Fortunes Awaiting Claimants.

By order of Parliament a report has just been made out and published concerning the unclaimed funds in the keeping of the various English government departments at the present moment. The chancery division of the Supreme Court of Judicature has in its possession over $300,000,000, after paying during the last two years $85,000,000 to successful claimants. The Irish Court of Chancery holds some $50,000,000 of unclaimed moneys, while the unclaimed Government stocks and accumulated dividends retained by the treasury department amount to $25,000,000. Unclaimed dividends in bankruptcy are figured at $50,000,000, while unclaimed army and navy prize money and accumulations of pay exceed $3,000,000. All these funds are used by the British Government until claims thereto have been satisfactorily proved. An endeavor will be made to transfer to the state the custody of unclaimed funds in the hands of bankers and others. These funds are known to amount to a colossal sum, far exceeding the total amount of unclaimed money now in the keeping of the Government.—Boston Transcript.

HOWERTON ON SANCTIFICATION

Considers the Doctrine the Most Dangerous That Has Crept Into the Christian Church.

The Charlotte Observer says: "Dr. Howerton considers the 'Santification' doctrine as one of the most dangerous that has crept into the Christian Church. He denounced it Sunday in strong terms. Sanctification belongs only to perfection in the soul's life, and that by reason of man's very nature, is never attained in this world. The profession of sanctification is an evidence of spiritual pride, which is in itself sinful. 'There has been but one perfect man,' said Dr. Howerton. 'There will never be another. The standards of the Church are not responsible for a low degree of spirituality in the Church. They put before us an ideal and say: 'Strive to attain unto it,' but we know that strive though we do, we never attain unto perfection in this life. To say that we do is the height of spiritual presumption and folly."

Mine Sold for $120,000.

We learn that arrangements for the sale of the celebrated Portis mine, situated in Nash and Franklin counties, have been consummated. This property has a record of about two million dollars, although nothing but part of the surface has been scratched and there remains unlimited quantities of ore in sight. The purchase price to be paid is $120,000, which we consider very cheap for a property of such undoubted value. Theiss, who has taken three-quarters of a million from the Haile mine, in South Carolina, during the past eight years, will be superintendent. This assures legitimate working and consequent success. Machinery will be placed on the property and active work commenced at once.—Rocky Mount Argonaut.

Queer Ending of a Murder Trial.

At Wilson a murder case had a queer ending. It was the State against Lamb for killing a man on Jan. 28th last. Eatman, while drunk, with his wife and two sons in his wagon, went to Lamb's house, called him into the yard and shot him in the right breast, so near that Lamb's clothes were burned. Lamb knocked Eatman down and beat him. Eatman's son pulled Lamb off but he tore away and returning to Eatman stamped off the entire top of his head. Lamb is yet in bed but will recover. A bill for manslaughter was returned. Lamb's attorney has entered a plea of solo contendere, paid Mrs. Eatman $1,500 and she assented to a suspension of judgement.

A Beautiful Girl's Affliction.

From the Republican, Versailles, Ind.

The Tuckers of Versailles, Ind., like all fond parents, are completely wrapped up in their children. Their daughter Lucy, in particular, has given them much concern. She is fifteen, and from a strong, healthy girl, three years ago, had become weak and kept falling off in flesh, until she became a mere skeleton. She seemed to have no life at all. Her blood became impure and finally she became the victim of nervous prostration. Doctors did not help her. Most of the time she was confined to bed, was very nervous and irritable, and seemed on the verge of St. Vitus' dance.

"One morning," said Mrs. Tucker, "the doctor told us to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which he brought with him. He said he was treating a similar case with these pills and they were curing the patient. We began giving the pills and the next day could see a change for the better.

Discussed Their Daughter's Case for Hours.

The doctor came and was surprised to see such an improvement. He told us to keep giving her the medicine. We gave her one pill after each meal until eight boxes had been used when she was well. She has not been sick since, and we have no fear of the old trouble returning. We think the cure almost miraculous."

FRANK TUCKER,
MRS. FRANK TUCKER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 28th day of April, 1897.

HUGH JOHNSON, Justice of the Peace.

Flowers Answered Both Purposes.

A certain young widow of Indianapolis who had just changed her weeds for brighter hues gave a dinner party not long ago. The rooms were decorated with a great profusion of flowers. Roses in masses were on the mantels and the dinner table fairly blossomed—in fact, the abundance of flowers was unusual. One of the guests could restrain her curiosity no longer, and when the dessert was brought in said: "Well, Mrs. Blank, you're rather spreading on the flowers to-night." "Yes," replied the fair widow brightly, "but to-morrow I am going to take them out to Crown Hill and put them on poor Tom's grave."

Autumn Festivals.

Autumn festivals are on the increase in America. This year has produced an unusual number of "prosperity festivals," "pageants" and "carnivals." Some of these, as the "Festival of the Veiled Prophet" in St. Louis, and the "Parade of the Priests of Pallas" in Kansas City, with their gorgeously costumed "Kings" and "Queens" and "Maids of Honor," are time-honored institutions, whose popularity with enormous numbers of plain people shows that a democracy cannot, or at least does not, eradicate the average man's love of glitter, pomp and ceremonial. It is easy to sneer at such festivals as childish and unmeaning. In a measure the same thing could be said of every ceremonial, whether civic, military or religious, that appeals so powerfully to the human imagination, and through which the race is raised to the loftiest heights of patriotism, valor and morality. Unless we are to become a nation of plodders and money getters we must learn to play as well as work, and it is well to encourage this side of the American character.

Microbe Causes Baldness.

Baldness is caused by a microbe, according to Dr. E. Sabanard, the famous French dermatologist. The eminent physician has for many years held his present theory on the subject of baldness, and for the past three years he has been engaged in making cultures of the microbes and in performing experiments with them. He now says that if a destroyer is found for the microbe no one need be bald.
