion of the theme. The meeting closed with the singing of "America" and the benediction by Rev. W. T. Scott.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS MISS KATHRYN MEISLE

Miss Meisle, Contralto, Delights and Thrills Large Following of Music Lovers.

The program of Kathryn Meisle, contralto of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, who appeared in concert here at the Whitley Auditorium Thursday evening, delighted and thrilled a large audience who had assembled to hear her.

Solon Alberti, of New York City, accompanied Miss Meisle at the piano, and the combination was indeed a happy one.

The quality of her voice and the charm of her personality captivated the audience immediately. She won the favor of all, and was forced to respond to many encores, with which she was very generous.

The program was divided into five sections, two of which were in a foreign tongue, the other three being mainly the work of American composers. She showed a wonderful range of voice in "Der Erlkoenig" by Schubert, which held the audience almost spellbound.

"Snow Flakes" by Gretchaninoff and "Bold Unbiddable Boy," were two numbers of a lighter vein that took well with her hearers, and "Les Filles de Cadix," by Leo Delibes, and "Awakening," by Walter H. Golde, were especially well rendered and made a profound impression on her admirers.

Miss Meisle has a large following of the music lovers of this section, and a large number of out-of-town people attended the concert.

The following alumni visited the Hill over the last week-end: R. W. Utley, E. E. Snotherley, W. G. Stoner, "Country" Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Braxton, W. C. Elder, M. L. Patrick, H. E. White, W. E. Marlette, Margaret L. Corbitt, D. D. Martin, S. H. Abell, Mark McAdams.

SOCIAL CLUB RECEIVES TWENTY NEW MEMBERS

Seven of Eight Clubs on Hill Extend Invitations; Two Receive An Honorary Member.

Last Thursday was the day set aside, by the Pan-Hellenic Council, for all of the social clubs on the Hill to take in new members from among the old students. This ruling was interpreted to include old students from other institutions. Twenty matriculated students have accepted invitations from the various clubs and two clubs have taken in an honorary member apiece. Seven of the clubs received new members. These new club members, with the old members, should do much to make the social life on the campus more enjoyable and will, in themselves, be the means of more closely cementing friendships among the students—friendship that will do much to further a life-long interest in our Alma Mater.

The clubs and the new members which they took in are as follows:

Sigma Phi Beta—J. L. Foster, Jr., and H. A. Clark; Kappa Psi Nu, J. D. Gorrell, Paul McNeil, J. B. Utley, and

PORTRAITS UNVEILED TO MEMORY OF REV. ISAAC MOONEY AND MR. ORBAN

Handsome Oil Paintings, Done by Miss Lila Newman, Are Unveiled at Chapel.

INSCRIPTION TABLETS ARE READ AT SERVICES

Portraits of the late Rev. Isaac Mooney and of Mr. M. Orban Jr., were unveiled at chapel services Tuesday morning. These handsome oil paintings, done by Miss Lila Newman, head of the college Art department, are placed in the chapel hall on either side of the stage, in memory of two personalities which will forever remain bound up with the cause of Christian education. The Religious Activities Building, the pioneer of its kind in the world was given by Mr. Orban as a memorial to his father-in-law, the late Rev. Mooney.

Dr. J. U. Newman read the scripture and offered prayer.

Prof. S. A. Bennett was in charge of the services.

In fitting words he told of the sacrifices which had been made by Rev. Mooney as a pioneer minister in Illinois and Kansas, and described him as a devoted preacher of the gospel. Tribute was paid to Mr. Orban as an active Christian layman, and a philanthropist, whose large wealth has been devoted to Chistian love and service.

The bronze tablet inscriptions which have been placed at the entrance of
