CP&L Notes Record Industrial Growth

Industrial growth for the first four months of 1964 almost equals the entire 12 months of 1963 in the two-state region served by Carolina Power and Light Company.

Dan E. Stewart, CP&L vice-president in charge of area development, said industrial firms have announced plans this year to spend more than $90 million for new and expanded plants in the region. The 1963 total was $103 million, second only to 1962's record $110 million.

The 1964 growth, involving 29 new plants and 28 expansions, is expected to create 7,000 new jobs and $25 million in new annual payroll.

Texas Gulf Sulphur tops the list with an announcement in early April that it will spend $46 million for new phosphate mining facilities at Aurora.

Other names prominent in the 1964 growth pattern are Rea Magnet Wire, Spring Cotton Mills, Schiefflin and Company, Emerson Electric, Carnes Corporation, Robertson Fabrics, Winchester Spinning, Fedelon Throwing, Fafnir INA, Eaton Manufacturing, Paragon Southern, A. Schrader's Son and Universal Leaf Tobacco.

On The Home Front

(Items this week from Pitt, Caswell and Wake Counties.)

ENRICHED CORN MEAL PUSHED

The 4-H Club girls in Pitt County are encouraging the people in their county to use enriched corn meal as a nutritious, low cost food.

Miss Betty Thompson, assistant home economics agent, says the 4-H girls recently attended a workshop to learn to make muffins using enriched corn meal. Receiving blue ribbons were Geraldine White, Alma Whitehurst and Mildred Hammond.

WORK TO COMPLETE PROJECTS

Homemakers in Caswell County have been raising money so they can complete their projects. Mrs. Bertha Penix, project leader, said, "We've discussed running water in the community house kitchen and the auditorium needs curtains, so we have got to get to work."

Miss Helen Payne, home economics agent, says the group had a brunswick stew supper and also quilted 20 quilts to make money for the projects.

TO ATTEND WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Miss Gwendolyn Matthews, Raleigh, has received an invitation from the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., to attend and participate in a youth conference on smoking.

Mrs. Natalie P. Wimberley, home economics agent, says Gwendolyn is a member of the Opportunity 4-H Club of Wake County and is the State 4-H historian.

Yes, We All Talk

DISCUSSION TOPIC

QUESTION: Can you suggest one or two topics for discussion on a panel?—B. L.

ANSWER: The type of topic selected will depend upon the purpose of the discussion.

(a) If the purpose is to inform, the following is an example: What are the requirements for one who wishes to pursue a career in psychiatry?

(b) If the purpose is to exchange ideas and opinions, the following is an example: Should racial demonstrations be continued?

(c) If the purpose is offer a solution to some problem, the following is an example: How can we solve the racial problem in this country?

(d) Oftimes the purpose is reach a decision. The following is an example: When should our club give its picnic? A vote is the means by which the club reaches a decision.
