Runaway or Stolen.

From the subscriber on the 24th of August last, a negro man by the name of Jack, about five feet six inches high, heavy built and ashen complexion, he has a scar on the outside of one of his legs the width of the blade of an axe. A white man by the name of John G. Hamlet left the neighborhood about the same time, being a suspicious character, I am induced to believe, he has taken the negro with him—the man is about six feet two or three inches high, slender built, a very long slim neck, a very sharp face, a little stoop shouldered and his eyes very deep in his head. Ten dollars will be given to any person who will apprehend said negro and lodge him in a jail in this state, or twenty dollars if lodged in a jail out of the state, by giving me immediate information; fifty dollars will be given if the negro and white man are both apprehended and lodged in jail, and sufficient proof given to convict the white man.

STOLEN

From the subscriber on Sunday night the 18th inst. a dark chestnut sorrel HORSE, four years old last April, upwards of five feet high, small white streak in his face, hind feet white, and is rendered more remarkable from a habit of sucking wind. He is supposed to have been stolen by a negro fellow by the name of Peter, born and raised in Wake county, who was sold in Montgomery county about three years ago, and afterwards, it is believed, in South-Carolina, and is doubtless a runaway. On his way to this neighborhood he passed by the name of Westley Reed, and has a pretended free pass for that name; he can write tolerably well. He stole a horse in Davidson county, which got from him on Saturday night, and has since been recovered by its owner. He was known as Peter by the negroes in this neighborhood, and told them he was going into Wake to see his friends near Brassfield's. A reasonable reward will be given for the recovery of the horse, on his delivery to me, or for such information as will enable me to get him.

Notice.

Taken up and committed to the jail of Wayne county, the latter part of July [illegible] a man named JOHN, about 5 feet [illegible] high, thick set, rather of a yellowish complexion, looks to be about 40 or 45 years of age, but says he is 77. He says he belongs to the estate of a Mr. Hudson, Beaufort District, South Carolina, near Saltcatcher river; and that he has been runaway upwards of 4 years. The owner is requested to come forward, prove property, pay charges and take him away.

Eagle Hotel.

Mr. GUION most respectfully returns his thanks to the public for the very liberal encouragement he has received since he opened this establishment, and begs a continuance of their favors. Mr. Guion has the pleasure to inform the public, that, in addition to the improvements already made, eight additional rooms will be completed by the ensuing session of the Legislature, which will enable him to accommodate many more Members of the Assembly than heretofore. The charges, so heretofore, will be moderate and uniform. Man and horse, per day, one dollar and fifty cents; man alone, one dollar; a very small addition to those who take a separate table. Members of the Assembly will be charged one dollar. Those who wish rooms to themselves will be charged for them. Travellers who wish to stop at the Hotel, are often misled by enquiring for the Stage House. They are informed that the stages do not make it their regular stopping house, nor is the house known by that name. As many persons who travel in the stage do stop at the Hotel, and many others would, if they could be assured they would not be delayed, they are informed that no more delay will be experienced at the Hotel than at the stage house, and their fare will be good.—Those who wish to repose themselves for a day or two, will be sure to find at Guion's a clean bed and room for that purpose, and the fare good. The situation of the house is one of the most pleasant in the city, immediately on the north side of the Capitol, adjacent to the business part of the town, but without the influence of the dust and inconvenience attending it. It is now little more than a year since the subscriber took possession of this establishment, when he found the house entirely out of repair and almost without custom. He now has it in his power to say that he has not only received encouragement sufficient to justify the improvements that have been made, but those also that are making, even without that support from the Stage Proprietors, as he believes, the convenience, comfort and attention which are to be met with at the Hotel deserves, and has fairly proven that the public will give a preference to a well kept Public House.

Raleigh, October 22, 1829 44 10w

State of North-Carolina,

Wake county.

Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions—August Sessions, A. D. 1829.

It is represented to the Court, that a negro man slave, PETER or WILLIAM, is now in the public Jail of this county, and hath been therein confined 12 months, and that the following advertisement hath been made in the State Gazette for six months:

Notice.

"Was taken up and committed to this jail, on the 12th instant, a runaway, who calls himself Peter, and says he belongs to Capt. James Wilson, of Tennessee, and that he formerly belonged to Eli W. Ward. He is a low mulatto, with one arm, having lost the left below the elbow.—The owner is required to come forward, prove property, pay charges and take him away, or he will be dealt with as the law directs.

"J. T. C. WIATT, Jailor.

"Raleigh, N. C. June 18, 1828.

"P. S. Upon further enquiry, I am induced to think the above runaway belongs to Lemuel Whitfield, of Wayne county, N. C. he says he is sometimes called William."

And these facts being shewn to the Court to be true, and besides, also, it appearing to the Court that the owner of said slave hath not applied within the said 12 months to prove his property; it is now ordered and adjudged that William R. Hinton, the high Sheriff of this county, do expose the said negro slave Peter or William to public sale for ready money, first giving three months' notice of said sale by advertisement in the Star and North Carolina State Gazette, at the Court-House door in Raleigh, and at two other public places in Wake county, of the time and place of this sale, and the circumstances under which the said negro slave Peter or William is sold. And the said Sheriff do warrantee a bill of sale to the highest bidder and purchaser, and after deducting 2½ per cent. commissions on the amount for which the said slave shall sell, and the lawful prison charges and costs of advertising, and costs of this order, which he is to retain, the Sheriff shall pay over the residue thereof unto the County Trustee, to be applied as county taxes for the use of said county.

Test. D. S. KING, C. C.

Pursuant to the above order and judgment of the County Court of Wake, I shall, on the 1st day of December next, before the Court-House door in Raleigh, sell the negro slave therein named for cash to the highest bidder.

Ran Away,

Some time in April last, Alsey Petteford, an apprentice boy to the carpenter's business, about 18 years old, bright yellow, with straight hair, not very well grown to his age, little the rise of 5 feet high, spare made. This is to forewarn all persons from employing or harbouring said apprentice. No doubt but he has changed his name. I will give a reasonable reward for the delivery of said apprentice to me, living in Franklin county, 7 miles west of Louisburg, North Carolina.

Runaway or Stolen.

From the subscriber on the 24th of August last, a negro man by the name of Jack, about five feet six inches high, heavy built and ashen complexion, he has a scar on the outside of one of his legs the width of the blade of an axe. A white man by the name of John G. Hamlet left the neighborhood about the same time, being a suspicious character, I am induced to believe, he has taken the negro with him—the man is about six feet two or three inches high, slender built, a very long slim neck, a very sharp face, a little stoop shouldered and his eyes very deep in his head. Ten dollars will be given to any person who will apprehend said negro and lodge him in a jail in this state, or twenty dollars if lodged in a jail out of the state, by giving me immediate information; fifty dollars will be given if the negro and white man are both apprehended and lodged in jail, and sufficient proof given to convict the white man.
