coronation in the beautiful azalea gardens at Norfolk will be the major feature of the week-long program of sporting, cultural, gardening and social events beginning April 14.

Included in the week's program will be an azalea watercolor contest in the Azalea Gardens, sponsored by the Tidewater Artists Association; the Tidewater Flower and Garden Show in the Norfolk Arena (April 19-21); the Azalea Motorboat Marathon (April 20); and the Glee Club of the Virginia Military Institute will present a concert at Blair Junior High School on Friday evening, April 18.

New this year at the coronation scene will be permanent seating for thousands in flower-bordered and tree-lined triers of benches and an acre wide International Lagoon banked by azaleas in various shades and sizes.

There is no admission charge for the ample parking or seating at the Norfolk Azalea Gardens during the Saturday program.

The Azalea Week in Norfolk program is sponsored by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the City of Norfolk.

cial, vocational and economic usefulness.

"We have come to know that the crippled share the hopes, interests, abilities and ambitions of all of us. As a result, the superstitious dread which once surrounded the handicapped is being removed and the human being beneath is discovered and helped to live creatively with his fellows," Mr. Barker stated.

During the past year, the Easter Seal Society provided services to 2,826 children and adults in this state. Services include physical and speech therapy, education, appliances, recreation at the two summer camps for white and Negro children, treatment and training. Ninety per cent of the money raised finances these services. The remainder supports the national service, education and research program.

Contributions may still be mailed to your local Easter Seal unit, or to "Crippled Children" in care of the local Post Office.

Mrs. N. J. Hollowell Dies At Home Sunday

Mrs. Margaret Davis Hollowell, 87, died at her home on East Eden Street at 8:30 o'clock Sunday night following a long illness. Mrs. Hollowell was a native of Perquimans County and was the widow of the late N. J. Hollowell. She was a member of the Edenton Baptist Church.

Surviving are two sons, Charles T. Hollowell of Guilford College and Harry T. Hollowell of Hertford; four daughters, Mrs. H. B. Hines of Sanford, Mrs. T. E. Walton of Lynnhaven, Va., and Mrs. Hector Lupton and Miss Minnie Hollowell of Edenton. Thirteen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren also survive.

Graveside services were held in Beaver Hill Cemetery Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock with the Rev. R. N. Carroll, pastor of the Edenton Baptist Church, officiating.

Pallbearers were John M. Elliott, W. P. Goodwin, John L. Goodwin, Raleigh Hollowell, West Leary and Jesse White.

Eugene C. Chandler Promoted To Captain

Eugene C. Chandler, 28, son of Mrs. Annie B. Chandler of Edenton, recently was promoted to captain at Fort Campbell, Ky., where he is assigned to the 101st Airborne Division Artillery's Headquarters Battery.

Captain Chandler entered the Army in August, 1951.

The captain, who was graduated from Edenton High School, is a 1951 graduate of North Carolina A & T College and a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and Scabbard & Blade society.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT KADESH A.M.E.Z. CHURCH

On Wednesday night a series of three services were begun at Kadesh A.M.E. Zion Church which will continue through Friday night.

At each service Easter music is featured as well as a guest speaker.

The pastor, the Rev. R. A. Williams, invites the public to attend.

COMMISSIONERS' MEETING

Chowan County Commissioners will meet in the Court House Monday morning, April 7, at 10 o'clock.

ACES TWICE RAINED OUT

Foul weather conditions postponed the Edenton Aces' baseball opening game and then held them up for a week, and missing a home game with Williamston on Tuesday.

Unless a soggy field or rain holds them up, the Aces plan to go to work on Friday afternoon at Tarboro. The Aces will journey to Chowan next Tuesday.

All home games will be broadcast "live" over WCDJ radio.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to all those who sent cards, visited me or remembered me in any way during my recent illness. Sincerely

c Mrs. W. M. (Alma) Wilkins.

OFFICES CLOSED MONDAY

County and town offices will be closed all day Monday, April 7, in observance of Easter Monday. Important business should, therefore, be transacted accordingly.

BANK CLOSED APRIL 7

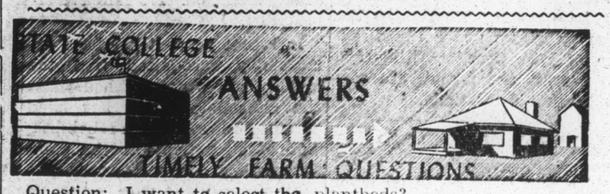
The Peoples Bank & Trust Company will be closed Monday, April 7, in observance of Easter Monday. Customers of the bank are urged to note the holiday and transact important banking business accordingly.

ROTARIANS MEET TODAY

Edenton's Rotary Club will meet this (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Parish House. The program will be in charge of Marvin Wilson and President Robert Marsh urges all Rotarians to attend.

MASONS MEET TONIGHT

Unanimity Lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M., will hold a stated communication tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock. Daniel Reaves, master, urges a full attendance.



Question: I want to select the best tobacco plantbed site possible this year. Do you have any tips?

Answer: Select a deep fertile loamy soil that will warm up quickly. Avoid heavy clay soils that bake or crust easily, especially when cyanamid, or urea and cyanamidis used. The soil should be well drained, but not one that dries out too quickly. Avoid dry ridges. The bed should be located near a convenient water supply. A soil high in organic matter seems to be helpful in getting good stands and promoting growth.

Question: When using new ground for a tobacco plantbed don't you have a lot of trouble from weeds?

Answer: Usually, yes. But good plants, with not too much weed trouble, are being produced by using methlyy bromide in the fall or winter at the rate of nine pounds per 100 square yards. This chemical also gives good nematode control. It is used as a gas and must be kept in contact with the soil for 24 to 36 hours with a gas-tight cover.

Question: Just what seeding rate is suggested for tobacco plantbeds?

Answer. The exact seeding rate will depend on just how well the bed is prepared and how well it will be managed. The suggested rate is one-fourth ounce per 100 square yards where average management is provided. Many growers are finding that they can get good stands with as little as one-sixth ounce per 100 square yards if the beds are smoothed before seeding, well managed, and watered at seed germination time.

Question: Is it true that heavy pruning can cut peach yield?

Answer: Yes. Recent agricultural experiments have shown that peach trees that were pruned least outyielded the heavily pruned trees by 39 per cent. Individual peaches were larger on trees pruned more severely, but there were more peaches on those less severely pruned.

Question: What response do peach trees give to nitrogen applications?

Answer: In recent tests, rates of 0.3, 0.6, 0.9, and 1.2 pounds of nitrogen per tree were used. Yields increased as more nitrogen was added—up through the 0.9 pound per tree rate. There was a relationship between pruning and added nitrogen. The heavily pruned trees showed the least response to nitrogen. The amount of added nitrogen used did not affect the size of the individual peaches.

Question: Are all the different varieties of tobacco seed listed for sale under the new state seed law recommended by the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station for planting in 1958?

Answer: No. The Experiment Station does not make recommendations as to the specific variety a farmer should plant. It does, however, publish the results of its findings in flue-cured tobacco tests. These findings may be used as a guide in selecting the highest yielding, highest paying, most acceptable varieties. All a producer of tobacco seed need do to have his variety recorded for legal sale is to prove that it is a distinct variety, different from all other varieties.

No Linguist

"Do you know any foreign languages?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum, "and I'm glad of it. I can at least postpone the shock by waiting to have the bad news translated to me."

Scenery may be interesting, but it's the people that really count.

We sometimes wonder what cats and dogs think of people.
