AROUND THE FARMS IN CHOWAN COUNTY

By C. W. OVERMAN, Chowan County Agent

Robert Marsh's Decision To Leave Extension Service was quite a shock. Although six or eight months ago, Bob talked with me about his consideration, we did not know what his final decision would be.

Bob Marsh came to Chowan County as Assistant County Agent on July 1, 1946. His role has largely been that of working with our 4-H youth. Under his guidance several Chowan County 4-H Club members have developed into District and State winners in team demonstrations, individual demonstrations and project work. This work has not only required his regular daytime but many, many nights in meetings, group assistance and individual assistance in an effort "To Make The Best Better" in our 4-H program.

He has been excellent to work with, displaying a spirit of complete cooperation. We shall miss him, although he will still be in the community with us. His successor will be selected as soon as we are able to find him.

Rain Has Come At Last. At this writing, some over one inch fell in the Edenton area. Reports on Monday afternoon indicated possibly some less in the Rocky Hock area.

At the Commissioners' meeting on Monday, Chairman William E. Bond made the following statement, "Charlie, I have noticed that you are required to make a report on hail damage and hurricane damage when it occurs. Don't they request you to make a report on the amount of benefit of such a rain as this after a dry spell?" I could only say, "Thank the Lord for this rain. It is possibly worth a million or more dollars".

Peanut Nematode Control Demonstrations were put out this week with Garland Ashell and Wilbur Privott of Center Hill community, Percy Nixon and Roland Ashley of Rocky Hock community. Nemagon was applied at the rate of one gallon of actual material per acre side placement on both sides of the growing peanuts. Nemagon is the only soil fumigant that I know of which can be applied to growing plants without injury. We are confident that three of these fields are sting nematode infested.

Watermelon Wilt has been observed in several fields. In most instances the trouble appears to be the lack of sufficient time in the rotation. With this rain and occasional showers to follow, if we can get them as needed, the situation will possibly improve. We would like for growers to notify us immediately when damage to the watermelon plants appears to be above normal, so that we can investigate the possibility of other troubles. This is true in any crop, because after the disease or trouble has reached a certain stage it is too late to do anything that possibly might help.

Home Food Production should still be the Number One crop with every farm family. With this fine supply of moisture, another planting of corn, lima beans and other vegetables should be made to keep the garden furnishing a regular supply. Keep the weeds and grass under control. By all means, watch for insects and keep them under control. Two of the best garden insecticides are Rotenone dust and 4% Malathion dust. Rotenone should be used on crops that are ready for or being harvested. Malathion can be used on crops up to one week before harvest. Keep a supply of these insecticides on hand, stored in a dry place, so they will be ready when needed.

Two Edenton Girls Capped At Exercises

The Watts Hospital School of Nursing held its Capping Exercise at 3 P. M., Sunday, May 31, at Trinity Methodist Church in Durham.

The organ prelude was played by Mrs. Bert Cunningham and the invocation given by the Rev M. W. Lawrence.

Following the processional and candle service, Mrs. Bessie P. Burgess, director of nursing, capped the class of 1961, and Miss Laura Quinn, senior student, presented the white rose to each student, emblematic of service. A reception followed the ceremony at Wyche House dormitory.

Among the 45 candidates were Miss DeAnna Dowdy Hollowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hollowell and Miss Ruth Jackson Stokely, daughter of Mrs. William Stokely.
