THE

NEW BERNE REPUBLICAN,

THE ONLY

DAILY

Republican Paper

PUBLISHED IN EASTERN

NORTH CAROLINA.

ISSUED FROM 69 CRAVEN STREET.

NEW BERNE, No. Ca

THE REPUBLICAN is devoted to an Independent and Progressive Journal

which shall reflect the sentiments and opinions of the commercially loyal population of Eastern North Carolina, by an uncompromising opposition to the doctrines of Secession, and by a fearless advocacy of the eternal principles of Union, Liberty and Equality before the Law.

The Republican will be devoted to the common interests of our people, with "malice toward none and charity for all." It will plead for the maintenance inviolate of the National Government and its credit; the education by all available means of the people; the encouragement of immigration and the developement of our agricultural, mineral and commercial resources.

While the Republican will be pre-eminently a newspaper, the departments of

COMMERCE, AGRICULTURE, ART, SCIENCE, AND LITERATURE,

will receive such attention as Reports, Essays, Reviews and Summaries as space will permit.

Full reports on all matters of Local Interest will form a prominent feature, and as there appears as yet no other in Eastern North Carolina, the advantages which the Republican will offer as an advertising medium are apparent.

UNCONDITIONAL UNION PAPER

OUR PLATFORM

I. We congratulate the country on the successful termination of the recent contest in which the principle advocated by the Republicans, for the maintenance of the Union, was triumphantly vindicated, and we pledge ourselves to the support of such measures as will most effectually secure the fruits of that great victory, and to the maintenance of such political principles and such laws and such administration of the Government as will most tend to the preservation of the Union, the restoration of fraternal feeling between the people of the different sections, and the establishment of a permanent peace on the basis of the impartial recognition of the civil and political rights of all men.

II. We regard the action of the Southern States in the matter of the rebellion, and the policy of secession, as authorized by the majorities of the people of those States, to be void, and we hold that they are not entitled to representation in the Congress of the United States, and that the Government should be maintained, if need be, to protect the loyal citizens of such States from being made the victims of a state of anarchy.

III. The action taken by Congress of recent date, in the division of the South into military districts, and the establishment of public safety, and order, and peace, and what is more important, while the question of suffrage is in dispute, it does properly belong to the people of those States.

IV. We deem it a duty to discourage all forms of repudiation as a national crime, and the national honor requires the payment of the public indebtedness in the interest, good faith to all creditors at home and abroad, not only according to the letter but the spirit of the law under which the indebtedness was created.

IV. It is due to the labor of the nation that taxation should be equalized and reduced as rapidly as the national faith will permit.

V. The national debt, contracted as it has been for the preservation of the Union for all time to come, should be settled as fast as a fair period for its payment, and it is the duty of Congress to reduce the rate of interest thereon whenever it can be honestly done.

VI. That the best policy to diminish our burden of debt is to so improve our credit that capitalists will seek to loan us money at lower rates of interest than we now pay, and must continue to pay so long as repudiation, partial or total, upon any of it, is threatened or supported.

VII. The Government of the United States should be administered with the strictest economy, and the corruptions which have been so common, and have been so shamefully exposed and fostered by Andrew Johnson, call loudly for radical reform.

VIII. We profoundly deplore the untimely death of the great reformer, Abraham Lincoln, and we place the succession to the Presidency of Andrew Johnson, who has acted so treacherously to the party by which he was elected, and the cause he was chosen to support, who has usurped high Executive and judicial functions, who has refused to execute the laws, who has attempted to nullify other officers of the Government, who has violated the laws, who has employed his executive power to render insecure the rights of the people, liberty and life, who has abused the pardoning power, who has denounced the National Legislature as unconstitutional, who has persistently and continuously resisted, by every means in his power, every proper attempt at the reconstruction of the States lately in rebellion, who has perverted the public patronage into an engine of wholesale corruption, and who has been justly impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors, and properly pronounced guilty thereof by the votes of thirty-five Senators.

IX. The Doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers, that because a man is once a subject he is always so, must be resisted at every hazard by the United States, as a relic of feudal times, not authorized by the laws of nations, and at war with our national honor and independence. Naturalized citizens are entitled to protection in all their rights of citizenship, as though they were native-born; and no citizen of the United States, native or naturalized, must be liable to arrest and imprisonment by any foreign power for acts done or words spoken in this country; and if so arrested and imprisoned, it is the duty of the Government to interfere in his behalf.

X. Of all who were faithful in the trials of the late war, there were none entitled to more especial honor than the brave soldiers and seamen who endured the hardships of campaign and cruise, and imperilled their lives in the service of the country; the bounties and pensions provided by the laws for these brave defenders of the nation are obligations never to be forgotten; the widows and orphans of the gallant dead are the wards of the people—a sacred legacy, bequeathed to the nation's protecting care.

XI. Foreign immigration, which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development, and resources and increase of power to this Republic, the asylum of the oppressed of all nations, should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy.

XII. This convention declares itself in sympathy with all oppressed peoples struggling for their rights.

On motion of Carl Shurz, the following two planks were added by a unanimous vote:

Resolved, that we highly commend the spirit of magnanimity and forbearance with which men who have served in the rebellion—but who now frankly and honestly co-operate with us in restoring the peace of the country and reconstructing the Southern State governments upon the basis of Impartial Justice and Equal Rights, are received back into the communion of the loyal people; and we favor the removal of the disqualifications and restrictions imposed upon the late rebels in the same measure as their spirit of loyalty will direct, and as may be consistent with the safety of the loyal people.

Resolved, That we recognize the great principles laid down in the immortal Declaration of Independence as the true foundation of democratic government; and we hail with gladness every effort toward making these principles a living reality on every inch of American soil.
