CIVIC CLUB IS ORGANIZED AT RALEIGH SCHOOL

RALEIGH — The Saint Monica's Civics Club of Saint Monica's School has received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship in Washington, D. C.

At a recent meeting members of the 7th and 8th grades voted to organize their own unit of the Civics Clubs.

Officers elected are: Janet Duell, president; Paul Powell, vice-president; Vernice Harris, recording secretary; Estelle Smith, corresponding secretary; and Louis Davis, sergeant-at-arms.

Saint Monica's Civics Club is one of the more than 1,300 Catholic Civics Clubs chartered in the United States in the past year. Sponsored by the Commission on American Citizenship of the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C., these Clubs foster training for good citizenship in the upper elementary grades, throughout the nation. Through monthly projects, featured in the YOUNG CATHOLIC MESSENGER, these young citizens learn in a concrete way the meaning of Christian social living based on principles of justice and charity.

This year the Commission on American Citizenship has set up for the Clubs a program of study and action under the general theme, "Know Your Neighborhood, Help Your Neighbor." Individual projects will deal with helping newcomers in the community, safety, conservation, the problem of surplus population in some areas, the U. S. immigration policies. During October Civics Club members will conduct an intensive "get - out - the - vote" campaign.

THE YOUNG CATHOLIC MESSENGER, national Catholic weekly for students of the upper elementary grades, co-operates with the Commission in sponsoring the Clubs. Each year it publishes a series of articles dealing with the Club program. This widely used current affairs weekly is published by George A. Pflaum, Publisher, Inc., of Dayton, Ohio. Other Pflaum publications include the JUNIOR CATHOLIC MESSENGER for the intermediate grades, separate editions of OUR LITTLE MESSENGER for the three primary grades, and TREASURE CHEST, the Catholic picture - story magazine in comic format.

"BIG CITY" SUCCESS — Handsome Elwood (Woody) Smith, whose vocal and dramatic training in Georgia and Washington laid the groundwork for his stellar Broadway career, has landed a nightly radio program over station WWRL in New York. The former Cafe Society singer recently returned to the scope where he toured in the ANTA production, "Four Saints in Three Acts." (Newspress Photo.)

Raleigh Ministers Mark Advent Of Newest Bible

BY CARTER JEWEL

RALEIGH, N. C. (ANP) — White and Negro churches in this city held joint services hereTuesday night, Sept. 30, in observance of the publication of the revised Standard Version of the Bible.

The main speaker was Dr. Robert T. Daniel, professor of Old Testament interpretation at Southeastern Bapis Theological seminary, Wake Fores, N. C. The local union services was sponsored by the Raleigh Ministerial association and it was held in Meredith college auditorium.

The day of the observance marked the 500th anniversary of the printing of the first book — the Gutenberg Bible. Similar services were held in all parts of the country.

Dr. E. McNeil Poteat, pastor of Pullen Memorial Baptist church, gave the historical background of the new Bible, and Beatrice Donley of Meredith college led the combined choir composed of members of several city church choirs.

Dr. Harold L. Trigg, president of St. Augustine's College; Dr. W. R. Strassner, president of Shaw University and Mrs. Gurney P. Hood participated in the program. The Rev. Ed Agston, pastor of West Raleigh Presbyterian Church, presided.

OFFICIAL HEARD AT RALEIGH MEET

RALEIGH — A representative of the Central Negro Health Council reported on recent developments in Negro Rural Health in Buncombe County as part of the "Progress Parade" at the 5th Annual Rural Health Conference in Raleigh on Wednesday, October 15.

The representative was one of six participants at the opening of the afternoon session which is designed to indicate what's going on in North Carolina Counties.

The Rural Health Conference is sponsored each year by the Committee on Rural Health of the Medical Society of North Carolina and the North Carolina Health Council. Feature speakers at the all day conference were: Allan B. King, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, of Chicago, Illinois, and Aubrey O. Gates of Little Rock, Arkansas, Field Director, Council on Rural Health of the American Medical Association.

The Buncombe County Negro Rural Health story was chosen as one of the most outstanding in the state as an example of local initiative. Among other local health activities, the Central Negro Health Council representative reported on their activity during the past summer with house-to-house surveys and chest x-ray programs.

Later in the afternoon the Rural Health Conference was divided into eight discussion groups, the topics for which the people attended indicated as their major local health problems. The objective of this year's conference was to reach and hear from as many rural groups as possible in an effort to decide what are the most effective ways of solving rural health problems.

WITH SARAH VIRGO

RALEIGH — Hi there! Here we are again with some more chatter about town. Give us a listen won't you. And remember that whenever you have a bit of news, drop a card or letter to me, care of St. Augustine's College or call me at 2-4307. I'll be waiting to hear from you, and you, real soon now.

Well, there's no question about it. Fall is really here and football is still in the air. We feel we just must congratulate W. H. S.'s grand team the "Little Blues" for their defeat of Durham Friday night in Chavis Park, before a capacity crowd. It was really thrilling game to watch. Agreed?

Several Seniors of Washington School were the guests of A. and T. College Greensboro, N. C. on Saturday the 4th. Those making the trip were: Misses Marguerite Mann, Margery Howard, Vina Hairston, Jean Penny, Barbara Whyite, Margaret Brown, Alma Bunche, Charlene Whatley, Eloia Jackson, Delores Freeman, Mamie Hinton and Amanda Pope. Messrs. James Forbes, John Ford, Herbert Greene, Purcell Smith, Edward Holden, Thomas Glascoe, Leonard Wilder, Milton Walton. The four class advisors accompanied the group — Misses Jeannette Hicks and Mae Lagon, Mrs. Cook and Mr. Whitaker.

The group was shown around the campus - the dorms, library labs, etc. plus being served dinner before returning home.

It seems that the Raleigh folks at A. and T. College are doing very well. Like Margaret Jones, Ike Winfield, Nannie Cotton, Wilbert Wilder and the others. Oh yes! Ruth Ann Carter is now a majorette. Congrats Ruth.

Miss Juanita Thorpe and Joyce Dickens were home over the weekend from North Carolina College, in Durham — While on Sunday Miss Marylina Sewll and Roderick Taylor motored to Durham. Miss DeJuanna Browning accompanied Mrs. Jacky Wilcox to Durham to visit Mrs. Wilcox's niece, Louise Hughes.

MARVIN THORPE, JR. came home for the weekend from A. and T. college to visit his parents and friends.

MR. AND MRS. PERCY RAND spent the weekend in Greensboro, N. C. visiting their daughter, Mrs. Gladys Jenkins.

MRS. BURMA COOLEY has returned to Washington, D. C. to spend some time with her son.

MR. HARRY PAYNE, JR. has returned to Raleigh spending some time in Cleveland, Ohio. Glad to see you back, Harry.

MRS. ROBINSON, teacher at Lucille Hunter School spent the week end in Winston-Salem, N. C. visiting friends and relatives.

MISS MURIEL DARK, now teaching in Zebulon, N. C. spent the weekend here in Raleigh, visiting her family.

On Sunday, October 5, 1952, Mrs. G. L. West and daughter, Barbara Ann, attended a Pew Rally at the Flatt Creek Baptist Church in Williamsboro, N. C. This church has been attended by the West and O. S. Bullock and G. O. Bullock families to three generations. The Rally netted the Church about $600.

Rev. McGrier, a graduate of Shaw University of this city is pastor of this church.

Mrs. Romaine S. Lambert entertained the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority Saturday night on St. Augustine's Campus. Plans for the year were discussed and "big doings" were planned.

Members present were Mesdames Mamie Shepard, Willie C. High, Edith Trice, Georgia Manly, Irene Dickens, Mary Carter, Lottie Ballentine, Alma West and the hostess, Romaine Lambert.

The very tasty menu was chicken salad, tomatoes, ritz, cocoa and cake. Mouth-watering isn't it?

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. West entertained their relatives on Sept. 28. The occasion was Women's Day at the First Baptist Church. Speaker for the morning was Dr. Nancy Bullock Woolridge, here first appearance in Raleigh since studying abroad.

Visiting in Raleigh for the event: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wyche and family, Miss Sylvia Wyche, and Mrs. Margery Bullock all of Henderson, N. C. Miss Merlyn Weeks, Brooklyn, N. Y., Miss Mable Wyche of Jackson, N. C., Mrs. Anna Amis, Soth Boston, Va., Mrs. Vivian Canada, Boston, Mass. Quite a gathering, eh?

Mr. Daniel Bates, Veteran of the Korean conflict, and now principal of the Elementary School, Waynesboro, Ga. spoke to Mrs. V. F. Virgo's Geography class on Monday at Shaw University.

Mr. Bates is a native of Raleigh and a graduate of Shaw University. His sister, Miss Annie Bates is now teaching with him in Georgia.

We were very sorry to learn of the wounds sustained in the Korean War, by PFC Rufus Walker, nephew of Mrs. Bessie Moore of Fayetteville St. of this city.

ASKED TO HIRE HANDICAPPED

RALEIGH — Lee J. Craven, local employment office manager of Raleigh, has urged employers to re-examine their personnel hiring policies and take any steps which may be necessary to assure that physically handicapped workers are considered and employed along with other workers, on the basis of their ability to perform the job.

Mr. Craven said the productive capacity of physically handicapped workers, when properly placed, had been demonstrated both during and since World War II.

The experience of large numbers of employers has demonstrated that the key to the productive capacity of the handicapped is adequate preparation and placement on jobs suited to their physical abilities and skills. Most jobs can be filled efficiently and safely by persons with some type or degree of physical impairments.

Mr. Craven said the cooperation of employers in making fullest use of handicapped workers will serve the dual purpose of increasing the productive capacity of the labor force and affording handicapped workers opportunity to contribute more fully to the national defense and the maintenance of a vigorous economy.

"The Raleigh State Employment Service local office has trained selective placement personnel who will be glad to assist employers in getting qualified handicapped workers to fill their job openings," the manager said.

Good news? Well anyway I've just heard that Fred Fletcher's "Tuning in With Fletcher," will originate from Shaw University's Greenleaf Auditorium on Friday morning, September 10, beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Why not get your friendes together, put off doing the dishes for a while, and go over an dhave that "barrell" of fun that is being promised to all who come. Don't forget the place, date and time now.

Congratulations to Mr. Braxton Cooley, Senior at W. H. S. on the attaining of his license to become a minister in the Holiness church. He is now the youngest minister in Raleigh, N. C.

It's almost time for the $8,750 QUESTION

Yes indeed, November 1 is fast approaching. . . the deadline for the 148 towns participating in the Finer Carolina Contest. Which town will be Carolina's Finest? Will it be yours? All of the towns entered in the contest have made good progress, in fact, many projects have already been comlpeted. If your town's projects are still incomplete, there is still one month in which to finish the job. Now is the time for all good citizens to rally to the call of civic duty. You still have time in which to help make YOUR town CAROLINA'S FINEST.
