RALEIGH — Mrs. H. C. Brower was hostess to Club Nine last Saturday night at her home at 909 East Hargett Street. This group meets every other week at the homes of the various members and in addition to the social aspects of their activities regularly engage in civic projects.

Their community project last month was the contribution of pillow cases to St. Agnes Hospital, and this month they will donate a centerpiece for the mantle in the YWCA.

All members of the club were present at their Saturday meeting: Mrs. Beulah Jones, Mrs. Louise Perry, Mrs. Alberta M. Johnston, Mrs. Ethel Lyde, Mrs. Thelma Keck, Mrs. Ann Hurdle, Mrs. Maggie Atkins, Mrs. Etta Tolley, and the hostess.

Mrs. Brower served to her guests a pretty salad plate, delicious baked ham, coffee, chocolate cake and beverages.

TO LEAVE RALEIGH

The Macon Hintons of Washington Terrace will be pulling up stakes in Raleigh within a few days and will go to Orangeburg. S. C. Mr. Hinton is giving up his position as chemistry instructor at Shaw University to accept a job as chemistry instructor at South Carolina State College.

Also saying goodby to Raleigh within a few days will be the Paul Powells of 115 Lincoln Court. He is at present at the S. & W. and she is on the secretary staff of Shaw. They will accept employment in Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Eliza Jane is also scheduled to leave Raleigh soon to accept employment in South Carolina. She is at present on the Richard A. Harrison Library staff.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The Community Club of Hunter Park met with Mrs. Nannie B. Robinson Saturday night of last week. After the business session, the hostess served a delicious repast to the following guests: Mrs. Rogerleen Gay, Mrs. Frances Autry, Mrs. Ruth Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Farrell, Mrs. Catherine Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Turner Brown. Special guest of Mrs. Robinson were Mrs. Carol Hunt and daughter, Anne.

THREE PLAYS

The Shaw University Dramatic Club presented large audiences Thursday and Friday nights of last week with the presentation of three one-act plays. Thornton Wilders' Happy Birthday had the audience in stitches. It is one of those experimental comedies.

VISITORS IN RALEIGH

During the weekend of the North Carolina College homecoming game in Durham, Mrs. Christine T. Toole who now teaches in Hamlet had as her house guests Misses Rosa L. and Frankie Robinson, sisters who hail from Huntsville, S. C. Rosa is music teacher in the Hamlet Public Schools and Frankie teaches in nearby Laurinburg.

NEW MANAGER

Best wishes are in order for the new manager of the Wake Consumer Mutual Association, Inc., store on S. Blodworth St. He is Mr. William A. Gaillard, father of Quentin E. and Tom Tuskegee. He is making his home with his son and daughter-in-law on Catling St. for the time being.

NOTIONS TO FAMILIES

I see it is that Raleighites have suddenly developed a love for song. Among those who have taken unto themselves brand new tunes are the R. S. Thomas, the C. H. Rhaes and the G. M. Jones. One complication to them is daughter brought on by their new charges.

NEW DEADLINE

The CAROLINIAN management has informed me that it is absolutely imperative that I get my copy for this column to them by noon each Monday. I am therefore urging you to please get your news to me, by Saturday if you want it to appear in the edition of the following week. Thanks for your cooperation.

Highway Department Makes Major Shift

RALEIGH — A major shift in the organization of the State Department of Motor Vechicles was announced last week by Commissioner L. R. Fisher.

In the most important move since he took office last June Fisher transferred several units formerly under the Highway Safety Division and placed them under the direct supervision of Highway Patrol Commander, N. B. Tew.

He said the move was made to relieve the hard pressed Safety Division of as much paper work as possible and allow it to concentrate fully on the highway safety program. It will also permit all enforcement work to be centralized under one command.
