LITTLE THINGS.

Scorn not the slightest word or deed,
Nor deem it idle at the need.
There's fruit in each wind-wafted seed,
Waiting in fatal bower.
A whispered word may touch the heart,
And call it back to life;
A look of love hid sin depart
And still unholy strife.
No act falls fruitless; none can tell
How vast its power may be,
Nor what results unfolded dwell
Within it silently.
Work and despair not, give thy mite,
Nor care how small it be;
God is with all who serve the right,
The holy, true, and free.

Carrying Benevolence Into Trade.

"Well," said Major Henry, an affluent citizen of Auburn, to his amiable lady, one morning after his faithless cup of coffee, and his usual glance at the morning news, "Mary we will for the present trade with young Williams & Co., in Walnut Street. Please send the servants there."

"What! leave Simpson & Co. where we have traded so long to our entire satisfaction? What can have occurred to offend you?"

"Nothing, my dear; they are truly honorable men, and politely attentive to their customers."

"And so respectable, Major; such an old, well established firm. Why, all the elite trade there," said Mrs. H., interrupting him.

"There is no reason in the world, Mary, why we should leave them, but that I have an object in bestowing our patronage elsewhere."

"Please explain yourself," said she, "for you are perfectly inexplicable at present."

"Well, my dear, Williams & Co., are worthy young men just established in business, and I suspect that the sweet breezes of popular favor do not blow that way any too strongly.—Perhaps we can aid in giving proper direction to the current."

"Nonsense!" exclaimed Mrs. H., with slight petulence; "they can take care of themselves, as other firms do. Surely we are under no obligations to exchange old friends for strangers, you are capricious."

"We are not obliged, in the sense you use the term," said he, "Heaven is under no obligation to earth that calls for the bestowal of the daily and unceasing ever vouchsafed.—but Mary, listen to a chapter in my early history that will illustrate the question:

"My parents, you know, were in limited circumstances, and I commenced life depend ut on my own exertions. I accepted a clerkship at first, with a small salary. By conscientious devotion to business, this was gradually increased, until, with frugality, I was enabled to accumulate a sum that I thought would warrant commencing for myself. I opened a store on Pearl street, with a limited stock in trade, but with large hopes for the future. But customers did not throng my counters. Day after day I spent wistfully looking at the crowds that hurried by, yet scarcely deigning a passing curious look within. It was a new arrangement, and few cared to patronize the novelty. All had other places of trade."

"All this continued until trouble rose up before me. Rent, and payment of stocks yet on my shelves, were coming due. Visions of bankruptcy hovered before my eyes daily, and dreams of ruin and disgrace tortured me nightly. All the fruits of my past years of toil and self-denial would be consumed. I became so nervous that the entrance of a customer was painful instead of cheering. I could not meet my acquaintances with habitual cheerfulness, and their friendly inquiries concerning my business were like daggers to my sensibility. I shall never lose that taste of that bitterness of feeling that swelled up from my full heart with forced replies. But the crisis—the pay day came. Stock all on hand, but no cash. With little faith in success, but as drowning men catch at straws, I determined to state my case to a certain wealthy citizen, well known for his eccentric acts of benevolence, and request a loan. I did so."

"Humph! I'll see about that; call again," was his only reply, and he resumed the reading that my entrance had interrupted."

"I was already forgotten, thought I, as I departed in no very enviable state of mind."

"The next morning I received a note from a bank, stating that the cashier had been requested to notify me that $2000 had been deposited to my credit there. I was saved, temporarily, at least. Well knew my benefactor. How instance my gratitude, how earnest my vow some day to prove it, it is vain to attempt to describe. I drew the amount, met my obligations punctually, and established an unlimited credit, which, by the way, I very sparingly used. Again I rejoiced in hope. But I have yet to tell you of the greatest favor that worthy man conferred upon me."

"A few days after the grant of the timely loan, a carriage drew up to the store, and in the lady that alighted I recognized with joy the amiable wife of my benefactor. She made a large bill, and I augured well from it. I prided myself upon my taste in selecting goods, and had some exquisitely beautiful patterns. Mrs. Chedell, for that was the lady's name, your very good friend, Mary, was a fashionable, even to the ton, in those days, and she took particular pains to associate our names with her purchases. The consequences was, when my next pay-day came, my cash account was in such a favorable state that I met my engagements easily, and henceforth the road to my present position was natural and easy. I am indebted to Mr. and Mrs. C., under Providence, for my fortune, I fully believe. In that day, when good and evil seemed so equally balanced, favor thrown into the financial scale decided the question. Since then I have sympathized with young aspirants for the favors of trade, and extended, when I could, the helping hand. Now, my dear, am I capricious?"

The expressive countenance of his listener replied eloquently and well.

At that moment, Mr. Chedell himself entered the room and was warmly welcomed. But the reception he met could not remove from his countenance marks of trouble plainly perceptible there.

"Major Henry," said he, with an effort, "I did you a favor once. Have you forgotten it?"

"Never! my dear sir!" said he, emphatically, and smiling confirmation, to his word, while no trace of discontent at the remainder distracted from his sunny expression.

"Now I am in trouble," continued Mr. C. "My son is seriously embarrassed by the state of the money market, and some heavy demands unexpectedly made upon him through the impudence of a foreign agent. We cannot meet those drafts, and accommodation is denied us at the banks. Hence, I came to you."

"I am glad to have an opportunity of proving to you how grateful I am for that old favor," said the Major, proceeding to his desk for the purpose of complying with his request. He hastily attached his signature to a blank check, which he requested Mr. C. to fill with the required amount.

"Come again," said the kind-hearted Major. "Come again; if this be insufficient, command my utmost means."

"How short-sighted," said Mr; C., feelingly, in reference to their true interest, are those who neglect opportunities of doing good. I have never yet performed a trivial act of kindness, in a judicious way, that did not eventually overwhelm me with returning benefits."

"Then you think all policy; and the disposition to do all the good you can, evidence of shrewdness rather than virtue, by you?" said the Major, jokingly.

Happy hearted men. The rewards of virtue are many and great. The lowering clouds of care that of late hung so darkly over the spirits of the one, were suddenly dispelled by the sunlight of the other's gratitude.

The world is not all selfishness—the usury of kindness not always ingratitude.

Mrs. Henry was deeply affected by what she had seen and heard, and thenceforth she needed no persuasion to induce her to join her husband in his plans of charity and benevolence.

Not will any who read aright the moral of this tale, be slow to follow in the pleasant life-path to which it is a guide.

Raleigh, April, 1855.

A NEW MAP OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The undersigned are preparing, and will publish as soon as the necessary Surveys, &c., can be obtained, a New, Large and Complete Map of NORTH CAROLINA, five feet by three, well engraved and finished in the best style.

It is admitted on all sides, that such a work is a great desideratum in our State, and it is in consequence of the frequent enquiries on this subject, that the undersigned have embarked in the enterprise.

The only attempted work of this kind is that of McRee published in 1833; and since then the Counties, Towns, Roads and Post-offices have increased in number, and all our works of Internal Improvements, with small exceptions, been set on foot.

It is intended that the New Map, now proposed to be published, shall contain, accurately laid down, all the Natural Features of the State—the Inlets, Harbors, Sounds, Lakes, Rivers, Creeks, Mountains, &c.

Also the public improvements and political divisions, The Railroads, Plank roads, Counties, County towns Villages, Post-roads and Points, Colleges, Academies, &c., &c.

The Map will be ready by the summer of 1855.

CASH MUSIC STORE

MUSIC AT THE REDUCED PRICES.

WILLIAM HALL & SON, 239 Broadway, (opposite the Park,) have reduced the prices of their Non-Copyright Music to the extent of twenty cents on the dollar from the former prices, and have also made important reductions in their valuable Copyrights, consisting of the principal Works of the favorite and celebrated composers, WM. VINCENT WALLACE, MAURICE STRAKOSCH, LINDSAY SLOPER, J. A. WOMPLER, WM. DISSEN, &c., &c. In allowing our new prices we have so arranged that they are represented by the odd cents above dollars, and we have adhered to them, as far as possible, in the quotations.

The price will be marked on every piece of music. The Non-Copyright Music—REDUCED PRICE,——cents; and the Copyright Music—"COPYRIGHT,——cents." All the Non-Copyright Music is printed previously, this arrangement enables us to put it at the reduced prices.

A proportionate reduction will be made on our Importations of Books, &c., &c.

Since the duty of music has become an essential branch of commerce, a reduction in the price of Sheet Music has been demanded by the public, and we have no doubt that the plan we have adopted will increase our sales sufficiently to enable us to carry out our enterprise to its fullest extent.

Our Catalogue already contains the works of the best European authors, and we will continue to reprint such as may hereafter be published—all of which will be sold at less than one-half the prices of the foreign copies.

We will continue the manufacture of PIANO-FORTES, GUITARS, FLUTES, &c., &c., and also the importation of EVERY ARTICLE OF MUSICAL MERCHANDISE, and will sell for Cash only, at greatly reduced prices.

A majority of the Music Publishers of New-York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, having combined against us, in order to prevent the public from receiving the benefit of our great reduction, have refused to supply our orders for their Music, or to purchase Music from us, or to sell to any one who dare furnish us with their music. For a short time our stock may be incomplete, but we will at once proceed to re-publish all the popular Non-Copyright pieces of their Catalogues at the reduced prices, and we have no doubt, but we will soon find those who will dare supply to us all our other wants. We are determined to sell to the public at the lowest prices, consistent with a remunerative profit to the Publisher and Dealer, or Teacher, and will neither enter into, or submit to any combination for a contrary purpose.

It is of course understood that it is impossible for us to sell the music of other publishers, except those who have adopted our reform, at the new prices, and it is therefore necessary that the public should select from our Catalogue in order to avail themselves of the Reduced Price. Catalogues sent to any part of the United States free of charge.

☞ Dealers, Seminaries and Teachers, supplied on the lowest terms.

☞ Sole Agents in York for Prince & Co's Melodeons.

Orders from any part of the country, inclosing the money, will be promptly and faithfully attended to.

THE SOUTHERN WEEKLY POST

BEST AND CHEAPEST

FAMILY PAPERS IN THE U. STATES,

Is published every Saturday in the City of Raleigh, N. C., by William D. Cooke. It will be the aim of the Proprietor to make it

A COMPLETE LITERARY AND FAMILY JOURNAL,

Of the highest grade. The Post will be occasionally embellished with splendid

ENGRAVINGS.

The introduction of appropriate illustrations into literary papers is becoming more common and popular every day, and their useful tendency will be appreciated by all who have observed their power of suggesting new and pleasing reflections to the most careless mind. None but such as are suitable to the character of the paper, and decidedly ornamental to it, will be used. The most cultivated intellect need not be offended by them, and many persons will derive as much pleasure from this source, as from the most interesting reading the paper can contain. The interest and gratification of the young, especially, will be promoted by such means. Any thing that pleases their eyes, finds a ready access to their hearts, and a fondness for reading may thus be produced, which will contribute much to their future improvement.

One of the objects contemplated by the Proprietor is to encourage NATIVE TALENT, and to stimulate LITERARY EFFORT. The columns of the Post will therefore be freely open to contributions of a useful tendency, and such literary merit as to justify insertion. Communications calculated to throw light upon the practical questions of the day, upon the Literary, Educational, Agricultural, Commercial, Manufacturing, and Mining interests of the country, will be particularly acceptable.

NEWS DEPARTMENT.

Will receive special attention, and the editors will endeavor to select from as great a variety of sources as a large list of valuable exchanges can afford. A distinct head will always be reserved for items of local interest or events in the daily history of North Carolina.

Under the head of Literary Notices the reader will often find brief notices or more extensive reviews of books recently published, and it is hoped that this feature of the paper will recommend it to a large class of subscribers.

In order to sustain the character of the paper and render it truly efficient in the various departments, the Proprietor has secured a corps of Editors, in whose qualifications he has entire confidence, and whose fidelity to the best interests of the country is unquestionable.

"COSMOS,"

a most accomplished correspondent, resident in New York, who will continue to enrich the columns of the Post with a faithly weekly record of events in that Metropolis of the Union, and those familiar with the graphic productions of his pen will not need to be informed how much his future contributions may tend to the value and interest of its pages.

CAROLINA, by HAWKS, SWAIN and GRAHAM. These valuable works will be forwarded to those entitled to them, free of postage.

THE WEEKLY EXPRESS.—On the 1st of January 1855, and every Saturday thereafter, the subscribers will publish in connection with the "DAILY EXPRESS,"

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

The proposed Weekly Sheet, will consist of eight Enormous Quarto Pages, printed on a Double Royal Sheet, each page folio, and containing five columns, making a grand aggregate of FORTY COLUMNS in every number of the paper.

In addition to the interesting matter to be found in the Daily, every issue of the WEEKLY PAPER will contain original tales, poetry, and other reading, rendering it a welcome visitor to the social circle as the counting room and the commercial house.

Particular attention will be paid to the "Commercial Record" which shall appear every week, carefully revised and corrected by the most experienced merchants in our city.

From the repeated solicitions made to us to issue a sheet such as the one in contemplation, we feel assured that it must soon attain to a very large circulation. We have now, in fact, largely over two hundred names that have been furnished, and we hope to confidence with nearly or quite one thousand subscribers. Advertisers will find it greatly to their advantage, therefore, to avail themselves of its columns.

It is proposed to publish it at the low price of $2 per annum—payable in advance.

Liberal deduction made to clubs of five or more.

It is requested that all who may desire to subscribe, will at once forward their name and Post Office.

BRITISH PERIODICALS.

EARLY COPIES SECURED.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO., New York, continue to republish the following British Periodicals, viz:

1. The London Quarterly, (Conservative.)
2. The Edinburg Review. (Whig.)
3. The North British Review. (Free Church.)
4. The Westminster Review. (Liberal.)
5. Blackwood's Edinburg Review. (Tory.)

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written newspaper, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

 Arrangements are now permanently made for the receipt of Early Sheets from the British Publishers, by which we are enabled to place all our reprints in the hands of subscribers, about as soon as they can be furnished with the foreign copies. Although this involves a very large outlay on our part, we shall continue to furnish the Periodicals at the same low rates as heretofore, viz:

	Per ann.
For any one of the four Reviews	$ 3 00
For any two of the four Reviews	5 00
For any three of the four Reviews	7 00
For all four of the Reviews	8 00
For Blackwood's Magazine	3 00
For Blackwood and three Reviews	9 00
For Blackwood and the four Reviews	10 00

☞ Payments to be made in all cases in advance. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty-five per cent. from the above Reviews will be allowed to Clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works. Thus—Four copies of Blackwood, or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $9; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for 30 Dollars; and so on.

POSTAGE.

In all the principal Cities and Towns, these works will be delivered, through Agents, free of postage. When sent by mail, the postage to any part of the United States will be but twenty-four cents a year for "Blackwood," and but fourteen cents a year for each of the Reviews.

Remittances and communications should always be addressed, post-paid, to the Publishers,

GAZETTEER OF NORTH CAROLINA

THE undersigned is engaged in compilation with others in the preparation of a Gazetteer of the State of North Carolina, and desiring to render the work as complete and satisfactory as possible, respectfully solicits the countenance and aid of the citizens of the State in furthering the undertaking. The miscellaneous character of the materials out of which a Gazetteer of the State must necessarily be constructed, suggests the importance of securing the cooperation of persons in every County who may be able to furnish such minute and local information as could be obtained from no common source. Relying upon the intelligence and public spirit of our citizens, the undersigned takes the liberty to request that persons in any part of the State will at their earliest possible convenience, furnish him in detail as much information as they possess or can obtain on the following points, viz:

1. The names of the Post Offices in your County, and the distance and direction from the County Town.
2. The names of the Rivers and Creeks, giving the general direction in which they run, and where they empty.
3. The name and location of Mills, Factories, Foundaries, &c., &c.
4. The Schools and Colleges, with the number of Teachers and Pupils.
5. The Churches, designating the denomination of each.
6. The character and productiveness of the Mines, and Fisheries and the principal article of export.
7. The number of Lawyers, Physicians, Merchants and other professional men.
8. The general character of the timber and the soil in different parts of the County.

To those who have so promptly responded to the above request, the subscriber returns his sincere thanks, and hopes that many others will communicate as much valuable information, as they can collect, on all or any of the foregoing subjects of enquiry.

MEDICATED INHALATION.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED, AS TREATED BY DR. E. N. TRIST, with his celebrated HYGIEN AND OXYGENIC VAPOR.

Dr. Trist, graduate of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, and Diploma of diplomas from the Long Institution of Edinburgh and the Hotel des Invalides at Paris, having settled permanently in New York for the practice of his profession, begs leave to suggest to the citizens of the United States that several years of study and successful experiments in England, France, Scotland, as well as other parts of Europe, with Consumption in all its forms, enable him to warrant, not only relief, but a complete cure to all those suffering with this great national disease.

Dr. Trist deems it unprofessional to advertise; but others having represented themselves as the originators of the Inhalation Treatment, he would say to the afflicted that he alone is entitled to its first introduction, and would caution all against using the useless and dangerous compounds advertised by incompetent persons.

"TAKE UP THY BED AND WALK".

Dr. Trist would say to those interested, that he has had manufactured, for the use of his patrons, his "Patent Inhaling Tubes," through which the vapor is conveyed to the parts affected, and which earnestly commends for the cheering results which have attended their use; and the fact, that they may be used by the most feeble invalid without any unpleasant symptoms.

To those residing out of the city, Dr. Trist will forward one of the Inhaling Tubes, together with a package of the Vapor, sufficient to last three months, accompanied with ample directions for use, on the receipt of a letter containing $10 Ten dollars, and describing symptoms.

A cure is warranted in all stages of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all other affections of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. In case of failure, the money will be returned. Address (post paid) Dr. E. N. Trist, 68 Grand Street, New York City.
