PRESENT PLAY THURSDAY NIGHT

Elon Players To Give Performance Of "A Doll's House Next Week

Opening the season with the first event in dramatics, the Elon college Players will present Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House" in the Whitley Memorial auditorium here next Thursday evening.

Under the direction of Miss Floyd Childs, head of the dramatics department at Elon, the play will mark the annual fall presentation here. The production is a three-act play on the style of a classic, with the scene laid in the year 1879 during the period of Christmastide. The action takes place on three consecutive days.

Heading the cast for the play is Miss Sarah Virginia Hook, playing the role of Nora. Miss Hook has taken the lead in several productions presented by the Elon Players here and will be remembered for her performances in the leading feminine roles for the plays "Polly With A Past" and "Peg O' My Heart." She also had a prominent part in the play "The Late Christopher Bean".

In the leading masculine role Robert Hinton will be making his first appearance as a member of the Elon Players. Hinton is a freshman here this year and in taking the role of Torvald he has his initial part.

Hilda Lee Heatwole, also noted for her former performances here, will be seen in the role of Christina in "A Doll's House." Miss Heatwole will be remembered for her performance in the presentation of "Thursday Evening" here.

Other outstanding performers in the play will be Fred Dow, in the role of Krokstad; Bill Loy, who was outstanding last year as the warden in "The Valiant" and also in a part in "The Late Christopher Bean," as Dr. Rank; and Kathleen Carter, and Lily Lyons, a new member of the Players this year, as Ellen and Anna, respectively, two servants.

Costumes for the play are being made by the Home Economics department, of which Miss Laura Howard is head, to represent the period of 1879, when the play was first produced. A complete new set of scenery is being made by the dramatics club, under the supervision of Alfred Apple, superintendent of buildings.

U. S. Students In German U's

New York, Nov. 15.—German Colleges and Universities extended their hospitality to 4,464 foreign students during the winter semester 1934-35, the German Railroads Information Office announces. The figure represents an increase of 84 over the summer semester 1934. The United States held second place among the nations represented, with 365 students. The largest number, 393 came from Poland. After the United States followed Rumania with 352, Danzig 351, Austria 301, Bulgaria 245, China 230, Norway 209, Switzerland 206 students.

The subjects represented in the studies of these foreign visitors were: general medicine 890; chemistry .52; law 254; dentistry 225; structural engineering 219; evangelical theology 209; economics 19; electro-technics 185; Germanic sciences 179; commerce 145; architecture 125; philosophy 101.

Smith, G. Taylor, Watson, and Rinehart entertained yesterday afternoon four of the fairer sex of Winston-Salem.

Dr. James Fraser Is Sunday Speaker

Dr. James Fraser of Elizabethtown, N. Y., was the Sunday morning speaker, November 10, at the Elon College Community Church. He spoke concerning Jesus' idea of man, salvation, and God. He preferenced his remarks by some of his own experiences with the religion of contemporary students. he has found that young people are more or less indifferent in religion as an experience. They've found, according to Dr. Fraser, that Jesus has been obscured by Christianity, but the idealism of youth and its insistent quest have revealed that in the religious realm Jesus is without a peer. "Youth seeks through Jesus His Godconsciousness. His freedom from social bondage, His intellectual bondage, and His unreserved dedication." Dr. Fraser amply pointed out that over familiarity in religion breeds contempt. The insignificance of man in modern thought was contrasted with the idea of Jesus. Jesus conceived of salvation, according to Dr. Fraser, as a present experience. He pointed to three stories to illustrate this idea. The story of Zaccheaus, the prodigal son, and the good Samaritan. In these stories salvation, said Dr. Fraser, is conceived as interstate, the freeing of the self from all desires lowering and degrading, in the setting of oneself upon a plane of aspiration. "Jesus spiritualized the fatherhood of God and made it the basis of human brotherhood and service to mankind."

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING IN ORGANIZING HERE

The Home Economics Club had its beginning on October 15, 1935. Seven girls and Miss Howard, the Home Economics teacher, met at the home economics dining room for the purpose of organizing a Home Economics Club. The following officers were elected. President, Hazel Farmer; Vice-President, Virginia Kerns: and Secretary, Edith Brannock.

It was decided that not only Home Economics Students, but any Art Student might be a member of the Home Economics Club, any other club.
provided he is not a member of

After the meeting, Miss Howard served delightful refreshments.

The club consists of the following members:

Joy Grigsby, Melvin James, Margaret Miller, Florence Kivett, Edith Brannock, Hazel Farmer, Betty Askew, Virginia Kerns, Mary Frances Colcaugh, Miss Howard, Edna Phillips, Lucy Mae Wright.

Music Clubs To Convene On Nov. 16

Piedmont District North Carolina Federation Meets Here Next Week

On Saturday, November 16th, Elon College will be host to the Piedmont District of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. The clubs are meeting in their annual convention and representatives will be present from Winston-Salem, Greensboro and many other sections of the Piedmont district. Professor Dwight Steere, head of the Department of Music at Elon College, and also director of the Piedmont District will serve as presiding officer at the meetings. This convention will bring both Junior and Senior representatives to Elon, and it is a rare opportunity for the school to have so many youthful guests on its campus.

The Senior convention will be held Saturday morning from 10:00 A. M. until noon. The College Music Department will furnish the program. The Elon Singers will sing a group of three numbers: Clokey's Lullaby, a madrigal — O Mistress Mine, and the effective Russion number, The Sleigh. Ralph Caskey, of the violin department, will play a group of three pieces; a Sarabande by Bach, and the Siciliano and Rigaudon by Francoeur-Kreisler. One of the high spots of the morning's entertainment will be the rendition by Professors Steere and Moore of the brilliant Saint-Saens' Variations on a theme by Bethoven for two pianos.

A luncheon will be served at 12:00 o'clock for all visiting members of the convention. In the afternoon the Juniors will assemble in the Whitley Memorial Auditorium for their meeting.

The musical program of the afternoon will be opened by Oliver Cook, of the college Department of Music, who will play the first movement of the Rachmaninoff Concerto No. 2 in C-minor for piano. He will be accompanied by Professor Steere at the organ. Vocal and instrumental numbers by representatives from Winston-Salem and Greensboro will make up the rest of the afternoon's program.

These meetings are open to the Elon student body in general, and anyone who cares to drop in will be sure to find high-class entertainment provided.

Dr. Robert Kelly Is Chapel Speaker

Dr. Robert L. Kelly, Secretary of the American Association of colleges and Universities, was the guest speaker at the Elon College Vesper Services Sunday evening, November 10. Dr. Kelly took for his subject the Transfiguation. The story of Jesus on the Mountain of Transfiguation is decidedly a humanistic story, said Dr. Kelly. He pointed out the peculiarities of three deciples, Peter, James and John. Of the three, Peter was the most human and possessed the faults of the average man.

Dr. and Mrs. Kelly were enroute to their home in New York City, after having attended the Conference of American Association of Colleges and University in Atlanta.

As a result of last Friday's victory there is considerable speculation as to the ability of Elon Christian to set down the powerful Catawba Indians. From more than the source there issued the opinion that they could.

RUSSIAN CHORUS TO GIVE RECITAL HERE

Elon College Music lovers will be exceedingly interested in the announcement made by world famous Director, M. D. Slaviansky and her Russian Chorus touring the United States, that they will give a concert here on Saturday night at Whitley Memorial Auditorium.

To those of us here, who have never heard of this Chorus, it might be mentioned that it is one of the oldest choral organizations in the world. It was first organized 75 years ago in Russia, and has visited practically every country in the world, under the very able direction of Mr. Dmitry Slaviansky, founder of the Chorus, and his daughter, Mme. Margarita Agreneva Slaviansky, present conductor.

It has been said of them that they are the "Undisputed Peers of Choral Harmony," and one of the slogans given them by a famous critic on the Pacific Coast is, "In all the World no Singers like these." Their programs are extremely versatile, also fiery and characteristic Russian, Gypsy dancing, all performed in gorgeous costumes. With special lighting effects, their programs are extremely colorful, and fast moving, with an unusual eye and ear appeal to people of every class, from the highly educated concert patron, to those who know nothing of music.

The accompianist and one of the soloist is Mlle. Mara Slaviansky, daughter of the regal conductor of the Chorus.

This community is indeed fortunate in being included in the itinerary of this celebrated Chorus, and no doubt a large audience will be on hand to greet them.

PLEDGING OF NEW MEMBERS TO VARIOUS SOCIAL CLUBS

One of the most important events which takes place on the Elon Campus is the pledging of new members to the various social clubs. The Iota Tau Kappa fraternity extended bids on October 15, and six men pledged themselves to the fraternity, bringing the total active number to eighteen. Those who pledged are: Wendell Taylor, Reidsville, N. C.; Myron H. Wright, Washington, D. C.; Garland L. Farrall, Aberdeen, N. C.; Holt Henderson, Graham, N. C.; Herman Fines, Irvington, N. J.; and Milton Cheshire, Sanford, N. C.

MAIN COGS IN COACH WALKER'S FOOTBALL WHEEL

After a week of "hell and Betsy", Jack Stallings, Bill Jones, Bill Maness, Joe Pointer, Charlie Ephland, and Leonard Dowdee were formally initiated into Sigma Phi Beta fraternity on Monday night.

Jack Stallings, who hails from Reidsville, N. C. and Bill Jones of the Charlottesville, Virginia Joneses, are both "main cogs" in Coach Walker's football wheel and prominent men on Elon's Campus. "They're trucking men" says Happy Bill Maness, who is contributing his managership capabilities and enthusiasm to the football team this season. Joe Pointer's home is at Roxboro, N. C. Joe is "holden" down the Sophomore presidency this year and is doing a good job of it too. Burlington, N. C. contributes Charlie Ephland, who specializes in chemistry and friendship, and will be making cloth from grass —or something—in the very near future. Leonard Dowdee, serious minded, sophomore leads cheers, gets A's in biology (if possible) and secretly plans to build a new fraternity house with the profits of his future biology museum.

Andrew H. Sinbley spent the week end at his home in Snow Camp.

Locals Meet Strong Rival At Salisbury

North State Conference Title May Be at Stake in Tilt

The 1935 North State Conference Championship is at stake this afternoon when Elon Christians meet Catawba at Salisbury. Both teams are undefeated in Conference battles and a hard game is expected.

Elon has held secret drills all week, displaying an air of seriousness and determination which indicates that they realize they are up against their toughest opposition of the season.

Catawba attacks against Elon likely will turn to the air of performances of the season means much. Passing has been a big feature in the Indian offense. Meehan, a triple-threat is the spearhead of the attacks.

The Christians are placing their hopes in Webb Newson, star back, who's runs have been the feature of every game

Traditional rivalry will be a big factor in the game, Gordon Kirland, Catawba mentor, was a star at Elon College, in 1926, and he has his heart set on turning back his alma mater.

Although the Indians are given outside chances to win, Kirland has left no stone unturned in his efforts to have the Indians in the best of shape for the contest.

Capt. Troppoli end and Fred Koury, reserve back have been taking practice light this week, and the Christians may be without their leader in their annual battle, today.

Coach Walker has placed his hopes in Webb Newsome, Jack Stallings and Jim Abbitt in the backfield and Hartsell, Day, and Schlitte in the line. While "Red" Meehan, ace quarter back this season and second highest scorer in the nation will direct the Indian attack. In the line, the Indians have a good scalper in Garland, husky tackle.

Enthusiasm and interest has run high in both schools for the battle and the climax will reach its peak this afternoon.

CAMPUSOLOGY

Fred Dow: We don't have any grass growing in our streets in New York.

Louise Baynes: No, I presume not, but I suppose you street car horses nibble it off as they go by.

Doctor: I think you must be drinking too much coffee. Try drinking a substitute.

Miss Chamblee: Your advice is superflous, doctor. I have lived at Elon for four years now.

Miss Howard: Last night I saw you kissing one of my girls, what do you have to say for yourself?

Rusty Jones: Only, that I thought you had gone to bed.

Dean Haynes: What do you mean by necking out here?

Rebecca Holden: I was just carrying out the scriptural injunction to "Hold fast that which is good."

Sam Watson: Every time I kiss you it makes me a better man.

"Pluto": That's alright, don't try to get to Heaven in one night.

Grandman: Who was that lady I saw you with last night?

Koury: That wasn't a lady, that was Nancy.

Why was Brickhouse meandering in the west end of first floor of West Dormitory the other night?

Holder, Rinehart, Shelton and Collyer were seen celebrating, last night in Burlington, over the fair sex of Greensboro.
