ONLY A LITTLE BABY.

BY MRS. S. C HAZLETT.

"Only a little baby,"
But the waxen hands lie low,
And the tiny form so still and pure,
Has lost its soul of snow.

Hushed is the baby laughter,
The dimples have ceased to play,
And the restless feet and dainty hands,
Are forever laid away.

Its beautiful golden lashes
Lie light on its marble cheek,
But they hide the blue of laughing eyes,
And its baby lips can't speak.

So hearts are crushed and broken,
Yet 'tis "only a baby" that's gone,
A bud that grew in the evening—
Was plucked in the early dawn.

"Only a little baby!"
But God looked down from above,
And saw what life held in store for it;
Then He, in his infinite love,

Gathered him close to his bosom
To shield from the terrors of sin,
Of pain and sorrow and fell disease;
To place 'mongst his care within.
—Woman's Work.

SAW IT FROM THE START.

Truth.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Halligan came to blows in the open street. Their friend Mike, who has witnessed this and many other sharp engagements between them, is called upon to testify:

"Were you present from the very commencement of this difficulty?"

"Indade I was, yer honor; two years ago."

"Two years ago!"

"I attinded the weddin."

"I Can't Eat,"

Is often heard. People who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla highly recommend it for loss of appetite, indigestion, sick headache, and similar troubles. This medicine gently tones the stomach, assists digestion, and makes you "real hungry."

Constipation, and all troubles with the digestive organs and the liver are cured by Hood's Pills. Price 25c. per box.

DON'T DRINK WINE WITH BANANAS.

St Louis Globe-Democrat.

The statement made in connection with the death of Col. Gilmore that wine and banana juice combined made a deadly poison has caused much comment and much more comparing of notes. That to eat bananas and drink wine immediately afterwards is to court certain death, as was stated by a gentleman of some experience, is not correct or I would have died a score of deaths from poison before this, and the inhabitants of the West Indian islands would have been decimated time and again, for the combination is common among those who can secure wine. It is possible that some particular wines are dangerous in combination with bananas, but the rule does not apply either to champagne or sherry. The suggestion, however, that bananas are injurious in connection with anything is rather a novel one to me, because there are few fruits which will preserve life and health like the banana When properly ripened the fruit is at once delicious and nutritious.

News comes from the interior of Pennsylvania that, in consequence of the low stage of water in the mountain streams, thousands of trout are dying. The trout go as near as they can get to the clear cold springs at the head of streams to spawn. As the sources of supply are drained and dried up the beds of the smaller creeks are left without running water, and the fish perish.
