Levan Home,
A Historical Romance of the 19th Century.
BY PHIL. WOODLEY, ESQ.

This romance, confidently announced as a chaste and elegant story—a master production—will be commenced in the FIELD AND FIRESIDE July 7th, 1866.

While the tale, as indicated by its title, involves numerous historical incidents—which by the way are rendered in vivid truthfulness—it is founded upon a plot thrilling in interest, and absorbing in the power and charm of its combinations. Henry W. Miller, dec'd, and other distinguished North Carolinians figure prominently in this story.

The author is a gentleman eminent in letters and familiar with all those things of history, society, science and human nature, which wield the great lever of the world of fiction and romance; and we promise our readers that he has left untouched nothing that should have place in a first class performance.

The price of the FIELD AND FIRESIDE is $5.00 for one year; 2.50 for six months; 1.25 for three months. Sample copies containing first portion of "Levan Home" will be sent on receipt of ten cents. Address Wm. B. Smith & Co., 40 and 42 Fayetteville Street Raleigh, N. C.

JOINT RESOLUTION
PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, (two-thirds of both Houses concurring,) That the following article be proposed to the legislatures of the several States, as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE 14.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for the payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

It is due to the founders of this Institution and to all who have contributed to its erection, that they should be informed of its condition and prospects. This cannot be done more definitely, fully or authoritatively than by submitting resolutions recently adopted by the Board of Trustees, and read by their President on Commencement Day, before the large audience assembled in the Presbyterian church:

Resolved, That the Board of Trustees feel it to be a high privilege and a grateful and pleasant duty to express their entire satisfaction with the late examination of the pupils of Concord Female College.

They also, express their cordial approbation of the energy, success and prosperity with which the Institution has been conducted under the peculiar and trying circumstances of our country.
