THE ISSUE OF HATE.

The tender of an issue does not necessitate its acceptance; and although the Republican party, through its leaders, Chandler, Blaine, Conkling and Logan, has tendered to the people of the South the issue of hate, our people for wise and patriotic reasons do not accept it. The Republican party has done enough in the way of persecution, fraud, robbery and slander to the Southern people to justify them in the exercise of the bitterest feelings toward that party; and undoubtedly we do look upon them in their true light, for we can only class them with the basest foes of the Republic and the meanest and most cowardly enemy that a brave people ever encountered. But we do not intend to be betrayed into undignified or unwise conduct. We do not choose to walk into every trap laid by that party to reanimate their declining fortunes. The South intends by its high character, its patriotic counsels, its efforts to preserve the Constitution, and by the wisdom and moderation of its representative men to show to the North and to the whole world that we are not only a people great in defeat, but capable of defending and protecting the government which our fathers built from the destructive hordes of the fanatics and traitors who seek to destroy it.

The speech of Blaine, delivered a few days ago, like all the efforts of that ambitious, corrupt demagogue was filled with taunts and vile slanders against the Southern people, whom he hates because they are pure. He did not raise his finger to save the Union when he said that traitors were trying to destroy it; but being drafted, and on the first call, he contented himself by hiring a man with his ill-gotten money to shield his fat, unpatriotic and trembling carcass from rebel bullets. One of the causes of his hatred of the Southern people is that they caused to be made an exhibition of his cowardice. He hired a substitute to save the Union while he dodged in a bombproof and got rich by the sale of his official position and influence. And so we find that nearly all of this time who now thirst for strife—Conkling, Edmunds, old Zach. Chandler, Conger and others who have shown themselves to be such haters of the Southern people—were the men who shirked the war, who grew pale at the sound of the cannon's roar, but who managed to reap political and pecuniary benefits from the war, and now continue the strife that they may hold on to that which they have; and naturally it would seem to be a source of wonder that their heads do not fall in shame when they meet face to face such Democratic patriots as Generals Rice, Banning, Ewing, Warner and other brave men who bravely faced the storm in the days of the war, but who when it was over buried the memories of the conflict and sought to extend the area of peace and good will.

The Southern people cannot afford to take up the gage of hate taunting thousands in the North and the South, has a mission to accomplish. It must save the Union from the disunion element of the Republican party; it must preserve the Constitution from the attacks of the Blaine Jacobins; and it must preserve civil government the autonomy of the States and the freedom of the people from the onslaught of Republican Goths and Vandals. We are glad that our Senators and Representatives in Congress are exhibiting so much good sense and patience. Let them mature their plans with deliberation and wisdom regardless of the insults of the foe; and at the last, present to the people the issue in such form and manner as shall destroy the enemies of the Government, and restore concord and prosperity to the people.

TAX.

The letter to Secretary Sherman to the Senate on the subject of the unpaid direct tax due from the seven Southern States, and communicating the plan of Commissioner Raum of collecting this tax, the payment of which was suspended by act of Congress in 1869, reads very much like a campaign document. This tax will hardly be collected at all, but certainly cannot be collected under the act of 1862, which makes the tax a lien upon the lands of individuals. For instance, the amount outstanding against Texas is put at $174,000. This State has over 20,000,000 acres of farm lands, and the tax would therefore be only 87 hundredths of a cent per acre, so that a plantation of 500 acres would pay $4.25, and to collect this a special officer would have to be sent. The machinery of collection—shotguns thrown out of the account—would cost more than the sum realized. Besides, any attempt to collect such a tax from the land would needlessly alarm and exasperate the whole Southern people. The attempt to revive the subject in Congress will be almost certain, moreover, to bring to the front the old job for the refunding of the direct tax on cotton, of which $68,000,000 was collected, although the tax was not known to be unconstitutional at the time when imposed, and has since been pronounced so by the Supreme Court. The direct tax project will, however probably serve some of Mr. Sherman's purposes, for he may exasperate the Southern people by trying to collect it, and so help to further convince his constituents of the need for a "Solid North" in 1880, and any attempt by Southern Representatives in Congress to appropriate money to refund the cotton tax will in the same way gain votes for Mr. Sherman's party next year.

REGARDING the recent convention of colored men held at Richmond for the purpose of discussing plans for bettering the condition of the negro race, the Philadelphia Times says: "It may be said with entire assurance that of all ways of ameliorating the condition of the colored men in the South, the convention at Richmond has selected the very worst. As long as the colored men insist upon "recognition" as colored men, so long will the whites refuse them any recognition at all that can be withheld from them, and the threats of going West if they cannot get what they want are not likely to frighten anybody who knows that the emigrants would be the severest sufferers by such a move. If the demagogues, such as those who are running this convention, or as the "leading Republicans at Washington" who are said to be giving it counsel, will only let the Southern blacks alone, they will get along well enough, and the best plan they could adopt just now to ameliorate their condition wold be to take about a hundred of these fellows and gently but firmly put them to death."

IT is reported from Washington that a designing politician approached President Hayes, the other day, with an intimation that a second term was among the possibilities of the future. The President was not in his usually cheerful mood, and he sternly asked the daring intruder if he had ever read "my letter of acceptance." This man was doubtless an office holder, and Mr. Hayes could have crushed him much more completely if he had referred him to "my order about civil service reform."

ON Monday next, and presumably for some days thereafter, the metropolitan papers will be flooded with torrents of eloquence evoked by the introduction by Senator McDonald of a new bill regulating the powers of the President in the use of the army. The utility of introducing such bills at the present time may well be questioned, for it is to be assumed that the President will veto any and all bills abridging his powers, and the majority in Congress is not strong enough to override the veto. The people at large understand well enough by this time the efforts that have been made, and failed, to secure freedom at the polls, and they will in time become disgusted with the continual harping on this subject.

AND now come the currency tinkers once more. The Bland bill may contain some imperfections, but it was good enough to make resumption a fixed fact; and if the provisions of the bill were fairly carried out by those who, being in authority, are properly supposed to be honest so to speak, there would be little trouble regarding the diffusion of silver. But the bondholders and gold speculators sought to live at the people's expense, and with Jay Gould's N. Y. Tribune to help them, the attempts at crippling the currency will not cease as long as hope remains—and thanks to a sensible people, who realize the fact that their own pocket-books are their best friends, such hope grows fainter day by day.

IT is of consequence that the bill now before Congress regarding quarantining ports in cases of infectious or contagious diseases should be definitely settled as to whether the matter is a subject for National or State legislation. There is plenty of time for electioneering speeches next year; but this important public health bill, that gets kicked around in such rough fashion, is a matter of vital importance, affecting as it does the nation at large. Another season of yellow fever in the South, another outpouring of treasure from the more fortunate sections of the North, and then the cry for legislation regarding this matter will again go up, only to be disregarded in the craze of candidates

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.

Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft.

It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)

It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler.

No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or horse-power.

GOOD MORNING!

NEW GOODS

A. CREECH'S.

CUSTOMERS, THIS ADVERTISEMENT is for your interest, read every word. I have received my stock of Spring Goods for 1879, and it affords me pleasure to say to you that every DEPARTMENT is now complete, with New Goods, from Cotton Fine Fabrics, bought by myself in person from the Importers and Manufacturers, for the package.

And here allow me to say that cash is the vital spark of commercial life, the brains, the big one-wheel load of tireless Engine, and Cash is that energy and solid stuff that will buy goods cheap, and still leave the brains of the shrewdest chaffers, there lurks a buzz, and the goods will get to hand pay or no pay.

But I think every merchant or every one will coincide with me in saying that goods have not been sold within the last twenty-five years so low as they are now. And I feel confident in saying Grocers and Merchandisers have reached bottom prices.

As many of them advanced and are advancing, and it will only take a little money and financial skill to save 25 per cent by buying goods before they further advance.

And in connection with this, let me say that you see all kinds of advertisements of selling at cost and below, and some say the bottom's out, and goods at hard-pan, [illegible] and various other kinds. But let me tell you,

That I suppose at least a thousand persons at this writing will know that is the place, and I expect to tell ten thousand and more within the next forty-eight hours to come to

as I want customers wherever to be found, and buyers with money to spare, so when you come to town, down town or up town, come to CREECH'S.

FACTS DEVELOP STRANGE THINGS.
