STOCK MARKET ABANDONED TO DULLNESS AND NEGLECT

Wall Street Was More Disposed To Talk Than to Trade.

New York, June 16.—The stock market today was abandoned to dullness and neglect. Immediate developments were ignored and the professional traders were driven to framing conjectures over what might prove to be the market's response to expected happenings in the future.

A more influential factor in the repression of the speculation is the contest to be waged over the coming attempt to secure higher freight rates. The determination expressed by shippers and their disposition to form a strong organization to contest the proposed advances aroused some anxiety among those who rely on the higher rates to keep up profits. The prospect of this contest points to the employment of tactics that may prove discouraging to stock market activity.

Crop new was not decisive of any change in conditions. Money remained easy in tone, but it was questioned whether this condition was not influenced by the purpose of lenders to keep funds available in short term loans or on call in a mood of doubt over later developments.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,063,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks for the day were 293,800 shares.

RAIN, INSTEAD OF FROST, PREVENTED A CROP SCARE

Speculators on Bull Side Were Disposed to Take Profits.

Chicago, June 16.—Montana was the unexpected quarter today from which came news that somewhat abated a crop scare. Hot, dry weather had been officially predicted to last several days in the spring wheat belt northwest, but forecasts of rains for Montana gave rise to uncertainty and speculators were quite generally disposed to take profits. The market after a sharp advance receded and closed easy with a net gain of ⅛@⅝c. Corn at the finish was unchanged to ⅛c lower and oats unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher. Last prices for provisions were unchanged to 20 up.

COTTON MARKET REMAINS A DULL AND NARROW ONE

(Special to Daily News.)

New York, June 16.—The cotton market was again dull and narrow today with only slight net changes in prices. Weather reports and crop advices were favorable. Liverpool prices were low and the demand for cotton at that center seemed to be dwindling. Spot sales here were 1,400 bales, at 15 points decline from yesterday.

LATHAM, ALEXANDER & CO.

A DOWNWARD TENDENCY IN THE COTTON MARKET

Bull Day Closed With Prices 4 to 6 Points Lower.

New York, June 16.—The market continued quiet today and prices showed further irregularity, the general tendency, however, being downward with the close easy at a net loss of 4 to 8 points. The market opened steady at a decline of 8 to 10 points on the old crop and 4 to 5 points on the new in sympathy with lower cables than expected and the smaller rain area in the south. Selling was not aggressive at the start, and during the middle of the day prices rallied on covering by August shorts and some scattered bull support which appeared to be inspired by bullish private crop advices and talk of further exports from the local stock. August cotton sold up to a net advance of about 2 points, but other months barely rallied to the closing figures of last night, and during the late afternoon the whole list eased off under a renewal of scattering liquidation combined with a little southern selling attributed to the influence of better weather conditions. The close was some 2 or 3 points up from the lowest point of the day. Sentiment appeared mixed both as to the extent of the short interest remaining in July and August and to the probable influence of the rains in the eastern belt on the showing of the government's condition figures early next month, and traders seem to be awaiting fresh developments bearing upon either the other crop situation or new crop prospects. Early estimates as to the probable showing of the July condition figures range all the way from 89 to 85 per cent, comparing with the condition of 82 per cent, reported on June 2.

Southern spot markets were unchanged to ⅛c lower.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 10 points lower. Middling uplands, 15.15; middling gulf, 15.40; sales, 1,890 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed easy.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, June 16.—Spot cotton easy and unchanged. Middling easy, 15 cents; sales on the spot, 345, to arrive, 50 bales.

Cotton futures opened quiet and steady at a decline of 4 to 9 points on the old crop months and a decline of 2 points on the new. Cables were not up to expectations and the weather map was favorable. After the call the market was extremely dull and had no buying power. Toward the middle of the morning the market wore a better tone and from then on until noon prices exhibited an advancing tendency. At noon the active deliveries were 1 to 2 points over yesterday's closing.

In the early afternoon the advance was widened until the list was 1 to 4 points over yesterday's closing, but later scalping longs commenced to take profits and at 2 o'clock the market showed a net loss of the day of 3 points on the more active months.

The close was dull but steady at a net decline of 2 to 8 points. Closing bids: June 14.80, July, 15.00, August, 14.29, September, 12.98, October, 12.37, December, 12.23, January, 12.24.

HAYWARD & CLARK'S DAILY LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM

New Orleans, June 16.—The weather map shows pretty clear weather in the northwestern quarter, generally fair weather in the Atlantic states. There was no precipitation worth mentioning last night except light showers in portions of the Atlantic states and a heavy rain at two points in the eastern coast district.

Indications are for fair weather in the central and eastern states increasing cloudiness in Texas and Oklahoma with the probability of local showers there within twenty-four hours. It will be warmer generally.

Liverpool was lower than all departments. New purchases were heavily liquidated, cotton sold from the spot in Liverpool, the exchange, Jew and Wright, New York are net sellers, and Jewett modified from any depression. This gives support to the belief that it is suggested bullish developments during the tonight and is operating against the selling of new crop not withstanding all the bullish news to date.

The poll in New York is best shown by the fact that July there is within 4 points of October and October and August in New York is actually 5 points above the corresponding position in Liverpool.

The market eased off a few points at the start, but soon regained the loss on steadiness in New York. Trading is very limited and follows altogether the fluctuations in August in New York.
