Prove That You're "There"

YOU want folks to come to your place of business. ¶Got to have 'em, or there isn't any business. How are you going about it? By blindfolding them and hoping that they will just naturally stumble in by accident. Or—
By making the path as plain as you can. By telling them the business story that will unbandage their eyes and give them a chance to come straight and sure?

Which is more sensible?

"To the man who never heard of you, you do not exist," says George Batten.

To the person who never hears your business story, you're not doing business, no matter how well he knows you personally.

Harding Recovers But Remains in Seclusion

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—President Harding, declared by his personal physician, Brig-Gen. C. E. Sawyer, virtually to have recovered from the attack of grippe which he contracted more than a week ago, remained in seclusion today at the white house to rest. The usual Tuesday cabinet meeting was cancelled as was also the scheduled meeting with newspaper correspondents. No official papers were sent to the white house for presidential action, and no visitors were permitted to see Mr. Harding. It had been indicated yesterday that the President would be back at his desk today. Dr. Sawyer said, however, that he could not tell at this time when the President would be permitted to return to the executive offices.

The President, he explained, has had no rest for more than a year and on account of the strain would naturally feel any, after effects of the grippe. It is Dr. Sawyer's desire that the President have as much rest as possible for as long a time as his patience will permit.

Mrs. Harding has adandoned her wheel chair and is now permitted to go about the various rooms at the white house. She even has gone down stairs to dinner on several occasions. She spends considerable time in the companionship of her husband.

NATIVE ARMENIANS TO BE HEARD HERE

Will Appear Before Wilmington Congregations Next Sunday Morning

At least two Armenian speakers who have themselves been through the horrors of the Turkish misrule and persecution of Christians, will appear before Wilmington congregations Sunday to give first hand accounts of conditions in the near east, it was announced today by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, county chairman of the near east relief. More speakers will be announced before Sunday.

These speakers will appear in connection with the campaign of this great humanitarian organization which starts in New Hanover county next week. New Hanover's quota is $15,000 which will feed, clothe and educate the 250 little orphans of Armenian war heroes and Christian martyrs who are dependent on this county for their lives. All funds received over this amount will be used to help feed the refugees from Smyrna now in Thrace.

Dr. S. K. Emurian, a Presbyterian minister, of Norfolk, Va., will be one of the speakers. Nazareth A. Boyajian, a practicing attorney of Columbia, S. C., will be the other. Mr. Boyajian's mother and sister were deported before his eyes and carried either to the desert or a Turkish harem. It is practically certain that Dr. Isaac Yonan, of New York, and his son, Mr. John Yonan, of Charlotte, will also speak.

Mr. Sullivan has made arrangements with Col. George H. Bellamy, state chairman of the near east relief to send these and other speakers to Wilmington Sunday.

Mr. Sullivan, Jesse F. Roache, county treasurer, and all ministers of Wilmington are receiving funds for this great Christian cause this week. Mr. Sullivan points out that for every $5 sent in, the life of one child will be saved for a month—$60 a year. North Carolina is raising $200,000 this year under the direction of Col. Bellamy and Josephus Daniels, honorary state chairman.
